ALLEN GOES TO SENATE

Publisher Gets Curtis Seat

Kansas ex-Governor Friend to Hoover But Foe of Vice-President

Gov. Reed Announces He'll Name Wichita Man to Washington

WASHINGTON, March 29. (Ex-clusive)—Following a conference with President Hoover, Gov. Reed of Kansas announced here tonight that he will appoint Henry J. Allen, former Governor of the Sunflower State and widely known newspaper publisher, as United States Senator from Kansas to occupy the seat vacated by Vice-President Curtis.

Gov. Reed's statement said that while President Hoover made no request, mention of Allen's name was pleasing to him.

Allen supported Hoover for the Republican Presidential nomination last fall and in the campaign served as national publicity director for the Republican National committee.

Gov. Reed's statement follows:

"I have had a very pleasant visit with President Hoover, in the course of which we discussed the inland waterways, flood relief and judicial appointments in the Kansas judicial district.

"During our visit the appointment of a United States Senator to fill the vacancy created by Mr. Curtis's election to the Vice-Presidency came up. I stated that among those being considered was former Gov. Henry J. Allen the President expressed himself as being gratified, and said, of course, that he could not request the appointment of a United States Senator.

"It seemed to me, however, that Allen had long been his friend and had held him in high esteem and that if the former Governor could be appointed he would be of great help to the administration in carrying out the program and especially in working out the problems affecting Kansas and the entire West.

"Immediately upon my return to Topeka, I shall appoint Allen to the vacancy.

"Allen has been identified with the 'old guard' of Kansas Republicanism and for years has been a political foe of Vice-President Curtis. The latter, after being elected Vice-President, planned to resign from the Senate in time for appointment by Gov. Paulen, to serve a number before leaving office in January. However, Curtis, who was Senate leader, was defeated by former President Coolidge's wish to his post until the end of the session.

"The election of his enemy to his place in the upper branch undoubtedly will be a bitter pill for Curtis to swallow.

Will Rogers Remarks:

NEW YORK, March 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] An old boy started a system here in New York Monday that looks mighty original and fills a life time's need. He came home one night pretty well incorporated. After the usual argument with "I do," he started back out again, she started to follow. He just got a saw and started to remove one of her legs figuring that would slow her up so that even in his condition he could keep ahead of her. If she still insisted on following, he still had the saw, and she still had another leg. This looks like a sure-fire remedy, the old way of knocking 'em down or locking 'em up was only temporary relief. This depends on the type of wife, one sawing will cure some, two sawings will cure any.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Kaleidoscopic Play of Color in Antarctic Wonderland Casts Magic Spell

Scene at One Time Like Vast Stage With Spotlights on Every Side

BY RUSSELL OWEN

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) March 29. (Exclusive)—The sun came up over the barrier yesterday, a huge ball of yellow, and in its slow journey along the horizon gave us a perfect day; one of those quiet and brilliant Antarctic days that enthrall the beholder. The air, the purest in all the world, was so crystal clear that distance was foreshortened and the eye leaped as if over only a few yards to far-away ridges of snow glistening in the morning light.

The sky was a thin blue, and it seemed as if one could see into the infinity of space far beyond the range of ordinary vision. Around the horizon was a thin band of clouds which reflected light as from a mirror. In only one place was it broken—in the north where a great cloud of frost smoke rolled up from below the edge of the barrier, rolled and billowed as if a gigantic conflagration raged there. It came from a narrow band of open water close to the ice cliff—and rose only a short distance above the barrier and, turning over, rolled outward toward the frozen sea. It moved so slowly that it was like a mystic curtain shutting us off from the world of living things.

STRANGE SHADOWS

There were strange shadows in this clear light of the late Antarctic day. So low was the sun that every small protuberance in the snow, every sharp line on sastrugi, every gouged-out hollow and eroded hummock had its silver-gray shadow. They stood out as if etched against the gleaming white of the snow and the vast field about us drew in and contrasted. For the first time in many days we were able to see the details of its surface, details usually lost in the obscurity of diffused light under an overcast sky. The oddest shadow of all was that around us as we walked, for so great was the reflection from the encircling horizon that shadows were cast on all sides. It was as if innumerable spotlights were being focused on the tiny figures on this vast and desolate stage.

LANDSCAPE CHANGES

All day this lasted and toward evening (evening comes early here now) another slow and almost imperceptible change came over the landscape. The light decreased, the shadows faded and very slowly came a glow of light which touched the surface softly with a faint pink that gave a fairy-like radiance to the snow. It grew deeper as the sun went lower, until the whole western horizon was a mass of flame, and then died down and disappeared as the light failed.

Then came the witchery of an Antarctic twilight, the dim half-light in which all things are distinctly outlined and yet half-concealed. The luminous light of distant horizons, the chill gray of the snow, the cloud-bearded moon, made a scene that touched one with a weird attraction intensified by the deep silence of a dead land. One might as well stand on the lifeless moon itself—there could be nothing more strange.

PECULIAR LIGHTS

When the sun went down one saw a dark bank of cloud with a thin, yellow light shining above it and overhead another drifting bank, mottled with a dull rose on its under edge. Northward there was a gleam of light, so faint as hardly to warrant the name of color, and yet tinged with something that might be yellow. In the east was a color that baffled description, seemingly purple and brown, a color which the Almighty must have dropped to tantalize the imagination of men. It shone with an internal luminosity as if it veiled a mystery. And in the south toward that great waste of silent snow, of distant invisible mountains of land which have drawn many dauntless men and kept some, there was a glow as if just beyond the horizon were a gleaming kingdom of gold.

ANTARCTIC TWILIGHT

Imagine a twilight sky in which there is no darkness, no eastern horizon of black to show the advance of night, but instead a darkening bowl touched everywhere with faint light and color. Such is the Antarctic twilight. Against it rise the low lines of our buildings and the dark skeletons of the wireless masts, sharp and cold, through which the winds whistle on evenings when we sit around the fire. But last night they were still dead frames of stark steel, and there was in them no vibrating hum of life. Lazy plumes of steam and smoke arose from black chimneys and ventilators and drifted away, white against the gray shadows.

Above and over all brooded the deep peace of the Antarctic, the vast silence that soothes the mind and brings a deep content. Something of the serenity of the silver moon descends on one who watches such a night.

FLOOD PERIL GROWING IN TENNESSEE

Rains Cause of Concern With Cumberland River at Predicted Crest

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) March 29. (AP)—Overcast skies and a steady rain received more of Nashville's attention today than the Cumberland River, which has reached 50.1 feet, its predicted crest. The river is believed almost stationary, but additional rains are feared by river observers. At its present stage, the stream is 10.1 feet above flood stage.

More than 600 families have left their homes and this afternoon water was creeping steadily up business streets and flooding sections of the wholesale districts.

The Weather Bureau predicts the river will continue above flood stage at Carthage during the next thirty-six hours and reach flood stage at Eddyville, Ky., tomorrow.

More rain is forecast for Middle Tennessee tonight and tomorrow and if the rain should be steady and heavy the possibilities of a more serious flood here will be greatly increased.

Dirigible Fails in Plane Hunt

LAKEHURST (N. J.) March 29. (AP)—The navy dirigible Los Angeles returned to its hangar today after two nights and a day of fruitless search along the coast between here and Norfolk, Va., for the amphibian airplane in which T. Raymond Pinucane of Rochester, N. Y., and three others disappeared last Friday.

Lieutenant-Commander Charles E. Rosendahl was in charge of a crew of fifty officers and men on the airship. They flew low over the coast line and in areas at sea 100 miles off shore.

Submarine Sets Depth Record

SPEZIA (Italy) March 29. (AP)—The new Italian submarine Mameli has made what is reported to be the world's depth record for immersion. It descended yesterday to 383.87 feet below the sea level. The old record was 344.50 feet.

The Mameli is an 820-ton boat of the Cavallini class with a length of 212.26 feet. The test was made in the Gulf of Spezia.

Woman Escapes Blast but Trips and Cuts Throat

SPOKANE, March 29. (AP)—A dynamite blast wrecked the kitchen of Mrs. Fred Beck's home today, and she escaped alive, but when she rushed back to the scene to make sure her seven children were safe she tripped and cut her throat on a sharp piece of metal which inflicted a fatal found. Two of her children were hurt.

Several sticks of dynamite are believed to have been placed accidentally in the kitchen stove of the little prairie home near here. The blast sent fragments of metal hurtling, one of them nearly severing an ear of one of the children.

Air Passenger Tells of Jump

SALT LAKE CITY, March 29. (AP) Miss Melba Tanner, University of Utah student, was at her home here today with a story of a 7000-foot parachute jump from an airplane caught in a windstorm near Reno, Nev., the 8th inst.

With Grover Knight of Denver as pilot, Miss Tanner said, she was making a flight from Salt Lake City to San Francisco when the machine was caught in a series of storms. The fifth one, encountered some forty miles south of Reno, disabled the propeller and disconnected the gasoline feed line.

Believing his machine about to be out of control, Miss Tanner said Knight ordered her to jump. Meanwhile Knight managed to make a safe landing.

Gunboat Hits Rock in China

HANKOW (China) March 29. (AP) The new American river gunboat Tutuila struck a submerged rock in the gorges of the upper Yangtse River today, near Wanhsien. Two compartments were flooded but ship's pumps controlled the water inflow. She will go to Shanghai for repairs.

March on Nogales Causes Gloom Among Revolters; Manzo on Way North

Small Federal Band Trapped at Chihuahua City as Main Forces Advance

BY HARRY CARR
"Times" Staff Representative

NOGALES, March 29. (Exclusive) The approach of Gen. Rodriguez across the desert from Mexicali has taken all the starch out of the rebels.

Rebel headquarters on the other side of the line look like the morning after a wake. Gen. Borquez, who sat up all night, looks gloomy and tired.

It looks to me as though the revolution has degenerated into a wild scramble for plunder. The rebels have lost all hope of winning the war. They are trying to salvage the cargo. All military operations from now on can best be interpreted with an adding machine.

Gen. Manzo, who has his passports all made out in readiness to jump across the line if he has to retreat from Mazatlan, has a large fortune in the Los Angeles banks. What is worrying him now is that he has 10,000 fine cattle in the pathway of the Rodriguez advance.

MINE TRADE SOUGHT

Topete hasn't done so well, but has much dough in the banks of Tucson. His present campaign at Naco has a financial objective. By threatening to close the Cananea mines he seeks to force that company to do business through the rebel port of Nogales. This would mean an income of from $15,000 to $20,000 a day.

He has pointed out to the copper company that if the mine closes down some 3000 miners will have to enlist in his army to eat. For this reason he argues that the Mexican Federal government will have to consent to let the Cananea company do business through rebel Nogales.

His operations at Naco will have to be cleaned up before Rodrigues arrives from Mexicali. This will probably be a matter of some days as the Mexicali army is slowed down by the necessity of carrying large quantities of water.

MANZO ON WAY NORTH

Railroad men on the Mexican side said tonight that Gen. Manzo is on the way north and is expected in Nogales tomorrow. There is no way to confirm the report.

Manzo is very nervous lest his line of retreat be closed. One of the reasons why his attack upon Mazatlan failed was that an unknown Federal sympathizer burned seven bridges behind him near Banos. His present headquarters is said to be at the quaint old town of Quila.

Nogales, the base of the whole rebel army, is held by less than 100 soldiers.

AMERICAN LOSSES HEAVY

E. W. Eaton is leaving on the first train south to open a United States vice-consulate at Cajeme in the oathway of Manzo's retreat. Losses to American property already have been severe. When Manzo's rag tag army falls back, the worst is expected.

The Southern Pacific managed to ship out 1500 cars of perishable freight like tomatoes since the revolution started, but at least 1500 carloads have perished on the vines.

Topete sent an airplane over Naco this morning to warn the civilian population to leave town. It was chased by two Federal planes. There probably will be a fight but I do not believe Topete will make any great effort to take the town. He is too hard pressed by the necessity of getting back to Nogales before Rodriguez arrives.

The Americans whose trucks were commandeered last night by the rebels to send troops to the front got them back this morning by threatening to put a legal attachment on Gen. Borquez's Packard which is on this side.

An American commission merchant came in from the south tonight. He said eighty wounded rebels are at Culiacan, casualties of

RAIL STRIKE BLOCKED

Hoover Acts on Texas Dispute

Proclamation Issued Calling for Emergency Board Inquiry and Report

Step Automatically Restrains Walk-out Over Period of Thirty Days

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—President Hoover took action late today to avert the threatened strike by employees of the Texas and Pacific Railway by issuing a proclamation creating an emergency board of inquiry to investigate the dispute and report on its findings. This report will be made to the President.

Under the Rail Labor Act both the railway management and the workers are restrained from taking any further action until the expiration of the thirty-day period.

The members of the board, five in all, have not yet been appointed.

The President affixed his signature to the proclamation after Chairman Winslow of the board of mediation had called at the White House and the instrument sets forth that the Chief Executive has been advised that the strike threatens a serious interruption of interstate commerce.

TEXT OF PROCLAMATION

The text of the proclamation follows:

"Whereas, the President, having been duly notified by the board of mediation that a dispute between the Texas and Pacific Railway Company, a carrier, and certain of its employees represented by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors, and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which dispute has not been heretofore adjusted under the provisions of the Railway Labor Act, now threatens substantially to interrupt interstate commerce within the States of Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas to a degree such as to deprive that section of the country of essential transportation service, and

"Now, therefore, I, Herbert Hoover, President of the United States, by virtue of the power vested in me by the Constitution and laws of the United States, and by virtue of and under the authority in me invested by Section 10 of the Railway Labor Act, do hereby create a board to be composed of five persons not pecuniarly interested in any organization of railway employees or any carrier, to investigate such dispute and report their findings within thirty days from this date.

BOARD COMPENSATION

"The members of this board shall be compensated for and on account of such duties in the sum of $100 for each member for every day actually employed with or upon and on account of travel and duties incident to such board. The members will be reimbursed for and they are hereby authorized to make expenditures for necessary expenses of themselves and of the board, including traveling expenses and expenses actually incurred for subsistence, in conformity with said act.

"All expenditures of the board shall be allowed and paid for out of the appropriation, 'Emergency Boards' Act, approved February 11, 1927, Vol. 44, Stat. L., 1042, on the presentation of itemized vouchers properly approved by the chairman of the board hereby created.

"Done this twenty-ninth day of March in the year of Our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and twenty-nine, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and fifty-third."

WALKOUT PLANS HALTED BY ACTION

DALLAS (Tex.) March 29. (AP)—A strike of approximately 4000 rail and shop employees of the Texas and Pacific Railway, which had been called to begin at 6 a.m., tomorrow automatically was suspended for a period of at least thirty days by action of President Hoover late today in issuing a proclamation creating an emergency board of investi-

RIVER GIVES UP GIRL'S BODY

Massachusetts Discovery May Solve Disappearance of Smith College Student Year Ago

SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) March 29. (AP)—The body of a girl was found in the Connecticut River this afternoon in Longmeadow, a suburb, and Police Chief Henderson of Longmeadow expresses the belief that it is that of Frances St. John Smith of New York, Smith College student, who disappeared mysteriously January 13, 1928.

The body was discovered by dredge workmen who were dragging the river for a fellow-worker who had fallen to his death several days ago.

Chief Henderson, after checking the body closely with circulars of missing girls, says the description of Miss Smith tallies in several details, and that a fragment of the dress is of orange color, the same as the student wore on the day she disappeared from the college at Northampton.

Springfield police were notified and they called Maj. Thomas J. Hammond of Northampton, attorney for St. John Smith of New York, father of the girl. Attorney Hammond has been in charge of the search, which has extended over a year.

Medical Examiner Frederick Jones of Springfield says the body had been in the water about a year. The protruding forehead corresponds with the description of Miss Smith, he says.

Chief Henderson says he does not think the body is that of Alice Corbett of Utica, N. Y., another Smith College student who also disappeared mysteriously from Northampton November 13, 1925. He pointed out that the body had been in the river only about a year.

Miss Smith was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. St. John Smith of New York City. A reward of $10,000 was offered by the family and a search for her was conducted for more than a month.

Alice Corbett was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Corbett of Utica, N. Y. She disappeared leaving a note addressed to her

ALLEN TO GET SENATE SEAT

Ex-Governor and Publisher to Succeed Curtis

Kansan Friend to Hoover in Preprimary Period

has been a national figure in politics and journalism.

In the campaign last year, Mr. Allen was publicity director for the Republican National Committee. He actively supported Herbert Hoover for the Presidential nomination prior to the Kansas City convention despite the fact that most Kansas Republicans had rallied behind Curtis for President.

As Governor of Kansas from 1919 to 1923, he attracted nation-wide attention by his forceful dealings with labor disputes and the creation under his administration of a State Court of Industrial Relations empowered to prevent strikes in the interest of the public welfare.

He is known as a fighter, who is as much at home on the debate platform as in an editorial office wielding a pen in the interest of some crusade.

The appointment will carry for a term of four years as Mr. Curtis was elected to serve in the Senate until 1933. Mr. Allen is 60 years of age.

For twenty-one years Mr. Allen was editor and publisher of the Wichita Beacon. He sold a controlling interest in the newspaper last summer and retired from active editorial direction but remained as chairman of the board. For a short time he acted as publisher of the Omaha Bee-News for William Randolph Hearst but retained his residence in Wichita.

Mr. Allen was elected to his first term as Governor while he was in France engaged in war work for the Red Cross. He made no personal campaign, the "Bull Moose" Republicans with whom he had been identified, joining with "standpatters" in electing him.

Shortly after his inauguration a strike of coal miners was called in Southeast Kansas. The Governor obtained an order from the State Supreme Court placing the mines under receivership, and appealed to the Kansas people for volunteer miners in order to prevent suffering during the severe winter. Eleven thousand responded, operating the mines until the labor dispute was settled and the strikers returned to work.

Mr. Allen is a member of the board of trustees of the Roosevelt Memorial Foundation, the board of trustees of Baker University, Baldwin, Kan., the official board of the First Methodist Church, Wichita, and is a Thirty-third Degree Mason. He is dry.

UNDERSEAS ARCTIC TRIP IN PROSPECT

Capt. Wilkins May Attempt to Span Northern Waters in Submarine, He Says

NEW YORK, March 29. (Exclusive)—Sir Hubert Wilkins, the polar explorer, announced tonight he is making "active inquiries into the possibility of making a submarine trip across the Arctic sea," but that he has "no definite plans as yet for doing the job this year."

Admitting that he would like to bore his way through the waters beneath the north polar ice, Sir Hubert says he has "had this trip in mind for fifteen years."

He believes that the journey could be made in one month and says that July would be the most favorable month in the year. He says it would be "possible to do it this summer and be back in time to resume my Antarctic work next October."

He was noncommittal, however, when asked if he definitely plans the trip this summer or some summer in the near future.

the attack on Mamatlan. Manzo has abandoned the assault.

Four aviators came north to Nogales tonight, presumably to make an air search for Rodriguez's army. One is the American, Koehler, who told his fellow-train passengers that he refused to drop bombs on Mazatlan during the siege.

The commission merchant said rebel newspapers on the west coast are trying to restore the morale of the rebel army by publishing a scare story to the effect that the United States government has announced it will recognize the rebel government if Calles does not crush the revolution within thirty days.

FEDERAL GENERAL BELIEVED TRAPPED

MEXICO CITY, March 29. (AP)—A Federal detachment has entered Chihuahua City, but in complete ignorance that it is a rebel stronghold toward which the main Federal army has been slowly advancing for weeks. The Federal general, Armenta, according to word received here, has fallen into the trap set for him by the rebel Governor, Carreo, and is supposed to have been forced to surrender his 300 followers.

Armenta had led this band on a long and arduous march over the mountains from Sonora to escape the superior forces of rebel general, Manzo. Not knowing that Gov. Carreo had joined the rebel cause, he asked for help and means were sent him to proceed to Chihuahua City and his capture.

Meanwhile the main Federal army under Gen. Juan A. Almazan pushed on today beyond Escalon toward Jimenez, which is about 150 miles south of Chihuahua City. Although the rebel strength is reported concentrating at Jimenez, the government is inclined to doubt that they will offer battle there in the flat, open country which offers little of strategic value for an effort to check the Federal drive.

PASS MAY BE SCENE

Federal commanders expect the real test will be at Bachimba Pass, sixty-three kilometers southeast of Chihuahua City. That pass, through mountains that rise several thousand feet above the plain, has been the scene of many a bloody battle in past revolutions. The railroad after winding up the mountainside from Santa Rosalia, midway between Jimenez and Bachimba, runs through a narrow gorge with the sides towering 500 feet above the rails.

In previous wars victory almost invariably has been with the defenders of the pass, but bombing planes, which already have rendered good account of themselves, are expected by the Federals to change the situation. The aviators have several airplanes of the most modern type and a large supply of fifty-pound bombs imported from the United States. With these weapons they are expected to make the rebel positions on the heights overlooking the pass untenable.

Maj. Maurilio McGallon arrived here this morning from Lower California to inform the government of the column of 3000 troops under Gen. Abelardo Rordiguez, Governor of the northern district, which now is advancing on Nogales. The major said this column is moving in 200 automobile trucks and is accompanied by a squadron of fifteen fighting planes commanded by Lieut.-Col. Auguste Castrejon.

FANATICS DEFEATED

The commander-in-chief of the forces in the field, reported that in the State of Durango there have been "unimportant encounters with fanatics, in all of which the Federal troops administered severe beatings to them." The campaign in Durango has been reduced to guerilla tactics.

The Secretary of War relayed a message from Gen. Eulogio Ortiz, commander of the advance forces of cavalry in Chihuahua, saying, "The Tiger of the Laguna (a name sometimes applied to Gen. Gonzalo Escobar,) continues his precipitate flight and is now converted into a humble feline."

Reviewing these reports, the government remarked in its communique that "all this leads to the conviction that without doubt Gen. Escobar and Gen. Manzo have decided to make a great concentration of their forces in El Paso and Nogales, later to unite in Los Angeles or some other distant part of the planet."

ESCOBAR CHARGES MORROW WITH BIAS

JUAREZ (Chih.) March 29. (AP)—In a message to the diplomatic commission of the Mexican revolution, which is in Washington, Gen. Jose Gonzales Escobar, commander-in-chief of the revolutionists, tonight charged that Dwight W. Morrow, United States Ambassador to Mexico, is "prejudicing American interests, not only in Mexico, but in all Latin countries, by converting himself into a propaganda agent" for the Calles regime.

GREATER CREDIT CONTROL URGED

Strengthening of Reserve Board Powers Favored

Two Senators Writing Bills for Special Session

Glass's Attack on Mitchell Interests Washington

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—Strengthening of the powers of the Federal Reserve Board to insure its control over funds likely to get into the speculative market will be proposed at the approaching extra session of Congress.

Senator Glass, Democrat, of Virginia, and King, Democrat, of Utah, are preparing bills designed to give the board any authority it may find necessary to curb loans for speculative purposes. Neither has completed his proposed legislation.

It is the expressed disposition of Congressional leaders to leave the problem of stock market speculation in the hands of the Reserve Board in so far as it touches on Federal Reserve funds. Those in Congress who are studying the problem believe that neither the board nor Congress can directly supervise the stock market.

NORBECK AGREES

Chairman Norbeck of the Senate Banking Committee is one of those holding to the view that the Reserve Board must be given a responsibility to supervise use of its money and he declares he will "leave the problem with the board for the present."

While there is little prospect of enactment of any legislation dealing with the credit problem at the extra session, in view of the determination of House leaders not to organize any committees for other legislation than tariff and farm relief, hearings probably will be held by the Senate committee.

Senators Glass and King said today they will endeavor to have the committee consider the question at the approaching session. Neither, however, contemplates asking for an investigation of stock market fluctuations of recent months. Each would confine the hearings to a study of the general credit problem and to means of curbing the use of Federal funds in speculation.

MITCHELL ATTACKED

Considerable interest was shown here today in the declaration of Senator Glass, a former Secretary of the Treasury, against the action of Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank, in making available funds from that institution for the market at the time the interest rate on call loans was boosted this week.

Glass said this was an "insolent" nullification of the reserve board's desires and he thinks the board should call for Mitchell's resignation as a Class A director in the reserve banks, but there is no indication that the board intends to adopt his suggestion.

Senator King is drafting a bill to authorize the reserve board to forbid its member banks to issue loans for marginal trading operations in the stock markets. He also would give the member banks authority to increase the rates on loans which they believe to be used for speculative purposes.

Last session when the Senate asked the Federal Reserve Board whether any legislation was needed to assist it in its determination to curb the loans to brokers and dealers on stocks and bonds the board replied that none was desired.

ATTACK ON MITCHELL CAUSES STREET TO BUZZ

NEW YORK, March 29. (AP)—Although the stock market took a holiday today, the stir which has been created in legislative circles by the recent credit crisis and Senator Glass's demand that Charles E. Mitchell resign from the directorate of the New York Federal Reserve Bank set Wall street to buzzing with excitement.

While bankers generally, including Mr. Mitchell, refused to comment on Senator Glass's attack on the head of the National City Bank, the fresh possibility of a Congressional investigation of speculation and credit, which invariably has caused considerable stock market irregularity, is viewed with much concern.

Mr. Mitchell, while declining to be drawn into a controversy with Senator Glass, who charged him with "vigorously slapping the Federal Reserve Board in the face," in making available $25,000,000 to break the credit jam which sent call money to 20 per cent on Tuesday, was willing to discuss the general financial and business situation.

CRISIS BELIEVED PAST

He made it clear that no one is more opposed to frenzied stock speculation than himself, and repeated his warning of several weeks ago that the danger to every period of prosperity lies in the development of overconfidence. He said he believes that the credit crisis is passed, and sees danger only in resumption of wild bullish operations on the stock market, but he added, smiling, "some people who had stock accounts a week ago are more conservative now."

Mr. Mitchell defended the action of the National City Bank as protecting the nation's business and saving the public's confidence from too severe a shock. He said his bank was the largest lender of any Wall-street bank in the stock market this week, but pointed out that its rediscounts at the Federal Reserve Bank reached a maximum of only $35,000,000, as contrasted with $75,000,000 at the turn of the year. He said National City's stock-market loans run normally from $100,000,000 to $125,000,000, but this morning stood at only $139,000,000.

CREDIT STILL TIGHT

Mr. Mitchell, and bankers generally, described credit conditions as still tight. While the passing of the quarter-end shifting of balances next week is expected further to relieve the situation, Wall street sees little hope of a return to normal credit conditions for some time. A reduction of only $144,000,000 in brokers' loans this week, failing to offset the jump of $166,000,000 the week before, was generally disappointing, and it is felt in many quarters that further stock-market liquidation must be expected.

While all the security and commodity markets were closed for the Good Friday holiday today, banks were open as usual, and many brokerage houses were open while their forces toiled to clear away the accumulation of work from the tremendous stock turnover in the four market days this week. Practically all of the security and commodity markets with the exception of the produce exchange will be closed tomorrow for a special holiday, but most of the brokerage-house offices will be open to finish up the back business.

ATTERBURY FEARS EFFECT OF FLUCTUATIONS

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—Violent fluctuations in the stock market, such as those of this week, are viewed by W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, as regrettable because of their disturbing effect upon business.

After a call upon President Hoover today Mr. Atterbury said that if sharp turns in the market can be avoided business conditions will be stabilized.

The railroad president said he called at the White House to express his personal appreciation for "the things that the President is doing." Later he was a luncheon guest at the White House.

Mr. Atterbury declared he never has seen the country in as good a condition as today and added that without exception industries are operating at 90 to 95 per cent of capacity, not only the large steel companies, but independent industries as well. Textiles, he declared, are picking up, particularly in New England. He said that the President's policies no doubt have "made a profound impression upon business interests."

MRS. KENNEDY HUNT STARTED

learned she had checked out of her hotel there, they dropped off in Portland. Mrs. Kennedy is believed to be here. Friends at Longview and Kelso, Wash., say she left there for Olympia.

Outwardly Hornblower and Little were piqued. They both said tonight the siege would last as long as Mrs. Kennedy remains in hiding. The Hardy case starts a week hence and speed is essential, Hornblower said.

With that in mind, they asked Chief of Police Jenkins for assistance. Hotels are being questioned and friends of Mrs. Kennedy are being asked as to her whereabouts.

IMPEDIMENTS NOTED

"I don't believe she is in Canada," Hornblower said. "She checked out of her hotel at Seattle just a few hours before Sheriff Dill of Cowlitz county, Washington, arrived there with a subpoena drawn by Attorney J. N. Atwell of Kelso."

Atwell has been commissioned by the California Legislature to take the deposition. He is a notary public of Washington and if Mrs. Kennedy is in Oregon there may be some legal impediments to a hasty search.

HARDY COUNSEL ASKS FOR BLANK SUBPOENAES

SACRAMENTO, March 29. (AP)—Request for twenty-five blank subpoenas for defense witnesses was made today by Frank M. Carr, attorney for Judge Hardy.

Carr telephoned from Oakland, though he was supposed to be en route to Seattle, Wash., where the Assembly board of managers will attempt to take a deposition from Mrs. Minnie Kennedy.

Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan announced that Carr had asked for the subpoenas and that they were being issued and would be sent to Rex Hardy in Los Angeles at Carr's request.

Carr, Judge Hardy and Rex Hardy previously had agreed that Carr was to accompany Assemblymen Hornblower and Little, two members of the board of prosecuting Assembly managers, to Seattle to be present when a deposition is taken from Mrs. Kennedy.

Just before Hornblower and Little left the Capitol last night Hornblower received a 500-word message from the mother-evangelist refusing to give a deposition until "all testimony had been taken from prosecution witnesses."

The Assembly managers went north, disregarding the refusal, stating they were commissioned by the Senate to take the deposition and that an attempt must at least be made. Carr was expected to make the trip also.

Clare Woolwine is the only Assembly manager left here tonight. Harry Sewell is in Los Angeles interviewing Asa Keyes, former Los Angeles District Attorney, now in the County Jail, and E. J. Dennison, deputy District Attorney, relative to testimony each might offer later.

Melvin Cronin, the fifth member, left for Berkeley, where he will interview W. A. Gabrielson, police sergeant and former Monterey Chief of Police, regarding activities of private detectives during the Carmel investigation of Mrs. McPherson's asserted kidnaping.

HARDY CRITICISES PROSECUTION TACTICS

Superior Judge Hardy said last night that his son, Rex Hardy, of his counsel, is scheduled to meet Mrs. Minnie Kennedy in Kelso, Wash., this morning to be present when her deposition is taken.

In a statement last night the judge stated:

"I regret exceedingly that the prosecution has seen fit to try its case in newspapers before it is properly presented to the Senate now sitting as a high court of impeachment.

"It seems that great stress is being placed upon testimony prosecution witnesses are supposed to present when they take the witness stand, by means of advance publicity.

"It obviously is an attempt to injure me by creating prejudice in the public mind, a public I have served faithfully for many years.

"I shouldn't be drawn into a trial by means of advance publicity, but should have an opportunity of hearing all testimony presented against me when I appear before the Senate.

"However, despite all these gestures I am certain of complete vindication which undoubtedly is the only outcome possible in the present uncalled-for procedure."

KEYES DEFINITELY NAMED AS WITNESS

Former Dist.-Atty. Keyes definitely was named as one of the State's witnesses yesterday in the prosecution of impeachment proceedings against Superior Judge Hardy by the California State Senate, which will be resumed April 8, next, Assemblyman Sewell, member of the board of managers appointed to direct the prosecution, announced last night.

The Assemblyman made this announcement following a half-hour's conference with Keyes in the County Jail, where he is held pending his appeal from conviction on bribery charges.

At the same time Assemblyman Sewell confirmed in part a statement by Clare Woolwine, another member of the board of managers, indicating that the "true" story of the Aimee Semple McPherson kidnaping case will be brought out during the Hardy impeachment proceedings.

EXPECTS REVELATION

"I am not at liberty to say just what new evidence will be brought out at the impeachment hearing," Assemblyman Sewell said, "but judging from the list of witnesses subpoenaed and the facts to which they are expected to testify, I will not be in the least surprised if the truth of the entire affair is brought out."

The conference with Keyes concerned testimony which the former District Attorney is expected to give to corroborate charges that Judge Hardy attempted to hamper the investigation by the grand jury and the District Attorney of the McPherson kidnaping case, Assemblyman Sewell said.

Earlier in the day the Assemblyman conferred with Undersheriff Eugene Biscailuz regarding transportation for the twenty-three witnesses from Los Angeles who will be required to testify at the hearing. According to Biscailuz, arrangements have been completed for transportation of the witnesses.

SUBPOENA FAULTY

Unless future developments reveal new evidence no other witnesses will be subpoenaed from Los Angeles, it was announced.

Due to a slight irregularity in the preparation of the original subpoena served on Keyes, it will be necessary to prepare another which will be rushed to Los Angeles next week and served on the former District Attorney at once, Assemblyman Sewell said.

Accompanied by his young son, Wilber, the Assemblyman paid a short personal call on Dist.-Atty. Fitts following his interview with Keyes, but announced that it had no connection with the Hardy impeachment proceedings.

PENITENTS TAKE LASH; GUNS BAN CAMERAMAN

SANTA FE (N. M.) March 29. (AP) Through the swish and crack of whips which cut bleeding welts across their backs, the penitents, an age-old sect now centered in the hills of New Mexico, sought remission for their sins on the anniversary of the Crucifixion.

Long processions wended their ways to sequestered spots in the hills throughout the State, as the sect, which practices self - torture to clean away its sins, celebrated Good Friday.

Crosses of the penitents were numerous in the vicinity of Santa Fe, but the practice of crucifying a member of the sect and holding him to the cross until he loses consciousness apparently has been abandoned, observers, who sought to view the ceremonies, reported.

Holding their ceremonies too sacred for the eyes of curious, the penitents establish guards about their processions and one moving-picture cameraman who attempted to film a procession was said to have been fired upon by the guards. Several bullets were said to have gone through the cameraman's clothing and his camera carrying case, but he was not injured.

JAPAN LUMBER DUTIES FEARED

State Department Acts for American Interests

Tariff Increases Expected Effective Today

Senators Point to Rupture of Trade Treaty

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—Complaints of United States lumber interests against the proposed increase by Japan in the tariff on American lumber have been called informally to the attention of Japan by the State Department.

The Japanese tariff situation is being watched closely here and serious consideration is given at the capitol to suggestions for a retaliatory tariff on raw silk and tea importations to this country in the event the new Japanese Tariff Act is put into effect.

While the Japanese Diet has passed the Tariff Act, increasing the rates on lumber, it does not go into effect until, and unless, the Cabinet promulgates the law by publication in the Official Gazette. It has been anticipated that this publication will occur tomorrow.

TREATY VIOLATED

It is the contention of the lumber interests in this country that the new Japanese act is discriminatory against America and therefore constitutes a violation of the American-Japanese commercial treaty of 1911.

The Tokio Embassy was instructed by the State Department to express to the Japanese government the hope of the United States that American lumber and other products will not be placed upon an unfavorable basis with similar of competing products of other countries.

Senators Stelwer and McNary of Oregon are watching the developments closely. They went before the State Department to urge the protest to the Japanese government.

COURSE CAUTIOUS

State Department officials have been studying the situation and feel that at the present juncture they are not warranted in going beyond expressing the hope to the Japanese government that American products will not be placed in an unfavorable position.

The principal complaint is understood to come from cedar lumber interests on the Pacific Coast. Japanese concession holders in Siberia have been exporting to Japan lumber from the soviet Russian country but it is believed here by officials that this lumber is of such a quality that it does not seriously enter into competition with the American product.

gation to look into the issues involved.

The strike order was issued by four large railroad brotherhoods.

The trouble, dating back about six months, came to an impasse today when eight leaders of the four brotherhoods, locomotive firemen and enginemen, engineers, trainmen and conductors, failed to agree with J. A. Somerville, vice-president of the Texas and Pacific, and other T. and P. executives.

The dissension is said to have grown largely from the railroad's removal of its yards from Longview and Marshall to Mineola and Shreveport, with other disputes creeping in as the matter was brought under discussion.

Many of the railroad employees had purchased homes at Longview and Marshall on time payments. When moved to the new division points they asked the Texas and Pacific to reimburse them for their property losses. This the road declined to do.

The strike vote was taken by employees last week. The result, said to have been almost 100 per cent in favor of the walkout, was announced by brotherhood spokesmen here Wednesday.

ST. PAUL ROAD INCREASES WAGES

CHICAGO, March 29. (AP)—An increase of from 3 to 5 cents an hour in the wage rate of approximately 10,000 shop employees of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railway was announced today by J. T. Gillick, vice-president in charge of operations. The increase will involve about $1,000,000 a year, Mr. Gillick said.

The wage advance follows negotiations between the company and the federated shop crafts, representing the workers. It becomes effective next Monday.

Employees benefiting from the advances will be the electricians, carmen, boilermakers, machinists, blacksmiths and sheet metal workers.

JERUSALEM, March 29. (Exclusive)—The sacred spirit of Holy Week has been marred in the Holy City by petty feuds at the shrines. The first incident occurred this morning at the tomb of David when a large number of Franciscan monks made their annual pilgrimage there, where the chamber of the Last Supper is sustained and where it is customary for conclave meet on Maundy Thursday.

When the monks arrived they were turned away by Moslems of the Dajany family, who have been in possession of the Cenacle since the capture of the country by the Moslems. One member of the family, who favored allowing the Franciscans to have services, was attacked and beaten by relatives.

Police dispersed the mobs and requested the Franciscans to leave the premises. They then barred the doors and posted a guard with permitting none to enter. It is charged this fanatic Moslem family of ogre seeing fees collected from all visitors.

Another squabble occurred last when the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, when Roman Catholic priests arrived for mass this afternoon at the altar jointly owned by Latins and Greeks. The Greeks and Copts were in the midst of incensing the altar. Because the Greeks preceded a few steps further than tually is allowed by the the Latins strenuously objected a serious encounter ensued.

Gov. Keith Roach was called with the aid of police dispersed the Latins to step aside until the Greeks and Copts ended the ceremony.

CONGRESSMAN'S RUM STIRS ROW

Federal Attorney in Chicago Tells About Silence

Fol Over Affair Continued for Fourteen Months

CHICAGO, March 29. (AP)—A week is not long to delay issuing a warrant for the arrest of a congressman if his case is one of record on file, the United States District Attorney's office declared today in taking action against Representative M. A. Michaelson of Illinois, charged with dry-law violation.

Armed by the assertion of Department of Justice officials in Washington that he had delayed handling the Congressman in order not to embarrass him while Congress was in session, U. S. Dist.-Atty. George E. O. Johnson issued a written statement of explanation.

Representative Michaelson, it developed, was indicted in Jacksonville, Fla., last October after trunks he was bringing back from Havana were found in the railroad station, leaking. A policeman made the discovery and turned the matter over to the Federal authorities.

Both of the indictment did not reach the general public until nearly two months later and the announcement was followed immediately by the issuance of the warrant today by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker.

TEXT OF STATEMENT

The Federal attorney's statement follows:

"On January 11, 1929, a copy of an indictment against M. A. Michaelson was received here.

"On January 12, 1929, the United States Attorney at Jacksonville, Fla., was advised that the defendant was a member of Congress and suggested that the matter be sent to Washington.

"On February 6, the United States Attorney at Jacksonville directed this office to hold the matter in abeyance until the defendant returned to this jurisdiction.

"On March 28, 1929, a letter was received from the United States Attorney at Jacksonville, Fla., requesting that this office proceed with the matter, and in accordance with such instructions this office took steps in removing proceedings as provided for by law.

"Defendant was entitled to immunity from arrest while attending a session of Congress and the matter had not been delayed in this office."

Meanwhile, Representative Michaelson, who voted for the stringent Jones dry law at the last session, is believed to be somewhere in the State, but just where no one knows. Repeated calls to his home brought no answer. His bond has been set at $2000, and it is believed he will surrender within twenty-four hours. If he does not, it is indicated, a deputy United States marshal will be sent out after him.

Mr. Michaelson, who first was chosen to represent the Seventh Illinois District in 1920, received the backing of the Anti-Saloon League for re-election last fall.

He was born in Norway in 1878 and came to this country at 7 years of age.

DETAILS REVEALED OF LIQUOR INDICTMENT

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) March 29. (AP)—A nearly six-months-old indictment charming Representative M. Alfred Michaelson of the Seventh Illinois District with violation of the national prohibition laws by smuggling liquor into this country from Cuba was made public here today.

Authorization for publication of the details of the indictment followed news dispatches last night, which stated that the indictment was on the docket in the Federal court here, but that no capias or warrant had been served.

The indictment, containing three counts, charged the Chicago Congressman with importation, transportation and possession of a quantity of liquor asserted to have been brought into this county in "expedite order" baggage through the port of Key West on January 3, 1928.

Prohibition agents said the liquor was seized at the terminal station here on or about January 6, 1928, after police reported to the Federal dry agents that one of six trunks in the baggage room was leaking liquor. Two trunks are said to have contained liquor which was confiscated and the trunks turned back to the carrier to be forwarded to their destination.

The trunks arrived at Washington and were claimed, agents said, giving them their first intimation of the identity of the owner. The matter was presented to a Federal grand jury here last October, when the indictment was returned against Representative Michaelson.

Federal court attaches here said the indictment had not been made public earlier because it was necessary for arrest to be made and bond returned for record here before authority for publication could be given. This, they said, was up to the Federal officials in Chicago.

U.S. Dist.-Atty. William A. Gober by telephone from Tampa today authorized the publication of the indictment, but made no comment on the case.

STIMSON WORKS ON SINKING CASE

I'm Alone Affair May Lead to New Policy

Canadian Legation Forwards Report to Ottawa

Review of Matter Dispatched Also to London

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—Henry L. Stimson, the new Secretary of State, announced today at his first conference with press correspondents that he has interested himself in the shaping of an American policy in the I'm Alone case. He declined, however, to discuss the subject.

The sinking of the Canadian rum runner by a Coast Guard patrol boat is regarded in official circles as perhaps the most troublesome question bequeathed Mr. Stimson by former Secretary Frank B. Kellogg, who today as a private citizen once more turned his thoughts to vacationing.

The Canadian Legation, meanwhile, forwarded to the Ottawa government the full reports of the British Consul at New Orleans and those received from the Coast Guard through the State Department. The Legation is awaiting instructions from the Canadian government before pressing the case further.

Sir Esme Howard, the British Ambassador, who withdrew from active interest in the case on learning that the ship was of Canadian registry, also sent the reports to London. The British government still is directly interested since interpretations of the rum-smuggling treaty of 1924 between the United States and Great Britain are involved.

The French Embassy has not yet received an answer to its request for instructions regarding the drowning of the French seaman attached to the vessel. It is thought possible that the French Foreign Office will await some reparations by the Canadians or British before taking action. The French case is said to depend largely on whether the sinking of the I'm Alone was legal.

Stalin Stricken; Symptons Like Lenin's Illness

BERLIN, March 29. (Exclusive) Russia's Red dictator, Joseph V. Stalin, has been seized with a severe ailment bearing symptoms similar to those preceding Lenin's fatal illness. Owing to the internal political situation every effort has been made to keep Stalin's ailment secret, but it is expected that he will not be able to continue his active duties.

Diplomatic circles expect the early announcement that Stalin is proceeding to Crimea for a prolonged vacation. It is believed his opponents will try to seize this opportunity to reverse some of his policies, which met with great opposition among the peasants and also the Red army.

R. McReynolds, publicity director, will make a comprehensive survey of aerial transportation needs and facilities in the territory served by the railroad.

Inman Divorce Case Drags on

RENO, March 29. (AP)—Efforts to place blame for Mrs. Helene Garnet Patton Inman's asserted drinking habits upon her husband, Walker P. Inman, son of Mrs. James B. Duke, were being made today in the Inman divorce suit here. Cross-examination was directed to Inman's own reputed drinking and Mrs. Inman's failure to drink during the first year of her marriage.

Inman said, however, that his wife drank before they were married, then quit for most of the year 1920, but resumed in 1921.

Seventy-five tons of coal were moved by rescue crews to reach the two men, Walter Adamskie, 40 years of age, and George Ritzman, 27.

Bear Hunting Bill Gets Vote

SACRAMENTO March 29. (AP) Bear and predatory animals can be hunted and killed during all seasons of the year in game districts 2, 2½, 3, 4 and 4¾ under provisions of a bill by Senator Handy of Ukiah that was passed by the upper house of the Legislature today.

Slaughter of stock and fowl by marauding mammals in the districts covered led to introduction of the measure, Handy said.

VENGEFUL SHOT WOUNDS PRIEST

Chicago Clergyman Attacked by Irate Father

Two Sons Jailed in Robbery of Poor Boxes

Physicians Hold No Hopes for Recovery

CHICAGO, March 29. (AP)—Rev. Father Charles A. Erkenswick was shot and probably fatally wounded in the courtyard of his church on Good Friday by the father of two boys who believed the priest responsible for the boys' arrest on charges of robbing church poor boxes.

Gaetano Menna, father of the boys, explained in broken English from a police cell tonight why he attempted to kill the clergyman.

"Priest sends boys to jail," he stammered. "We starve. I try to kill him."

BOYS IN JAIL

Menna walked up to Father Erkenswick of the Church of the Holy Ghost, thrust a letter into his hand, and then shot him twice in the head and once in the back. Physicians say the priest has no chance to recover.

Two of Menna's sons, Paul, 20 years of age, and John, 17, were in jail. The letter which Menna thrust into the priest's hand was one received from Paul, following his arrest.

It denied the boys stole anything at the Holy Ghost Church, although they are said to have confessed robbing twenty-two other churches.

ADMITS SHOOTING

Menna fled from the courtyard following the shooting but was arrested after two small boys saw him run from the church grounds and pointed him out to a policeman. He admitted the shooting.

He will be held without bond, pending the outcome of Father Erkenswick's wounds.

Paul Menna was committed to a home for the feeble-minded at Lincoln, Ill., in 1926, but last October was probationed into the custody of his father. It is considered probable a psychopathic examination will be asked for Menna.

CHICAGO, March 29. (Exclusive)—A woman who boarded a Thirty-fifth street surface lines car at State street presented a queer looking transfer to Conductor F. W. The transfer was turned in to the general offices by Division Superintendent Bessette when Conductor Rapp insisted that thirty-six years was too long a stop over.

America Seeks $24,000,000 From Germany

Damages Incurred in Fires During War Time

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—American and German agents before the Mixed Claims Commission plan to lay the $24,000,000 sabotage claims of the United States against the government of Germany before the commission next Wednesday.

The claims are for damages for fires and explosions at the Lehigh Valley Railroad terminal, Black Tom, near Jersey City, in 1916, and at the assembly plant of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company at Kingsland, N. J., in 1917. In these disasters several millions of dollars worth of munitions and other property was destroyed, some of which was not owned by Americans.

Written evidence which has been collected by the two governments since the claims were filed in 1922 would fill several trunks. The claimant's contentions on the liability of Germany alone fill 3000 printed pages.

Old Gold wins at PRINCETON in a test of the 4 leading cigarettes

THE DAILY PRINCETONIAN

"The Daily Princetonian" was asked by the makers of OLD GOLD to conduct a test at Princeton to determine which of the four widest-selling cigarettes had the greatest taste appeal.

For the purposes of the test the four leading cigarette brands were "masked" to conceal the brand names. The cigarettes were numbered, and the men merely chose, by number, the one that appealed to them most.

303 students smoked and compared the four cigarettes. The test was conducted in a perfectly fair and impartial manner.

The results show that "Cigarette W" won 75 first choices; "Cigarette X" won 74; "Cigarette Y" won 36; and "Cigarette Z" (OLD GOLD) won 118. The preference for OLD GOLD was 57% greater than that for the next highest brand.

FIESTA TO OPEN SERVICE PLANT

Wynns Tire Concern to Give Party for Patrons

New Building Last Word in Automotive Efficiency

Program of Vaudeville and Speaking Arranged

Representing an investment of approximately $500,000, the mammoth new tire and automotive service plant of the Wynns Tire and Rubber Company at East Eighth street and Towne avenue, will be opened formally tonight with an elaborate dedicatory program. Thousands of motorists and fleet operators are expected to respond to the invitation of B. Wynns, head of the company, which is one of the largest of its kind in the world, to inspect the new establishment and enjoy the entertainment program that has been arranged.

Harvey S. Firestone, president of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, and one of the world's most famous manufacturers, is scheduled to deliver the dedicatory address. The Wynns Tire and Rubber Company is one of the largest, if not the largest, Firestone distributor in the United States and as the Wynns organization is declared to have provided in its new establishment the ultimate in service efficiency the noted industrialist is personally interested in inspecting the plant and taking part in its dedication.

DETAILS OF CELEBRATION

Bar Wynns, general sales manager of the Wynns Tire and Rubber Company, who is in charge of the program, announces that the plant will be thrown open for inspection at 7:30 p.m. From then until 8:30 the crowds will have an opportunity to visit the different departments and see the modern equipment and facilities that have been provided for rendering the various services, including scientific brake testing, adjusting and relining, correction of wheel alignment, greasing, tire repairing and retreading, complete electrical service and complete Firestone tire service. On the second floor of the building will be seen the largest stocks of Firestone tires, both solids and pneumatics, carried by any Firestone dealer in the United States.

"When Firestone built its most modern tire factory in Los Angeles, we decided to follow through and build the most modern and complete tire and automotive service," says B. Wynns. "We have installed in our new plant every piece of modern equipment known to the automotive industry to render swift and efficient service in the various operations we cover."

BUILT FOR PURPOSE

The new Wynns Building has a total of 29,987 square feet of floor space. It is of steel frame construction with concrete fire-proofing and walls. The building is so arranged that the service to pleasure cars in no way encounters the entrance and exit for trucks. This feature has attracted wide attention in automotive circles. The area set aside for service to pleasure cars is 5060 square feet, and to trucks, nearly 2000 square feet. The elaborate showroom, where Firestone tires and Wynns batteries are displayed in appropriate settings, has fifty lineal feet of frontage.

The dedicatory program will start tonight at 8:30 o'clock when Billy Green, vaudeville headliner, will assume charge as master of ceremonies. From 8:30 to 9 o'clock there will be musical and vocal selections by Frances St. George, the "radio jazzmania" girl, and Bell and Coates, with Jimmy Base, song writers. The Seven Bandettes Girl Orchestra will play throughout the evening, commencing at 8 o'clock.

PROGRAM OF EVENING

Mr. Firestone is on the program to deliver the dedicatory address at 9 o'clock, and then Bar Wynns will make a distribution of hundreds of dollars' worth of gifts, including Firestone gum-dipped tires and tubes, Wynns "Certified" batteries, an E. and M. Oval-Lite, eastern oil and orders for brake-relining jobs and complete greasing jobs.

The Smart Set Musical Review of eight girls will launch into their presentation at 9:30 and will continue with many other of Campbell Meikeljohn's entertainers until 11 o'clock. From 11 o'clock to midnight dancing will hold sway, with music by the Seven Bandettes Girl Orchestra.

B. Wynns, founder and present head of the Wynns Tire and Rubber Company, is a pioneer merchant of Los Angeles, having first entered the wholesale grocery business here thirty-six years ago. He entered the tire business in 1920 and from a small store on South Main street, has developed a business that today ranks with the leaders of the tire industry.

CHICAGO, March 29. (AP)—Heads full of figures were put together and, as might be expected in the spring of the year, turned to statistics of love and marriage.

GALLEY'S GLORIES DIMMED

Only Traces Left of Ornamentation on Roman Ship Seen as Pumps Lower Lake Level

NEMI (Italy) March 29. (AP)—The stern of a Roman galley which cruised Lake Nemi, "Diana's Mirror," in the days of Christ can be discerned through the limpid waters of the lake as pumps lower them to their level in the days of the first Caesars.

Just the stern is visible, the ship being inclined at a considerable angle. Nothing at all can be seen of a second galley, lying near by on the bottom of the lake, and believed to have been sunk at the same time.

From what is visible of the first galley it can be seen that nineteen centuries under water have damaged it considerably, and that probably there are left only traces of the elaborate ornamentation which archaeologists wish to study.

LOWERING PROCEEDS FAST

The work of lowering the level of the lake, which in the days of Rome's greatness was sacred to Diana, goddess of the chase, has proceeded recently at a greatly increased rate of between five and six centimeters (about two inches) daily, this in spite of a tremendous inflow of water from surrounding hills and flooded rivulets.

As the level of the lake has been lowered various other objects, many of them valuable relics of early Roman life, have been discovered on its bottom. These principally are thought to be the votive offerings of worshipers of Diana, originally enshrined on the shores of the lake and either gradually submerged as the level of the water rose or thrown into it by passing invaders in later centuries.

OTHER ATTEMPTS MADE

Historians disagree as to whether the two galleys of Caligula, as they are called, were sunk with all the luxury of Roman feasts aboard, were stripped and then sunk, or were stripped and then allowed to become waterlogged. It is believed by many, however, that various attempts by divers and others to reach the boats through the centuries may have taken most of whatever treasures they may have had from them.

In the last millenium there have been four attempts of note to salvage the boats, one in 1446, one in 1535, another in 1827, and the fourth and most profitable 1895. To this last is due the relics now on view at the Museo Delle Terme, Rome. In the 1535 attempt a piece of tiling was wrenched from one of the galleys "which was red and of a beautiful tint."

One of the galleys is supposed to be 200 feet long and to lie on the lake bottom at a depth of thirty-five feet, and the other to be 220 feet long and to be forty-five feet below the surface. The attempt to uncover them is purely a governmental project.

DIVORCED WIFE BATTLES WIDOW

First Mrs. Ochsner Charges Architect With Fraud

Estate Worth $9,000,000 at Issue in Court Suit

Former Husband Said to Have Concealed Property

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29. (AP) In an action charging the late W. H. Ochsner, wealthy architect and former Stanford University professor, with fraud in the drafting of a property settlement prior to their divorce in 1925, Mrs Nancy Ochsner Baldy today filed suit against Mrs. Hilda Carling Ochsner for an accounting. The action shows a divorced wife and a widow at odds over the $9,000,000 estate of their former husband.

Mrs. Baldy contends that through the asserted fraudulent settlement she was deprived of $4,500,000 in oil royalties concealed from her by Ochsner. She named as defendants with Mrs. Ochsner the Coast Land Company, Universal Oil Land Company, California Kettleman Oil Royalties Company, Marland Oil Company of California and General Petroleum Company of California.

The plaintiff asked that these companies be restrained from taking more oil from her former husband's holdings in Kern county and other parts of the State pending court adjudication of her claims.

Ochsner lived in Los Angeles after the separation and property settlement. Mrs. Ochsner charges that her husband forced her "by threat, insistence and entreaty" into a small property settlement, then compelled her in the same fashion to divorce him, which she did in Reno in 1925.

Meantime, she charges, he wilfully and fraudulently deceived her as to his financial status, leading her to believe he was impoverished when actually he was wealthy. The community property was valued in their agreement at only $250, she asserted, whereas he actually was worth $9,000,000.

NEW SPORT AT HANFORD

HANFORD, March 29.—Coursing, a new sport here, is to be inaugurated Sunday, with a series of events at the local airport.

CHALDEAN SKELETON DUG UP

Ur Excavators Unearth Bones of Warrior Who Presumably Died About 2650 B.C.

LONDON, March 29. (AP)—The skeleton of a man who is supposed to have lived about 2650 B.C. has been discovered by the joint expedition of the British Museum and the University of Pennsylvania in excavations on the site of Ur of the Chaldees.

The human relic was found in the last grave of an ancient cemetery. The grave is described as the richest of its period yet brought to light.

The skeleton was thought to be that of a man because of the number of copper weapons placed at the head and along the side of the wooden coffin in which lay the crumbling bones. Among the weapons were three of the largest spears that the cemetery has produced. A number of copper vessels and a copper tray made to imitate basketwork and piled with bowls and vases of novel forms were heaped near-by.

The ancient skeleton was richly adorned, six gold fillets crowned the head. Around the neck were three strings of beads of gold colored stone, agate, carnelian, jasper, rarely were found before the time of Sargon of Akkad, early Babylonian king.

On the wrists were four heavy gold bangles and four bangles of silver. Gold rings adorned the fingers. From one of the strings of beads hung a gold amulet in the form of a standing goat, exquisitely modeled, a real gem of miniature sculpture.

The excavators also found some 200 tablets written in an archaic script, one of the oldest forms of writing known in Mesopotamia.

ESTRANGED HUSBAND CUTS THROAT IN COURT

WALNUT CREEK (Cal.) March 29. (AP)—When his wife refused to heed his pleas for a reconciliation, Fred Wiseman, 38 years of age, drew a razor and, standing in the court of Police Judge Duncan, slashed his throat. Mrs. Wiseman announced that if he lives charges of failure to provide, which she has lodged against him, will be pressed.

CENTENARIAN WOMAN DIES

PORTLAND (Or.) March 29. (AP)—Mrs. Allen Love, 101 years of age, a native of Ireland, died here today. She came to America when 20, settling in Boston and later Oxford, O., where she was married in 1856.

30,000 miles with the first-year feel in every mile—probably $150 less expense for repairs and carbon removal the first two years—with the New Mobiloil in your engine!

If the above figures about the New Mobiloil seem like superlative claims, you may be assured that the records on which they are based are even more startling.

"30,000 miles with the first-year feel in every mile"—may seem excessive to you. Actually, the New Mobiloil has preserved the first-year feel in many engines for more than twice this distance.

We suggest that consistent use of the New Mobiloil, plus reasonable care of your engine, will save you probably $150 a year in repair bills. Our test cars have required no major engine repairs or adjustments during test periods comparatively longer than an average year's running.

Finally, we have established in thousands of miles of running tests on speedways, highways and dirt roads, that the New Mobiloil stands up better and consumes more slowly at high speed than other oils—and it is now an accepted engineering fact that the oil which lasts longest and stands up best at high speed also lubricates best at any speed.

Drain and refill regularly with the New Mobiloil, and the assurances we have published here should quickly begin to demonstrate their soundness right in your own engine.

The Rich Tone of a Concert Grand in a tiny KNABE MIGNONETTE

THE Knabe Mignonette Grand was designed for people whose needs require:

1. A piano so rich in tone that any concert artist would be eager to play it.

2. A beautiful piece of furniture.

3. An instrument small enough to be gracefully placed in the limited space of the usual modern apartment.

Come today and see how successfully these demands have been met in the Knabe Mignonette Grand. In mahogany, $1475. With the Ampico, the world-famous reproducing instrument, $3050.

No greater honor can come to a singer or to a piano than to be chosen by the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Pagliacci. The curtain has just come down. Canio, heartbroken by tragedy, sits down to a cheerful game of checkers with Nedda, against whom he will battle in the next act. Presently they follow the examples of the other singers and stroll back to soundproof rooms where they limber up their voices for the next scene. In each room is a piano. Each piano is a Knabe, the official piano of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

To place the Knabe Mignonette Grand immediately in your home, only a 10% initial payment is required. The balance, deducting a generous allowance for your old piano, is distributed over a period of two years.

POPULAR JUVENILE WORKS AGAIN

Billie Dove Will Be Star of Zoe Akins's "Declasse;" Dwan's Next for Fox to Take Place in Alaska; Rowland V. Lee Will Vacation in Europe

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

All the friends and admirers of James Murray, and their name is the well known legion, will be delighted to know that the youth they saw in "The Crowd" will soon be back again on the screen.

JAMES MURRAY

Young Murray has been ill, suffering from a nervous breakdown, during the past several months, but, having gone out on the desert and down to the seashore, where he spent his time convalescing and in healthful sports, he was back at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio yesterday, looking better than he ever has in his life.

He has just been cast for the juvenile lead in Lon Chaney's picture, "Thunder," which William Nigh is directing, and in which Phyllis Haver plays the feminine lead.

But this isn't all the good news. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer have so much faith in the young actor's future, that they are looking about for a story in which to star him, we hear.

BILLIE DOVE WILL STAR IN "DECLASSE"

At last Billie Dove is to have the desire of her heart. She is to star in a big emotional role.

BILLIE DOVE

Miss Dove will play Ethel Barrymore's part in a pictured version of Zoe Akins's "Declasse," to be produced by First National.

The picture will, of course, be a talker, and will be elaborately produced.

While it is not certain who will direct, William Seiter would appear to be the logical one.

"Declasse" was made by First National about six years ago, with Corrine Griffith starred.

Dwan Makes Alaskan Film

Allan Dwan's next picture for Fox will be an Alaskan story called "Frozen Justice," which is to be a Movietone production.

Allan Dwan

But Dwan will not make the picture alone. His co-director, who will have charge of the dialogue, will be none other than Lester Lonergan, for long a stage star and later a stage director in New York, who has lately come west under contract to Fox.

There is a possibility that George O'Brien will star in the picture.

According to word received yesterday, it is likely that Dwan and Lonergan will take their company to Alaska for some of the "shots," although, of course, it is possible that Dwan and a cameraman may take the trip alone, to procure scenes which may be used as background and as atmosphere, matching up with studio sets.

Marcin With United Artists

Max Marcin, well-known Broadway playwright, has returned to town from New York. His mission is to produce for United Artists a talking film version of his highly successful play of a few years ago entitled "Three Live Ghosts."

So far no actors have been chosen for the leading roles, but it is expected that casting will shortly be commenced.

Rowland V. Lee to Europe

Just as soon as Rowland V. Lee completes "The Insidious Dr. Fu Manchu," which he is making for Paramount, the director will hie him to Europe for a three months' vacation. He expects to motor through Italy, France and Spain, with a stop-off, of course, in good old England.

Florence Oakley Ill

Florence Oakley, wife of Lewis Stone, is very ill, suffering from influenza. She was removed from her apartment at the Gaylord last Wednesday and is in the Hollywood Hospital.

Miss Oakley lately distinguished herself in a return to the stage by playing the lead at the Belasco in "The Royal Family." She has lately been taking tests for talking pictures.

EAST SIDE, WEST SIDE IN SOUND

"Speakeasy" Goes "All Around the Town;" at Criterion Today

"Speakeasy" opens its engagement at the Fox-Criterion Theater today.

The third of the new Fox all-talking pictures of the first rank is said to be a worthy successor to "In Old Arizona" and "Hearts in Dixie." The drama has New York for its background.

The cast of "Speakeasy" includes two new Broadway speaking - stage stars, Paul Page and Lola Lane. The other players are Henry B. Walthall, Helen Ware, Warren Hymer, Stuart Erwin, Sharon Lynn, Erville Alderson, James Guilfoyle, Helen Lynch, Sailor Billy Vincent, Marjorie Beebe and Ivan Linow.

The settings for the talk and action of "Speakeasy" include Madison Square Garden, the New York subway, Grand Central Station, an underground night club palace, editorial rooms of the New York World, Times Square and the streets of New York, East Side, West Side and all around the town.

Benjamin Stoloff directed "Speakeasy" from the play by Edward Knobloch and George Rosener.

"Speakeasy" broke all Roxy Theater records in New York. It played to 31,000 persons in one day and to 270,000 in two weeks, breaking the "In Old Arizona" record as well as the world's indoor amusement record. It was held over for three weeks at the Roxy.

The bill at the Fox-Criterion is all-talking this week except for the overture.

BACH REVERED IN CANTATA CONCERT

Crain Conducts Chorales of Father of Music With Beauty and Reverence

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Bach Cantata Society, directed by Hal Davidson Crain, gave the second program of the season as a Good Friday service in the Superet Church last evening. The chorales were sung with care and reverence and as an innovation, Calmon Luboviski and Harry Ben Gronsky played the Bach double concerto. Mrs. Alard de Ridder gave three spiritual songs in an uplifted mood, one of which was accompanied charmingly by herself on the violoncello. Charles Henri de la Plate sang a bass aria with an all-pervading resonance and the solo quartet was composed of Aria Calve, Dione Neutra, Aurora Berg and Robert Kehoe.

The privilege of listening to these rarely heard works of the great Johann Sebastien Bach sung as they are by this Los Angeles group, in all reverence and with true Bachian simplicity, is of inestimable value. To attend these programs is an act of music worship and brings one closer to the source of beauty in sound.

The Cantata Society is making strides toward unity, precision and tonal beauty. It takes years to make a fine Bach chorus but the result is worthy of years. Raymond McFeeters completed the performance of the Bach concerto for two violins with excellent work at the piano. The slow movement of this violin number was full of fine feeling and surprising depth, when one considers the age of the youngster who played second violin.

The next Bach concert is to be given in May.

Fleeing Actress Breaks Record

Ruth Donnelly, appearing as Violet, the mannequin in the forthcoming "Little Orchid Annie" at the Mayan is not a track athlete but nevertheless will go down in history as a ten-second flat runner.

It seems that the New York and Chicago leading lady gladly accepted Rowland and Pearce's offer to come to Los Angeles so that she could avoid any more of the numerous gun fights she had seen on the Chicago streets while appearing in a six-months' engagement there. The number of these, she relates, was three.

The other morning she left her gloves back stage at the Mayan Theater during a rehearsal of "Little Orchid Annie," which has its premiere at the Mayan Thursday night. She returned for the gloves during the matinee performance of "Squawk," the burlesque on gunmen. Not knowing the show, she had just entered the property room to inquire for the missing articles, when the terrific machine-gun fire started.

The stage hands swear she ran from the stage door to the street corner in ten seconds flat.

'Mrs. Rube' in Dancing Return

One of the surprises of the new Panchon and Marco stage program this week at Loew's State, is the return of Mrs. Rube Wolf to the footlights as a dancer.

Rube, as master of ceremonies, introduces his "better half" in a novel manner. While presenting the various "sweethearts" on the bill, the conductor confides to the audience that the next performer has not been seen on the stage in over two years, but that she was formerly one of Panchon and Marco's most popular dancers and has decided to return to the footlights.

"If you like her, I will tell you whose sweetheart she is," he concludes. They do—and he does.

The next Bach concert is to be given in May.

DENNY'S STORY

One of the most prominent author-playwrights in the country has written a stage play for Reginald Denny's consideration. So pleased was the Universal comedy star that negotiations were immediately started for its purchase. The secrecy surrounding the name of the story and its author is said to be due to the keen competition for suitable talking material at present.

Here's "Little Orchid Annie"

Ruth Taylor

Plays her in the new theatrical property which A. Leslie Pearce and Ed W. Rowland will exhibit on the stage of the Mayan Theater, Thursday evening.

Opening-Night Microphone to Work Overtime

The premiere of "Coquette," Mary Pickford's first all-talking picture, will be embellished by the most extensive broadcast of voice of motion-picture stars to date. The United Artists Theater has arranged with Walter Fagan, president of Pacific Wholesale Company, to broadcast the event over radio KPLA. More than 200 stars will speak over the microphone.

Another piece of news emanating from the United Artists today is the fact that Jack Benny, who has broken some kind of record for laughs by being held over at the Orpheum for five weeks, will be master of microphonics. He will introduce the stars.

Another topnotcher in the amusement world who will be on hand to sing "Coquette," Irving Berlin's theme song for the Pickford talkie, is Nick Lucas. Nick will bring his guitar and make merry over the "mike," too.

Some of those who will broadcast their greetings under Benny's guidance Wednesday evening from 8:30 to 9:30 will be Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Dolores del Rio, Dorothy Mackaill, Buddy Rogers, June Collyer, Colleen Moore, John McCormick, Clarence Brown, Jetta Goudal, Emil Jannings, Herbert Brenon, Holmes Herbert, Alan Hale, Johnny Hines, George Sidney.

William Boyd's First Audible Effort Slated

William Boyd's first talking picture, "The Leatherneck," will be given its premiere at the Hillstreet Theater tomorrow.

DIANE ELLIS

In the cast supporting Boyd are Alan Hale, Robert Armstrong, Fred Kohler and Diane Ellis. The picture, described as an adventurous story of two marines and a German soldier cemented in a bond of undying friendship, was directed by Howard Higgin under the supervision of Ralph Block.

Featured on the vaudeville program is Rae Samuels, hailed as the blue streak of syncopation. Other acts include Sid Marion, Pilcer and Douglas, Princess Pat, Atterbury and Gillum, and Herbert and Bolt Trio.

"Swan" Invited to Travel Road

The services of Edward Everett Horton and his star company currently playing in "The Swan" at the Majestic Theater, are reported in demand throughout the United States. The complete success of "The Swan," which is now in next to its last week, has attracted nation-wide attention resulting in invitations for the Horton troupe to play in many eastern cities. It is believed that this is one of the rare cases of a New York producer bidding for a local production.

Needless to say, the flattering offer to tour had to be refused because of advanced plays scheduled, and motion-picture contracts awaiting some members of the cast.

Those in the acting list greatly responsible for the success of "The Swan" are Edward Everett Horton, Lois Wilson, Ralph Forbes, Helen Ware, Jessie Arnold, Mary Forbes, Mitchell Harris, Charles Quartermaine, Byron Sage and Kit Wain.

STAR POPULAR

The popularity of the screen's stars was never better demonstrated than recently during the stage tour of Molly O'Day, former First National luminary. The reception accorded royalty in Europe would not have measured up in crowds to those who turned out for the appearance of this player. Miss O'Day is at present concluding her tour in San Francisco and is expected to resume film work upon her return next week.

STUDIO THEATER A HOPE FOR FUTURE

Laguna Beach Will Have Its Own Art Playhouse Soon; Current Doings

Poessessing no theater devoted to the spoken drama, and being sixty miles from Los Angeles, Laguna Beach has and is still having a theatrical problem of its own to wrestle with. There can be no doubt of a successful issue, however, since the Studio Theater, founded and financed by Harold McCormick, looms brightly on a not too distant horizon.

Meanwhile, before the erection of the Studio Theater, whose placement offers another problem, two little theaters are giving monthly performances at the Community Club, each organization having two months of preparation for its chosen play. The two are the Community Players and the Little Art Theater. The first named is now directed by George Dunham, who succeeded Mrs. Guy Bates Post on her resignation. The second is under the guidance of Wayne Moore, and has been for some years.

George Dunham is a graduate of "47 Workshop," Harvard's famous school of acting, directing and playwriting. His first offering was given last week on Friday and Saturday evenings, and it was perhaps the most finished production ever given at Laguna Beach. Indeed, it ranks with any little-theater production given anywhere, and director as well as actors are wearing—even flaunting a little—plumes of honor.

The drama committee chose a play particularly well suited to Laguna audiences, "Expressing Willie," by Rachel Crothers. The actors were selected with the same good judgment, and all Dunham had to do was to step forward and direct—and incidentally teach everybody how to act. How well he performed these little-theater functions may be guessed from the fact that Benjamin Horning, old and experienced actor and director, asked permission from the editor of the Laguna Beach News to review the play—and from a strictly professional standpoint. One woman in the audience remarked that the performance was not like a professional one, nor an amateur one, but like nature itself. Many a famous actor would be pleased with such an encomium.

The people in the cast were Isabel Hollister, Roberta Williams, Rachel Coll, Alicia Hall, Marshall Ford, Nathan Wilson, Antony Anderson, Sumner Crosby and Leo Wilson—all citizens of Laguna Beach.

Dunham is now at Claremont directing the pageant to be held there. On his return he will direct the May production of the Community Players. The Little Art Theater's comedy for April, to be directed by Wayne Moore, is "Mrs. Temple's Telegram."

STUDIO ARTISANS TO GATHER FOR FROLIC

An Easter Monday ball will be given at the El Patio Ballroom on Monday by the carpenters from every motion-picture studio in the city.

An elaborate program of entertainment has been prepared for this third annual frolic. Ethlyne Claire, 1929 baby Wampus star, will be the guest of honor. Rachel Leeds and Georgie Harris will be masters of ceremony. Among the vaudeville acts and dance specialties that will be presented are Mona Rya, "Topsy" of Universal's "Uncle Tom's Cabin;" Dona Lane, an Earle Wallace dancer; Caloia and Burgess, Elizabeth and Barnard and many others.

The entire motion-picture industry is supporting this ball.

PAUL IRVING EXPERT IN WEIRD PORTRAITS

Paul Irving, who is to play the whimsical, never-quite-certain Carraway Pim in A. A. Milne's engaging comedy, "Mr. Pim Passes By," the next Los Angeles Repertory Theater production at the Figueroa Playhouse, beginning Monday evening, has made a life study of weird and unusual characterizations.

Practically all his stage work has been given to this type of acting. His first professional engagement was in "High Jinks," under the management of Arthur Hammerstein.

"Mr. Pim Passes By" will be given for two weeks. Nance O'Neil in "The House of Women," departs this evening.

'HIGH ROAD' SLATED BY WOODWARD

Lonsdale Comedy Will be First Production; Scenery Brought from East

The first play to be announced by O. D. Woodward on his new production program at the Music Box Theater in Hollywood is the comedy, "The High Road," by Frederick Lonsdale.

When the play opens on April 13, it will be presented with all effectiveness with which it was given at the Fulton Theater in New York, where it enjoyed a long and successful run. Woodward has secured the entire eastern production, including scenery, costumes and electrical effects.

The story of the comedy concerns itself with a member of British aristocracy who falls in love with an actress. Instead of "treating her as a gentleman would," he insists on marrying her. The complications which arise are felicitious for the audience, and the lines drip with wit and sarcasm.

With a cast headed by John Bowers, under the expert direction of O. D. Woodward, the Lonsdale piece promises to be one of the bright spots of the theatrical season.

Russia Brought to Footlights by Oatmanites

Russia, the savage splendor of its gypsies in contrast to the proud melancholy of its aristocracy, is nowhere more powerfully interpreted than in Tolstoy's "Redemption." In presenting it Thursday night the Marta Oatman Players captured the spirit of wild gayety, and at moments displayed a true understanding of its deeper tragedy. The production was marked by the players' earnest efforts toward restraint and sincerity. The ten changes of scenery moved with agreeable alacrity and the sets by Edward Dwight Saterlee were charming bits of simplicity.

Most outstanding was that of the gypsy camp, where the singing, dancing and brilliant colors of the costumes created a startling effect. There was perhaps too much of it, but the fire and grace of one dancer, Laura Lois January, were in themselves a delight.

Of the performances, the following stood out: That of Charles Carroll, Prince Sergius, for its ease; Louis Reina's in the difficult role of Feyda, for its emotional quality, and Alita Vernay's, for the dignity with which she handled the part of Lisa. The cast was a tremendous one and contained several clever minor characterizations, principally those of Helen Hinkel, Sally Irish and William Robertson.

The main criticism would be that there was not enough light or shade, the tendency being to make everything important. Regardless, this group of players is to be congratulated for its enthusiastic endeavor, and Miss Oatman for her direction. The performance was repeated last night, with changes in the characters.

Schultheis Will Play at Million

Gustav Schultheis, organist from the Chimes Theater, Oakland, has been signed by Simon Lazarus, and will begin an engagement at the Million Dollar tomorrow with an Easter morning organ recital, playing classical and sacred music. Hereafter Sunday morning organ concerts will be featured at this theater.

Schultheis is also prominent in musical circles as a composer, and his group of Swedish folk songs are highlights of Mme. Onegin's repertoire. Other of his best-known compositions include "The Cavalier," light opera which enjoyed a lengthy run at the Nollendorf Theater, Berlin, and concert arias sung by the Lombardi Opera Company.

As a prelude to Richard Dix's new starring picture, "Redskin," now playing at the Million Dollar, Schultheis will render a group of Indian selections.

CORDOVA PLAY SHOP GIVES ONE-ACTERS

Three dramatic one-act plays and one comedy playlet scored a decided hit with first nighters at the Cordova Play Shop last night.

The four productions which mark the first one-act plays to be presented at this popular little theater in over a year, include the following:

"The Rushlight," by Monica Bany O'Shea, with Tui Lorraine Bow, stepmother of Clara Bow, Lillian Rivers and John Jacob Schaffer; a highly dramatic play of old Ireland.

"Mammy Lou," by Charles Royal, with Lyle Van Auken, Dolly Randall, Russel Schonfeld and John Jacob Schaffer.

"Trouble Brewing," a comic "recipe" on how to make home brew, with Consuelo Dawn and Jack Stone scoring in the only two roles.

"The Shock," by Isidore Barnstein, drama, with Rosa Rosanova starring, wound up the evening's program. Rosanova once again repeated her success in this play, which she has appeared in all over the country. Andrew Dunton, billed equally with Rosanova, offered a good characterization. George Bodge was seen in the remaining supporting role.

The program will be repeated in its entirety tonight.

BOTELER AT HILLSTREET

Wade Boteler, feature character actor who will be seen next week at the Hillstreet as the gunnery sergeant in "The Leatherneck," the William Boyd starring vehicle, has discovered that past careers do not necessarily influence film parts for, with a record of many months in the Regular Army during the World War, Boteler is invariably chosen for roles in pictures depicting other branches of the service. Wade, who recently finished work in "The Gob" for M.-G.-M. has a long list of officer's roles to his credit showing him many times in the Navy, marines and naval aviation, but there is just one production in which he is in the Army.

BISHOP'S BILL BREWS STORM

Fraternities' Legalization Enrages Educators

Undoes Work of Years, Says State School Head

Assembly Passage Laid to Pages' Lobbying

SACRAMENTO, March 29. (Exclusive)—Much to the amusement of at least a portion of the Legislature, the bill of Assemblyman Bishop of Oakland legalizing high-school fraternities is brewing a storm, which bids fair to rattle the walls of the Capitol before it finally subsides. Mr. Bishop's measure has already passed the Assembly, receiving forty-two favorable votes there, and is on file with the Senate Education Committee.

Senator Slater of Santa Rosa, chairman of the committee, announced today that at the next meeting of the committee, Wednesday night, a date for a public hearing on the bill will be set.

Meanwhile thunderous protests against the fraternity bill are flooding in on members of the Senate and thunderous denunciations are coming from dignified Senators, whose names customarily are linked with grave matters like industrial regulation and State revenues.

AUTHOR SURPRISED

Mr. Bishop, who admits to some surprise that the Assembly passed his bill, declares that fraternities exist sub rosa and it will be better to legalize them with supervision. His bill provides that a faculty member shall belong to the fraternity and oversee its activities.

It is doubtful if the measure ever would have left the Assembly committee had not the Assembly pages organized and attended the hearing, where they argued their case against leading educators and won their points. The boys then filtered through the Assembly chamber, lobbied their bill and tied up sufficient votes to bring success.

"The secret fraternity, which the bill seeks to legalize," said State Superintendent of Public Instruction Kersey, "had no legitimate or logical place in the school system. We have been trying for years to rid the schools of its influence."

EDUCATORS IN ARMS

The California Association of Secondary School Principals at its convention yesterday adopted a resolution calling for the defeat of the Bishop bill and quoting from a resolution sponsored by the National Education Association opposing secret fraternities.

Senator Murphy of San Francisco, who also is president of the San Francisco Board of Education, and Senator Nelson of Eureka, both have made statements voicing vigorous opposition to the bill.

Meanwhile the Legislature is waiting to see if the Senate pages are as good politicians as their confreres in the Assembly.

NANKING FORCES DEFEAT REBELS

Wusueh Reported Captured by Nationalists

Wuhan Leaders Prepare for Stand Below Hankow

Crisis Believed at Hand in Struggle of Factions

HANKOW (China) March 29. (AP) Dispatches reporting the capture of Wusueh by the Nanking forces have created a feeling of tenseness in the Wuhan cities, center of the opposition to the Nanking central government.

The public tension was increased and uneasiness was wide-spread because of reports coming in that the Nanking troops were advancing up the Yangtse River and Wusueh. The Wuhan leaders are sending additional troops down the river in an attempt to block the Ninking advance and a sharp engagement is expected.

Every indication is that the situation in the area is approaching a crisis in the struggle between the Nanking government and the Wuhan opposition. However, it is understood that the Wuhan leaders have completed plans for the evacuation of Hankow and a withdrawal across the Yangtse to consolidate their positions in Hunan, not considering the loss of the Wuhan cities as vital. The provinces of Hunan, Kwangsi and Kwangtung are regarded as the real heart of the Kwangsi group.

NATIONALISTS DENY CANTON CHIEF DEAD

NANKING (China) March 29. (AP) The Nationalist government tonight officially denied reports that Li Chai-Sum, Governor of Canton, had been executed.

The government indicated that Li Chai-Sum would be held prisoner for the duration of hostilities between Nanking forces and the Kwang-Si opposition leaders, of whom Li was one. After the end of fighting his case will be further considered.

Li Chai-Sum had been several times reported executed by President Chiang Kai-Shek in defiance of the guarantee of safety given the Canton leader by three high members of the Nationalist government itself.

Wu Tze-Hui, one of these guarantors, was said to have threatened to commit suicide if Li Chai-Sum were executed. It had been denied previously that Wu had actually carried out his threat.

SHIP SINKS IN CRASH OFF AUSTRALIA COAST

MELBOURNE (Australia) March 29. (AP)—The Norwegian cargo steamer Selje was sunk west of Cape Otway today in collision with the Union cargo steamer Kaituna. The Selje was carrying 114,000 bags of wheat valued at $365,000 to Great Britain. The crew was rescued by the Kaituna, which was proceeding to Melbourne. Her bows were crushed, however, and she wirelessed for assistance.

Radio-Keith-Orpheum in Deal for String

Purchase Price Given as $14,000,000 Cash

SAN DIEGO, March 29, (AP)—The Radio-Keith-Orpheum combination is negotiating the final steps in the purchase of the Pantages Vaudeville Circuit and all theaters and buildings now owned and leased by Pantages, for $14,000,000 cash, Alexander Pantages, head of the circuit, announced tonight.

Pantages, spending the week-end at Agua Caliente, Mex., denied that the sale to the combination had been completed, but declared that it is going through. He also denied knowledge of any other group trying to buy Pantages circuit. A rumor, coming by dispatches from New York, said that a rival to Radio-Keith-Orpheum had made a last-minute offer to Pantages, outbidding R.-K.-O. by $1,000,000.

The Pantages vaudeville circuit includes fifty-two theaters stretching from a group of fifteen houses along the Pacific Coast from San Diego into Canada, to a theater in Newark, N. J.

Group Convicted of Stock Fraud in Canario Case

NEW YORK, March 29. (AP)—The Locke brothers, Herbert T. and John C., George F. Shurtleff, their brother-in-law, and Harry C. Carragher were convicted by a jury today of a charge of use of the mails to defraud and of conspiracy to defraud. John Carter Anderson, mining engineer, was convicted of conspiracy, but was found not guilty of using the mails to defraud.

The five men were associated with the now defunct brokerage house of Cameron Mickel & Co., through which the government said more than 23,000 investors in stock of the Canario Copper Company had been defrauded of $5,000,000. One of the chief means of sales promotion was national distribution of literature urging Canario as a good investment.

The five will be sentenced in Federal court next Friday.

More Embassy Liquor Arrives

BALTIMORE, March 29. (AP)—The British steamer Maryland with "embassy" liquor for foreign diplomats at Washington included in the cargo brought from London docked here today. Because it was Good Friday, however, a holiday was observed and the Maryland's cargo was not unloaded.

Officials of the Atlantic Transport Company, American agents for the ship, do not know how much liquor is aboard but said that most ships from London bring some, and estimate that the Maryland carries fifty or more cases. It is expected that after the unloading embassy representatives will take charge of the liquor, presenting proper credentials to identify them and the trucks on which it will be hauled to Washington.

Condemnation Suits Ordered in Road Project

SACRAMENTO, March 29. (AP)—Condemnation suits against certain property owners along the route of the bay shore highway between San Mateo and Redwood City were ordered at a meeting of the California Highway Commission here today.

The commission's action followed a discussion between members of the board and B. B. Meek, director of the Department of Public Works, concerning the action of the Southern Pacific Company in building a spur track across the line selected for the highway and into an area where there are no users to be served.

Members of the commission and Meek declared the railroad's move would defeat the very purpose for which the bay shore highway is being constructed.

Perry Pays Fine to Recover Auto

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29. (AP) John Perry, retired, of New York and Pebble Beach, paid a fine of $929.50 to the government today to obtain the release of his new $4000 automobile, which had been seized by customs officers.

The car was held by the government agents when it was unloaded here last week from the steamer Virginia. The agents asserted the tonneau of the machine was filled with imported liquor, which, they said, Perry was trying to smuggle into the country.

Marching Forward with the Pacific Coast

Contemplated improvements and expansion in Bell Telephone facilities on the Pacific Coast will call for an expenditure of $272,000,000 in the next five years—$59,500,000 in the Los Angeles area alone.

Many improvements have been accomplished

To Our Patrons:

Providing telephone service of a constantly improving quality is a responsibility that we regard as a public trust.

1928 saw many important improvements in service. The 1929 budgets, for Southern California for further extensions of telephone plant and equipment will be 50% higher than last year.

Contemplated new investment in plant and equipment in the Pacific Coast territory during the next five years will exceed $272,000,000 of which $97,500,000 will go into Southern California and $59,500,000 into the 200 square miles which may be considered the heart of Los Angeles.

In the five years just closed we have invested nearly $60,000,000 in the telephone facilities of Los Angeles.

Following are some of the accomplishments for the improvement of Los Angeles telephone service during 1928:

Expansion of Plant

The extensive construction program initiated in 1918 with an average expenditure of over $9,500,000 per year was continued and increased—about $14,000,000 being put into new telephone facilities locally in 1928.

More than 23,500 telephones were added to the Los Angeles exchange, making 357,500 in service at the close of the year.

Improvement in Speed, Accuracy and Quality of Service

Special equipment and operating methods that greatly increase the speed of service in the late night and early morning hours were put into use in many central offices (in process in others).

New equipment and methods were adopted that speed trunk connections at all hours and greatly increase their accuracy.

Arrangements were made for the hours between 5:00 p.m. and 8:30 a.m. and for Sundays and holidays, whereby patrons desiring restoration of service or relief in other telephone emergencies can secure such service by calling the business office.

The quality of speech transmission was materially improved by introduction of special technical apparatus.

The average time over the Pacific System for making long distance connections has been reduced from over 6 minutes in 1924 to 1 minute 48 seconds in 1928. About 96% of all out-of-town calls are now handled while the subscriber remains at the telephone, as compared with 62% two years ago.

The average time required to install service has been reduced from the 5 days required two years ago to 2 days in 1928.

Two years ago it required 13 days to deliver the new directory to our patrons in the larger cities. The total time now required has been reduced to 7 days.

Two and One-half Billion Calls Handled

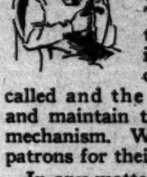
Two and a half billion calls were handled in the Pacific System in 1928 with a smaller degree of error than we ever before attained. The percentage of calls handled without error was 98.6.

More work has been done than ever before in bringing to our patrons the information that will enable them to co-operate more effectively in attaining, as nearly as humanly possible, perfection in telephone communication. This was accomplished by demonstrations, visits to subscribers' premises and other practical forms of educational effort.

Additional information service and facilities for quicker correction of service difficulties day and night were brought into use.

In accordance with our policy of continuously improving and broadening the service, a bureau to provide the Time of Day (STandard 8900) was established which began functioning February 1 of this year.

Our Interests The Same as Those of The Patrons We Serve



The telephone renders a very personal type of public service. Telephoning is a mutual undertaking that involves the person calling, the person called and the people who operate and maintain the delicate telephone mechanism. We are grateful to our patrons for their co-operation.

In any matters affecting telephone management or policy that are not clear and satisfactory to our customers, we ask for an opportunity to mutually discuss and adjust such issues to the satisfaction of all concerned. Our interests are the same as yours. The development of communications and the progress of this region are one.

There is no standing still in the Bell System. With your sympathetic understanding we shall continue to go forward, providing a better and better telephone service more and more free from imperfections and delays.

FARM-AID BILL PATH CLEARED

Senator Watson Outlines Measure's Scope

No Equalization Fee Will be Incorporated

Hoover's Speeches Taken as Guiding Policy

WASHINGTON, March 29. (AP)—An emphatic declaration as to the scope of the new farm-relief bill, coupled with an announcement that relief legislation will receive first call at the special session of Congress, was made today by Senator Watson of Indiana, the new Republican leader.

This announcement, made while both the Senate and House Agricultural committees again were in session, received the immediate attention of those interested in farm legislation. This interest was manifested as a number of this group all along have viewed the hearings largely as a matter of form and have not expected them to be productive of any new ideas.

NO EQUALIZATION FEE

Senator Watson flatly declared that the new bill would not have an equalization fee and that it would be modeled closely along the lines laid down by the Republican National Convention and by President Hoover in his speeches at West Branch, Iowa, and Elizabethton, Tenn., during the campaign. At the same time Mr. Hoover recommended a federal farm board with authority to help co-operative marketing associations and to build up stabilization agencies with initial capital from the government. He also insisted upon any proposal looking toward a subsidy or fee or tax upon the farmer.

Senator Watson, who has been a frequent visitor at the farm hearings, said these pronouncements of the President seemed to him to be "a sufficient answer" to anyone who contended that Mr. Hoover has not outlined the actual terms of the bill and also to those who argued that he might be induced to favor the equalization fee.

NIGHT SESSION

From the first there has been little belief that the new bill would have an equalization fee. At present the chief points under consideration are the extent of authority to be given the Federal farm board and whether specific provision should be made for restraint of production in times when surpluses of crops prevail.

The committees ground away on the farm problem with the senate committee ordering a night session tomorrow night to speed its work.

The testimony before both to a large extent duplicated that presented in previous years.

American Flag Wins Cheers in Constantinople

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 29. (AP)—Large Turkish crowds today viewed the first American flag to be hoisted before the monument to the Turkish republic in Constantinople when Vice-Admiral John H. Dayton and officers and sailors of the battleship U.S.S. Raleigh laid a wreath on it. The monument depicts President Mustapha Kemal and the Anatolian soldiers and others who gave their lives in the early war for independence.

The Raleigh's band played the Turkish national anthem at the conclusion of the ceremony. Vice-Admiral Dayton is in command of the United States naval forces in European waters.

Carol in Paris to Meet Marie

PARIS, March 29. (AP) — Prince Carol of Rumania returned to Paris today from Normandy, where he met his mother, Dowager Queen Marie, who is now on a visit in Spain. He said he was enjoying splendid golf and refused absolutely to discuss reports that Mihail Manoilesco and Prince Stirbey were coming to Paris to escort him back to the bedside of his father.

"The weather we're having is just now," said the Prince. The Rumanian Legation avers that Manoilesco is in Paris at present on his own business and has no appointment to see Prince Carol and has no intention of seeking one.

Garland Goes to Europe for Olympic Meet

William May Garland, president of the California Tenth Olympiad Association, sailed from New York yesterday for Cherbourg on the Ile de France, according to word received here last night. Accompanying Garland was LeRoy Sanders, director in the association. They will attend the International Olympic committee session at Lausanne, Switzerland, on April 8-11. There they will confer with delegates from forty-eight leading nations on plans for sending representatives to the Tenth Olympic Games in Los Angeles in 1932.

TROJAN NETMEN LOSE TO CARDS

Drop All Six Matches in League Court Match

The Stanford racket wielders scored their second Coast Conference victory yesterday over the University of Southern California at the Los Angeles Tennis Club by a 6-0 score. The Redshirts took all four of the singles and both doubles for a clean sweep.

Capt. John Wheatley of Stanford was the only singlist forced to extra games when Franny Hardy, Trojan captain, came near taking the initial set. Wheatley won by 10-8 and 6-2. The remaining five matches were won by the Palo Altans in easy sets.

Alan Herrington administered a defeat to John Doeg, eighth ranking United States player, in an exhibition tilt preceding the series. The former Stanford captain won after three hard-fought sets from his national rival, 4-6, 6-1, 8-6.

Out at Eagle Rock, Occidental trimmed the Bears from Berkeley by a 4-2 score. The Tigers took the first three singles, defaulted the fourth singles, and split even in the two doubles. Shirley Ward was given the fourth singles when the Oxy

TITLE BATTLE IS POSTPONED

Morgan-Zorilla Contest is Put Off Two Days

Boil on Champion's Leg Puts Go Over to Thursday

Commissioner Woods Grants Request of Olympic

BY PAUL LOWRY

Tod Morgan, the original hard-luck kid when it comes to injuries, is the victim of another physical ailment — almost on the eve of his junior lightweight championship fight with Santiago Zorilla.

And this newest ailment — a boil on the calf of his right leg yesterday resulted in a two-day postponement of the titular engagement scheduled for next Tuesday night at the Olympic.

After hearing the report of Dr. Lloyd Mace, the State Athletic Commission's physician, Commissioner James Woods readily granted the request of the Olympic management for a postponement of the fight to Thursday night.

EXPECT BIGGER CROWD

With the exception of smaller, outlying clubs, the new date does not conflict with any other bouts scheduled for the week, and the Olympic management anticipates an even heavier attendance at its championship bout—the fourth held in this city since the ten-round law was passed over four years ago.

Although Dr. Mace said Morgan would have been able to fight on Tuesday night, he added it would hardly have been fair to ask him to risk his title under the conditions. The boil, which was lanced and the core removed yesterday, forced a let-down in Morgan's training preparations and the granted respite will put him back where he was before the interference.

The postponement met with the approval of Wirt Ross, manager of the challenger, who said Zorilla had been going it hot and heavy at the Main-street gymnasium and would welcome a let-down.

ZORILLA IS READY

Zorilla is already under the championship weight of 130 pounds, and will have no trouble on that score. Morgan never has been annoyed by weight making, and the let-down necessitated by the boil will not bother him as far as poundage is concerned.

Curiously, there seems to be some sort of jinx hovering over Morgan each time he fights Zorilla.

While preparing for a defense of his title with the little black boy

Bruins After Games With Island Nine

HONOLULU, March. 29. (AP) With the baseball season only beginning, negotiations are under way for games here with several mainland teams.

"The University of California at Los Angeles and the Olympic Club at San Francisco have requested games with local teams this summer. The games will be played if the schedule can be arranged.

American Legion officials of Hawaii and California are trying to schedule a baseball series here in the fall between Hawaii and California junior champions. Plans failed for Christmas games; the football schedule has listed all playing fields.

STARS WALLOP SENATORS, 15-4

Johns Twirls Hollywood to First Win of Season

SACRAMENTO, March 29.—Hollywood broke into the "win" column of the Coast League with a vengeance today, walloping Sacramento, 15 to 4, after dropping the first three games of the season.

Red Johns, Hollywood southpaw, was on the mound for the Sheiks and had things his own way, save for a single inning, in which the Solons scored three of their four tallies. On the other hand, the Stars had a field day at bat, blasting out twenty hits off the combined deliveries of Kinney, Gould, Freitas and Osborne.

What started out to be a left-handed pitching duel became simply left-handed pitching after two innings. A run in the first frame, resulting from a walk to Rollings, a stolen base, and Rumler's single was but a tip-off on what was coming later.

KINNEY IS ROUTED

In the second inning big trouble started for Mr. Kennedy, Maloney walked and Bassler singled. Johns hit to Kinney and, when the Solon tried to trap Maloney between third and home, the Star second-sacker scored when Kinney hit him in the back with a thrown ball. Lee went out, but Rollings singled to score Bassler and Rehg's hit brought in

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

A MATCHMAKER'S LAMENT

IF YOU want the lowdown on the troubles of a matchmaker of the mat get the rumbles from Lou Daro these days. The Hon. Daro has carded the sensational Mr. (Dynamite Gus) Sonnenberg, who carried the flying tackle from Dartmouth football fields into wrestling's realm, for a local defense of his new heavyweight crown next week.

The opposition is Mr. Stanley Stasiak, the giant Pole. It looks like a "beeg show," as the Hon. Daro would say in referring to the matter—opposition and all.

But it would be much "beeger," more ballyhooed as the boys say, if the Hon. Daro had more ammunition to work with.

The chief ammunition in this case is not Mr. Stasiak, the giant Pole. He has been seen in our midst before and has not been found wanting. The "Big Bertha" of the Hon. Daro's cannon pile is Mr. (Dynamite Gus) Sonnenberg, the champion.

And the champion is on the missing list. He has been variously reported on the eve of arrival ever since the first of the week. It was first Tuesday, then Thursday, then Friday, then Saturday, and finally, it is to be tomorrow morning.

It seems that in straying away from the old family hearth back in Boston Mr. (Dynamite Gus) Sonnenberg has become simply infatuated with the marvelous scenery of new regions. And in the process of observing the scenery Mr. (Dynamite Gus) Sonnenberg is reported to have been somewhere in the upper reaches of the State since early in the week—training by degrees and scenery observing by the mile.

NOT THE LEWIS TYPE

THIS is the situation that confronts the Hon. Daro and has caused him to lose four nights of sleep even though a resident of the "fastest growing city," where peace and calm stalk hand in hand.

The Hon. Daro is accustomed to great feats of showmanship. He is the world's foremost showman as a mat promoter. On and off the mat Ed (Strangler) Lewis, the former champ, is the prize athletic showman. The Hon. Daro and Mr. Lewis working hand in glove as it were can steam up a show to fever pitch.

But it appears that Mr. (Dynamite Gus) is not as versatile as Mr. Lewis. He is a showman on the mat, but the ways of the ballyhoo are verdant pastures to him. Gus has much to learn.

And that is causing the Hon. Daro great anguish of mind. Here it is four days before the Hon. Daro's "beeg" show—a vital moment—and "Dynamite" is out scenery gazing, miles away from this city.

If there is gazing to be done the Hon. Daro would love to do it himself—gaze on the map of "Dynamite Gus" and rush a battery of photographers to the focal point.

The Hon. Daro craves amunition—pictures, talks, human interest stories, sob stories. "Dynamite Gus" is hot copy, but "Dynamite Gus" is elusive. And that's why the Hon. Daro frets even forgetting in his distress the throbs of a punctured finger which was injured in the excitement of his last blistering show at the Olympic.

LOUGHRAN TOO CLASSY

BEFORE Stub Nelson beats him to it the blushing proprietor of this column wishes to rise and remark that the Walker-Loughran bout developed along orthodox lines the other night—as predicted.

RIVAL TRACK TEAMS IN DUAL MEET AT COLISEUM

Southern California's Strength in Sprints, Hurdles and Pole Vault Hard to Combat

BY BRAVEN DYER

Southern California to win by anywhere from 30 to 30 points. That's our guess on today's track meet between the Trojans and California. The rival teams are slated to meet this afternoon on the Coliseum oval, with hostilities commencing at 2:30 o'clock.

Walter Christie, vet... n California mentor, has taken three successive beatings at the hands of the Trojans and it does not appear that this is the year to put an end to such goings on.

Southern California looks ripe for a flock of points in the sprints, hurdles ar... pole vault. It will not be surprising to see the Trojans take all but four digits in these five events. That means about 40 digits for Dean ...romwell's team and when you get off to a start like that there's not much hope for the other fellow.

The distance runs look like the cream of this af...rnoon's menu. Cromwell has shifted his boys around somewhat to see what he can see about them in regard to their possibilities for the Stanford meet.

BANK ON FITZMAURICE

Vic Fitzmaurice is slated to team with Ed Gloege and Bryce Schurr in the 880, an event which Cromwell hopes will result in a clean sweep at Stanford. Fitzmaurice is potentially capable of 1m. 53s. or better. How Gloege will go today is a matter for conjectures. He has been ill. If Ed should return to form it would take quite a load off Cromwell's think tank. Chase,

BRUINS WALLOP STANFORD, 4-3

Graham Hurls Classy Ball to Win Clash

For the third time this week Stanford baseball team has lost a game by a one-run margin. Yesterday it was to the University of California at Los Angeles nine by the score of 4 to 3. The local baseballers were masters of the situation throughout, Capt. "Whitey" Graham keeping the eight Card hits scattered enough to stop many runs.

The Bruin willow wielders jumped into an early lead in the first inning. Ted Duffy, hard-hitting first-sacker on the local team, swatted out a double and then scored when Dennis, third-baseman, smashed through with a triple. Dennis was tagged out when he tried to steal home. The Cards scored in the third, when Johnson crossed the plate on Capt. Frank Wilten's double, but the Bruin baseballers came back with another run in their half of the frame.

Coach A. J. (Sturty) Sturzenegger sent his boys out in the fifth to garner two more runs on four hits and sew up the ball game. The Stanford team annexed a run in the sixth and another one in the eighth, but the visitors were un-

HARMON OPENER BIG BUST

Card Draws $175,000 Worth of Customers to First Showing in New Arena; Lack of Ballyhoo Proves Fighters Not Whole Show

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, March 29. (Exclusive)—The opening production at Mr. Paddy Harmon's Chicago prize-fight stadium, one of the new super-arenas built to outgarden the late Tex Rickard's Garden, was something in the nature of a bust, although it drew about $175,000 worth of business. Under a sane scale of values, of course, $175,000 at a prize fight between two classy performers, Tommy Loughran and Mickey Walker, supported by a series of other prize fights, would be a very fair return.

But sanity has not been an outstanding trait of the prize-fight customer for several years. In fact, he is not exactly sane at the present writing, but merely a little bit less insane than he was during the latter stages of Mr. Rickard's career. Mr. Rickard had what it took to unseat the reason of the customer and as his influence wanes the insanity decreases. At the present rate of convalescence the customer should become as normal as the customer can be in about two years, provided, of course, that nobody comes along in the meantime who can play to his weakness as Mr. Rickard did and unbalance him again.

It seems beyond Mr. Harmon's power to exploit this weakness and his task is the more difficult because Mr. Rickard subjected the Chicago customers to just one treatment in his entire career. The New York customer, on the other hand, was under constant treatment for about eight years and consequently is much more goofey than the Chicago and middle-western type of patron.

Mr. Rickard was not good at absent treatments, but was very effective with local applications. When the New York customers were at the most violent stage the prize-fight promoters of Chicago mistakenly decided that their patrons were equally goofey over prize fighting and they were very nappy, indeed, when the Illinois Legislature enacted a law divorcing prize fighting from its traditional legal affinity with the shell game and the art of safe blowing, although the spiritual affinity was left undisturbed. Chicago promoters, Mr. Harmon, Mr. James (Moon) Mullen and Mr. Mike Malloy, all believed the Chicago customer would buy $25 and $50 tickets for prize fights having a dramatic and sporting value of $3 as eagerly as the New York customers did.

They constituted a fine clinical study in acute bafflement when the Chicago customers worked themselves up to a placid calm over the first legalized prize fight held there after twenty

BRACEY EQUALS RECORD

Ties Paddock's Century Mark in Texas Relays; Nurmi Wins Slow Two-Mile Run

AUSTIN (Tex.) March 29. (AP)—One world's record was equaled and two intercollegiate marks were bettered here this afternoon when 1000 picked track-and-field athletes from the Midwest, South and Southwest battled under a summer sun in the fifth annual University of Texas relays. Thirteen meet records were shattered.

Robert Todd, superb University of Indiana athlete, defeated a strong field to win the first all-around championship of the relays, amassing 5238 1-4 points in seven events. Close behind him came Tom Churchill, star of the University of Oklahoma with 5209½ points, Leo Baldwin, Texas University, was third with 5204½.

Paavo Nurmi, the phantom Finn and the world's greatest present day middle-distance runner ran a special two-mile race against a relay of runners from the Lone Star State.

The performance of Claude Bracey, Rice Institute sprinter and 1928 Olympic team member, was perhaps the most brilliant of the afternoon and was the

LOUGHRAN'S PURSE SMALL

CHICAGO, March 29.—Champion Tom Loughran learned today how little he made for successfully defending his light-heavyweight title against Mickey Walker.

Tommy received the disappointing news in form of a statement in attendance and receipts of Thursday night's show at the Chicago stadium inaugural issued by Paul Prehn, chairman of the Illinois Boxing Commission.

It read:

Attendance	14,324
Gross receipts	$186,767
Net receipts	141,900
Loughran's split	78,039
Walker's purse	50,000
Purse for semi-wind-up	25,000
What Loughran had left	13,290

Loughran paid Walker the $50,000 of his (Loughran's) 55 per cent of the net receipts.

Loughran paid $12,500 of the cost of the semifinal bout.

DEMPSEY GETS OFFERING OF PEACE FROM GARDEN

Jack Dempsey announced ... outdoor shows to be con... at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, ... sealed at popular prices, $3 ... for ringside seats. ... Bill Carey of Madison ... Square Corporation, paid ... This probably will squelch the rumor that Dempsey and Carey clashed over his division of the Sharkey-Stribling spoils. Dempsey received only $10,000 for his part in the promotion.

Pasadena Golf Club Invitation Tournament Reaches Semifinal Round Today

SANGSTER AND LANCE BATTLE

Rancho Star Favored to Win Crown City Event

Brown, Lavelle Match Likely to be Feature

Consolation Round Schedule This Morning

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Two picked golfers, the survivors of thirty-two qualifiers for the Pasadena invitational championship flight, will remain to battle it out tomorrow morning, with quarter-final and semifinal matches scheduled for this morning and afternoon.

W. W. BECKWITH.

Two rounds of play are also lined up for the second flight, with semifinal rounds in all other flights.

George Lance of the Rancho Golf Club, who played near perfect golf yesterday to defeat Milo Marchetti, also of Rancho, 5 and 3, will meet Danny Sangster this morning in one of the features. Sangster eliminated another Rancho veteran, W. W. Beckwith, 1 up. The winner of that match will face the victor in what promises to be a sensational match between Eugene Brown of California and Paul Lavelle of Fox Hills. Lavelle will be a favorite, but Brown, one of the outstanding juniors in the Southland, is playing beautiful golf. If he wins, it will be no upset.

Lavelle yesterday defeated R. A. Greene of Rancho, 4 and 3. Brown found stiffer competition in George Bronough of Pasadena, but annexed the match on the nineteenth hole.

Monte Rucker of Pasadena meets Winston Fuller of Wilshire, and E. F. Combs, Jr., of Virginia tackles H. K. Bachelder of Stockdale in other quarter-final battles.

No less than five matches were defaulted in the second flight yesterday. Jack Mackey of the Los Angeles Country Club looms as a favorite in this flight.

A consolation round is programed this morning for nonqualifiers and those defeated in first-round matches. Play will be eighteen holes, medal, and may be played between 8:30 and 11:30.

Tomorrow's finals in the championship flight will be thirty-six holes. Starting times can be reserved for mixed foursomes tomorrow. Play will be between 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

TITLE BATTLE IS POSTPONED

of the jungles at San Francisco last fall Morgan was besieged with injuries that twice brought postponements of the fight—a scrap that resulted in a draw.

And where there had been a heavy advance sale of tickets for the bout Jackie Fields and Young Jack Thompson, right after the latter's two-round knockout of the welter champion, Joe Dundee, moved in before Morgan and Zorilla went to the post and stole their big "gate."

However, it appears that the demand for tickets to the local championship bout will not be affected by the postponement. On the contrary, it may be stimulated. A $30,000 house or better is anticipated by the management.

Zorilla has crept up in favoritism until he now ranks on even terms with the champion. Increased hitting power by the Panamanian in the gymnasium has brought a switch in the minds of the experts. They sense trouble galore for Morgan, and many of them do not believe he can save his title next week.

The postponement also brought a change in the plans of Manager Sl Masters of the Olympic. He announced last night that tickets for the Hudkins-Emanuel fight—an outdoor show at Wrigely Field April 16—would go on sale today. Masters had planned to hold back the public sale until after the Morgan-Zorilla championship affair was out of the way.

the decision of the judges although the referee seems to have gone haywire on his version.

This is the way the vote went by rounds:

Phil Collins (judge)—Loughran six, Walker two, even two.

Eddie Klein (judge)—Loughran eight, Walker one, even one.

Davy Miller (referee)—Walker five, Loughran one, even four.

Of course, one can't help but wonder what Davy Miller was looking at when he tossed down his vote.

The preponderance of opinion is so much against him that he apparently closed his eyes to what actually transpired. You can gather the drift by reading the round-by-round report.

A GOOD COMEBACK

MUSHY CALLAHAN looked good against Jackie Carr the other night, and his four-round knockout over a boy who beat him decisively last year should bring back a lot of his old confidence.

The junior welter king not only doled out severe punishment, but he took plenty—took it without flinching.

Carr's stiff southpaw jolts to the face were all absorbed in the course of fierce rallies—rallies which saw Callahan beating Carr back and forcing the southpaw to hang on.

The only mistake Mushy made was in not centering his attack on Carr's stomach earlier in the fray. Carr was wide open for right wallops to the pantry, but it was not until the tail end of the third round that Callahan—under the encouragement of a little press-row advice—let go a terrific biff to Carr's stomach.

That settled the fight right there. When the boys came out for the fourth round Callahan sank some more right hands in Carr's bread basket and the flooring punch to the head was just a nightcap—not a devastating wallop. The stomach attack had settled the issue.

MACE LOSER IN NET PLAY

Defeated by Mat Harris of Burlingame in Upset of Professional Tennis Tourney

Five of the eight surviving singles candidates in the first annual Pacific Coast professional tennis championship at the Midwick Country Club are Southern California products and are at present giving instruction in the Southland.

The field of sixteen racketeers which opened play in Alhambra yesterday narrowed down to an octette comprised of Harvey Snodgrass, Beverly Hills; Mat Harris, Burlingame; Tom Ferrandini, unattached; Harold Godshall, U.S.C. coach; Norval Craig, Los Angeles club; Walt Wesbrook, Midwick; Howard Kinsey, California club, and Roland Roberts, El Monte.

The men's doubles entered the semifinals in which Howard Kinsey and Mat Harris meet Norval Craig and Wynn Mace, and Harvey Snodgrass and Walt Wesbrook face Roland Roberts and Bob Allen.

Perhaps the biggest surprise for the local fans was the defeat of Wynn Mace by Mat Harris in the initial bracket. Mace put up a stubborn fight but succumbed in four furious sets, 3-6, 7-5, 6-2, 6-3. Ed Woodall, of Alhambra, the sole amateur to turn professional and enter the meet, was eliminated by Harold Godshall, Trojan coach, 6-2, 8-6, 6-3.

Tom Ferrandini, terrific southpaw star, and Norval Craig, former Occidental College net ace, otherwise known as the "two dark horses" of the meet both advanced to the second bracket, the former by a victory over Bob Allen, Los Angeles Country Club, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3, and the latter by a default from Ernie Milligan.

Howard Kinsey, former Davis Cup star, and national doubles champion, pounced upon Eddie Higgins of Santa Monica to the tune of 6-1, 6-2, 6-4. Walter Wesbrook, Midwick pro, and former national clay court doubles champion with Snodgrass, turned back Carl Hudson, of Berkeley, 6-3, 6-0, 6-0.

The singles pairings for today bring together two pairs of Southland representatives, Craig and Ferrandini and Godshall and Wesbrook. The Craig-Ferrandini tilt is about a toss-up but Wesbrook has the edge over Godshall who has been absent from active competition in these parts for three years.

The summary of today's schedule:

SINGLES

Harris (Burlingame) defeated Mace (L.A.T.C.), 3-6, 7-5, 6-2, 6-3; Ferrandini (unattached) defeated Allen (L.A.C.C.), 6-4, 6-2, 6-3; Kinsey (California Club) defeated Higgins (Santa Monica), 6-1, 6-2, 6-4; Rone (Del Monte) defeated Reagan (California Club), 6-2, 3-7, 6-2, 6-4; Wesbrook (Midwick) defeated Hudson (Berkeley), 6-3, 8-6, 6-0; Godshall (S.C. coach) defeated Woodall (Alhambra), 6-2, 8-6, 6-3; Craig (L.A.C.C.) defeated Milligan (Castelejo,) default; Harvey Snodgrass drew a bye.

DOUBLES

Kinsey and Harris defeated Woodall and Hudson, 6-0, 6-1; Mace and Craig defeated Godshall and Ferrandini, 6-4, 3-6, 10-8.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

10 a.m.—Snodgrass vs. Harris; Craig vs. Ferrandini; Godshall vs. Wesbrook; Kinsey vs. Roberts.

2 p.m.—Semifinals, men's singles.

8 p.m.—Craig and Mace vs. Kinsey and Harris; Snodgrass and Wesbrook vs. Roberts and Allen.

HARMON OPENER FAILS TO DRAW

years if illegal prizefighting, and patronized the bouts very studiously. The first year's gross receipts of all the promoters in the State, as shown with more or less accuracy by the report of the prize-fight commission, were considerably less than half as great as Mr. Rickard had drawn with a single production in his sphere of influence. This might be interpreted to mean that if the liquor business were given legal sanction again in the State of Illinois the citizens would drink no more than they do now. But it is hard to see how they could, and live.

The error of the Chicago prize-fight promoters lies in their assumption that the prize fighters drew the customers for Mr. Rickard. They did not perceive that Mr. Rickard was the attraction in his shows just as the Rev. William Sunday used to be in his and that the sporting element was as negligible in the one as Christ and Pettey had been in the other.

I am told that Mr. Harmon's arena cost $6,000,000. The interest on $6,000,000 is $300,000 and the ordinary expense will total $360,000 more. When the so-called big men of a community put $6,000,000 into steel, mortar and stone, they show more sincerity of purpose than Mr. Rickard ever felt but sincerity happens not to be a requisite of success in the prize-fighting industry. From this beginning it appears that they have overbuilt and will be principally engaged in keeping down the losses, as the stated costs of the plant per year will be about four times as much as the gross receipts on the first exhibition, which was recognized as something supergala and extra stupendous.

MORE THEORY

And since the fighters in the main fight got 55 per cent of these gross receipts, the work of keeping down the losses probably begins at the beginning. That is some comfort, as it is never too late to begin keeping down the losses. Mr. Humbert Fugasy of New York has a much better plan of operation. He has built a whole chain of supercolossal arenas here at a total cost of about $80,000,000, but inasmuch as all the arenas were purely theoretical, so was the $80,000,000 cost. There may be no profits in a theoretical arena, but the operating expenses and losses are thoroughly theoretical, too. If a promoter cannot have a practical profit, theoretical loss is the next best thing.

NEW TEAMS IN HOCKEY LEAGUE

Professional Puck Loop to Expand Next Year

San Diego, Sacramento May be Represented

Hollywood, Oilers Battle in Finale Monday

BY RALPH HUSTON

Announcement that six teams, and possibly eight, would comprise the California Professional Ice Hockey League next season was made in an announcement yesterday by officials of the league. San Diego and Sacramento are mentioned as the certain additions to the loop, which now is comprised of the Los Angeles Richfields, Hollywood Millionaires, San Francisco Seals and the Oakland Sheiks.

San Jose is reported to be seeking a franchise, and if one more city seeks entrance, the league probably will be increased to eight teams, it was said.

Floyd Carleton, secretary-treasurer of the Winter Garden, and a veteran in California ice-hockey promotion, is reported to have obtained an option on the San Diego franchise, and already has signed the veteran Smoky Harris, now with the Seals, to manage the club. Harris is an old veteran in hockey, having played on world championship teams. Before coming to the California league, he was with the famous Edmonton Esquimaux.

The scheduled league season ends Monday night with Hollywood and the Los Angeles Richfields tangling. The contest promises to be the hard-est and bloodiest ever played in the local rink, as the winner of the game gains the right to the play-off, while the losers drop out of competition.

The Oakland club already has cinched the title, with 39 points, and the result of its game Monday with San Francisco will have no bearing on the league standing. The Seals have clinched second position with 34 points. Hollywood has 33 and Richfield, 32. Hollywood must defeat the Oilers Monday night to stay in the play-off. A victory for the Oilers would give them 34 points, and the right to meet the Seals.

The first game of the play-off will take place at the Winter Garden Wednesday night between the Seals and the third-place team. The second game will be played Friday night at San Francisco. Total goals in both games will count, to decide the team which will play off the series with Oakland. Vancouver, champions of the Pacific Northwest loop, is scheduled to meet the ultimate California league victor, with Les Canadiens of Montreal coming west later for a series.

The Richfield team will be favored Monday night on two scores. They displayed a classy attack, and a superb defense in blanking the Seals, 4-0, Thursday night; while Hollywood is maintaining its great hard-luck streak with the injury to Dale Wells. The star wingman was in an auto accident Wednesday, and threw a shoulder out of joint. It is the second time he has been out this season. Chuck Warren, Wolf Peltier, Rube Brandow and Lefty Comber have been out most of the season with serious injuries. Brandow and Peltier are back in the line-up, and Warren is working out with the team again. Wells will be unable to play Monday and Comber is out until next season with a broken neck.

TROJANS DOPED TO BEAT BEARS

Rust and Clark of the Bears, figure to give the Trojans a good workout, little more, unless Chase should have an exceptionally good day in which case he might slip into second place.

California is likely to knock 'em dead in the mile with Harry Carter, although we are not so sure that Carter is in shape. If Fitzmaurice were running this race we would pick the Trojan to win, but inasmuch as Warren Woodruff, Troy's star two-miler, is appearing here, Carter must be given the edge.

In an effort to find some useful occupation for Bob Swede, who has, so they say, proved a disappointment in the mile, Cromwell is starting him in the two-mile today, along with Ellsworth Patterson. Mossman, a very capable California runner, is slated to carry Golden Bear hopes, as will Jackson, another good eight-lap athlete.

The writer can see nothing but first places for S.C. in the sprints with Charley Borah, in the 440, with Vis Williams and in the two hurdles with Chuck Webber and Ernie Payne. What's more Milton Maurer or Dick Wehner will probably attend to the seconds in the dashes and Pearson or Bastafian may nose out Johnson, Sparks or Clark for the same berth in the 440. Catrow and Watkins are the best Bear hurdlers, what with Pogolotti out, and they will have to hurry to get second in the highs over Bert Ritchey. In the lows they will be lucky to place.

STRONG IN JAVELIN

As for the field events California will probably do the most damage in the javelin, with Capt. Curtice, Baxter and Churchill, in the high jump with Jacklevitch and Bingaman and in the discus with Bob Patton and Brown. Lom, Bias and Segurs will probably make things interesting for Jess Hill and Howard Paul in the broad jump. If Paul, who has been ill, should get one of his 23ft. leaps it would tend to change the whole complexion of next Saturday's meet with Stanford.

If California should get a few breaks in such events as the sprints and hurdles today the Bears might make the meet close, but it's not likely.

CHAMP HAS OTHER HOLDS

Sonnenberg Not One-Grip Title-holder; Flying Tackle Used as Last Resort

The headlock and crotch and half-Nelson slam are a pair of holds which "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg, world's mat king, has been using to dispose of some of his opponents during the last month. The flying tackle, the hold which brought him the world's title in Boston, remains his pet grip, however, and he expects to use it with devastating effect on Stanley Stasiak, the Polish giant, who he meets at the Olympic Wednesday night in a finish title match.

Lateral Hip Slide Speeds Golf Stroke

BY SOL METZGER

After Abe Mitchell slides his hips laterally to the right — the first movement of his drive—he starts the club back with a straight left arm.

Here rests much of the secret of his success in gaining such tremendous distance. "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn recently stated that length comes from speeding up the clubhead, not from hard hitting. That is true.

With that to work on let us look into how Mitchell speeds up his clubhead. Abe takes the club back with a straight left arm. But his hands lead. In other words he drags it back by bending his left wrist on that the left hand points toward the ball. Later, as we shall see, this bend of the wrists permits him to throw the clubhead up and around over his shoulder. The unwinding process of these wrists on the down swing gives him tremendous acceleration with the clubhead.

What is patent in Mitchell's swing at this point is the arrangement in it for keeping the left arm straight. This is accomplished by the already made lateral hip slide to the right. This move lowers the left shoulder and hip. The result is a passageway for the left arm to swing straight back under the chest and close to it. Monday—Mehlhorn does the same thing.

Answer to last week's rule problem: The player in the metropolitan open who angrily knocked his ball into a dense thicket of bushes and rocks,, after his third stroke, a putt, had stopped on the edge of the cup, secured a 6 in this manner. As he hit the ball the clock struck 5. This was his fourth stroke. Realizing he had lost his temper he decided to play out the hole. After a five-minute search his ball could not be found. Under the rules he was compelled to drop another ball at the spot he had played the last, penalizing himself a stroke. As his ball was on the edge of the cup he holed out for a 6.

A few simple but vital points to remember in putting will keep your score down. Write Sol Metzger, care of The Times, and get his leaflet on Putting which is free. In writing inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Thomas Hero as Ducks Win

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29. (AP) The San Francisco Seals twisted themselves out of shape trying to hit LeRoy Mahaffey's slants today and the Portland Beaver moundsman pitched his team to a 6-to-3 win. Thomas allowed the Seals five hits while his own team-mates came through with timely bat work and excellent infield support. Keesey of Portland and Wingo of the Seals hit home runs, each drive coming with a man on. The Beavers have won three of the four games played this series.

Horse Hides Change Color

NEW YORK, March 29. (AP) Golf and tennis, which have been made more colorful by introduction of orange, red and green balls, have been followed by baseball. A bright yellow baseball is now on the market, making the old white "horsehide" seem pale.

Golf has extended the riot to club shafts with green and red predominating in the new spring models. The orange golf balls have filled a long-felt need on courses where there is a wealth of sand, but they may become as elusive as the white ones when the dandelions bloom.

Jockey Hurt in Rail Jam

TIA JUANA RACE TRACK, March 29. — Ralph Hartenstein, improved route goer, scored for L. T. Whitehill this afternoon in the Redman's claiming purse, at a mile. Delmar Trivett, apprentice jockey, had his leg broken in the running of the first race. Trivett was astride the O.K. stables' Frances M. He was forced into the rail and his left leg crushed in a jam shortly after the start. He pulled up his mount and finished a bad last. Results:

GARDEN SENDS DEMPSEY OFFER

Fugazy-Dempsey-Cole firm, with the statement of the Garden president that "Dempsey's job with us is still open to him and he can come back any time he chooses at the terms originally offered."

Dempsey, it is said, balked at a straight salary proposition of $30,000 a year. He expects to stage one fight a week at Ebbets Field and double that amount of income in his first year. Paolino Uzcudun arrives here next Monday and will be starred in the first Brooklyn outdoor show in May.

Referring to the current talk that Dempsey was underpaid for his part in the Florida fight's promotion, Carey explained that Dempsey contracted to promote the affair for 25 per cent of the profits. He asserted payment of $10,000 was made to Dempsey because the Garden estimated the profit at the time to approximate $40,000. Figures compiled today showed it falling below that, he pointed out.

Carey already is planning for a 1930 Miami bout and today approved plans for reconstructing the stadium there.

POLO GAME TO BE BROADCAST

California Trophy Play Will be Put on Air

Pedley Leads Golden State Four Against Anzacs

Contest on Tap Tomorrow at Uplifters' Club Field

BY FRANK ROCHE

Polo will be put "on the air" as they say in the radio world, for the first time in the history of the game here in the West, when the California Four, captained by Eric Pedley, plays the Australian team led by Cecil Skene, tomorrow, at the Uplifters' club in Santa Monica. The game tomorrow will be the first ever played for the California challenge trophy donated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and will be broadcast direct from the field by Charley Keppen, the handsome young man who informs football fans who is who and what is what at the Coliseum.

Keppen will handle the "mike" at the Uplifters' Field tomorrow and while the spectators at the field are getting the details of play through a battery of loudspeakers, those tuned in on the radio will also be getting a description of the game for the California trophy. The junior chamber is arranging for the broadcast.

Besides having Pedley in the saddle tomorrow the Golden State will be represented by Scott Hackin, Hal Roach and Dr. Harry Wilson. Pedley needs no introduction to polo fans. He is considered by most of the experts to be the third greatest player in the world today. Pedley is the only player born west of the Rockies ever to make the American international team. Hal Roach and Harry Wilson are ranked ten goal players, the goal being the highest in the West. Hackley is a newcomer but from all accounts is a coming star.

The Australian team will be up with Capt. Stuart Pearce at No. 1, Snowy Baker at No. 2, Skene at No. 3, and Frederick Beverage at back. Skene is the outstanding star of the team. He rates at eight goals, the same ranking as Pedley's. Skene won considerable praise for his showing with the Freebooters in the recent Pacific Coast championships.

Tomorrow's contest will go far in polo history as the first annual California challenge trophy tournament. The junior chamber plans to stage the game as an annual event each year in the Southland.

California will name a polo team each season to defend the trophy according to the plans. Pedley will be given the honor this season of captain the first team ever to represent the Golden State in the game.

If Australia wins the trophy it must defend it in the South against California next year.

The game is set for 2:30 p.m. A number of trick riding stunts and a series of whippet races will be staged between halves.

Yesterday's fracas on Moore Field marked the first appearance in a scheduled game so far this season of Sammy Balter, late captain of the Bruin basketball sextuplet. Balter played right field, getting out hit in four chances.

The two teams will play again this afternoon in the second and last game of the series on Moore Field. The game is scheduled to start at 2 p.m. Vernon Clevenger will probably be given the hurling assignment of taming the Cardinal today.

TRACK MEET ON SAGEHEN OVAL

Squads Appear to be Evenly Matched

Due to Extend Bear in Sprint Races

Doped to Cop Distance Gallops Today

CLAREMONT, March 29. (Exclusive)—The last dual meet of the season is on tap for Pomona's varsity track-and-field forces here tomorrow. The Sagehens face an old rival, the University of California at Los Angeles, in their closing clash before the all-Conference meet at the Coliseum April 6. Despite the lack of significance from a championship angle, the meet bids fair to be as close and hard-fought as that have been staged on Pomona field this year.

A number of interesting individual duels are on tap. Harvey Sage, the smooth-running Pomona sprinter, will have his mettle tried with Hill, Watson and Brown, the Bruin shorties. Sherty Ingram and Jerry Stewart should stage a pole-vaulting battle that has been seen here yet. Ingram is consistent at 12ft. 6in. and has managed to lose all his duels only in the other meets. Stewart, however, has cleared 13ft. without warming up and is good for six or eight inches more.

Elmer Watts, the short-legged Pomona ace, will have things all his own way in the two-mile, and is able to take the mile.

OUT OF CALTECH WITH WHITTIER

Doug Perry, star Caltech high jumper, will not appear in today's track meet at Whittier. The Engineer is temporarily on the sick list and expects to be ready to go in the conference meet at Pasadena one week from today.

Ford Among Favorites to Win at Ascot

Roscoe Ford, the quiet-looking, professional-like-looking racing speed king, who perhaps knows more about motors as applied to the speedways than most drivers who win more cash prizes, is one of the big favorites for the Easter auto speed classic to be staged tomorrow.

While Roscoe never makes any bids for world's records, he is unquestionably one of the most consistent of the dirt-track drivers, finishing up front in nearly every contest he enters. He has not missed a western dirt-track meet in more than two years. He would not be taken for a race driver at first glance, having more of the scientific and professional look about him and represents quite a different looking front than would Ernest Triplett or Mel Keneally, yet the three of them are all under the crushing handicap of the frown of Lady Luck.

Spectators at the track this week have been thrilled by the masterful driving of the youthful speed demon. Roscoe has perfected a new steering device which permits his taking the turns wide open.

Boehler Hurls One-Hit Game

OAKLAND, March 29. (AP)—George Boehler of the Oaks allowed the Missions only one hit and one unearned run here today, while his team gathered twelve hits for an easy 6-to-1 victory. Carlyle, Fenton and Boehler each hit home runs out of the park. The series is now even with two wins for each club.

Bruins Clinch Hockey Cup

NEW YORK, March 29. (AP)—The Boston Bruins clinched the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world's hockey championship, by defeating the New York Rangers, 2 to 1, at Madison Square Garden tonight. The Bruins won the first game of the series in Boston last night by 2 to 0.

Foul Tips

Dave Barbee is at present the undisputed home run king of the Coast League with four circuit clouts to his credit. The Angels, however, have made seven home runs in the first four games and are the team leaders in this form of exercise of slapping 'em out of the lot.

Jones, Schulmerich, Warren, Tolson, Berger, Hannah and Jacobs are the Seraphs who have registered homers against Seattle pitching in the first four games. That makes all that Joe Patrick had to buy a lot of suits.

Yesterday was a tough afternoon for at least two Angel pitchers during batting practice. Carl Holling was hit on the arm by a drive from Hollywood's best hitting pitcher to the hitters, while young Jack Jacobs smeared up his nose by colliding into the left field wall while chasing a long fly. Holling was hit on the left arm, fortunately, so will be able to take a big turn against Hollywood next week.

Louis Almada looks pretty good out in center field for Seattle and if he will only hit he'll be a nice pickup for the Indians. Louis gets a couple of battled balls, which is something that Eckhardt was unable to do.

Tex Weathersby, the Seraph southpaw who looked so good turning back the Indians for one inning Thursday, will start on the mound for the Angels today. Bob Collard, who was batted out of the box Tuesday, is slated to be back on the hill for Seattle. Jim Edwards, Seattle's big southpaw, is idling with a sore flipper and yesterday was a visitor at Doc Mooney's office, so he probably won't see action against the Angels.

Fred Muller, Seattle third-sacker, seems to have one glaring weakness in his infield work. Muller can't locate second base when throwing there to start double plays. He threw one away in the fifth inning yesterday.

Bobby Jones hit the ball hard yesterday and got two hits. His last two drives were right at Ernie Johnson and Chili McDaniel or he might have collected two more safeties.

McDaniel is playing a nice fielding game at first base for Seattle. He has saved the Indian infielders about five errors by scooping low throws out of the dirt.

The Kinney who pitched for Sacramento yesterday was not Walter Kinney, the Hollywood southpaw. When the fans saw that Kinney was pitching for Sacramento a lot of them thought that Bill Lane had sold his portly portsider to the Senators. Walter Kinney did not make the trip to Sacramento and is working out with several other Stars at Wrigley Field.

BENEFIT SOCCER TILT ON TODAY AT LOYOLA

A benefit soccer game will be staged for decision at the Loyola grounds today. Kick-off at 2:30 between Great Britain and Continental Europe. The whole of the proceeds of this game will be given to two players who had the misfortune to break a leg at the beginning of the season, Grant of the Scots team and Weigel in a practice game. Both players are well known locally. All officials are giving their services and Referee Callinan will handle the whistle gratis.

COVINA NINE WINS

Despite numerous errors, Covina High School downed Excelsior 7-5 in a practice ball game yesterday. Chamberlin clicked out a homer for the winners, and Coltrin got three out of three. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Excelsior	5	10	4
Covina	7	9	8

Indians Score Four Runs in Eighth, Ninth Rounds

and Truck Hannah being the Seraphs seeking new suits of clothes at the expense of Prexy Joe Patrick.

Seattle outhit the Angels, 12 to 11, but six of those Indian safeties came in the last two rounds when Plitt, began to "faw down" on the job. Bill Steinecke, Seattle's young catcher, had a perfect day with three for three and three runs. McDaniel, Muller and Barbee got two safe swats, one of the latter's being a homer into the bleachers.

The Angels started after Pipgras in the first inning and put over two runs. Schulmerich walked for a starter and then Bobby Jones beat out a bunt, for which Pipgras couldn't stoop over for because of considerable avoirdupois around his waistline. Webb smashed a single off McDaniel's shins, Schulmerich scoring and Jones reaching third. Tolson's sacrifice fly to Barbee brought Jones home with the second run of the round.

PIPGRAS GETS WILD

Pipgras hit a wild streak in the third and the Angels collected one more run on walks to Jones and Tolson and Berger's solid single off Ellsworth. With only one away Pipgras then hit Jacobs to fill the bases, but retired Butler and Hannah to end the round without further damage.

Steinecke singled to right in the fourth, took second on Barbee's out and scored Seattle's first run when McDaniel plastered one over Butler's head for easy base.

The Angels score two in their half of the fourth on doubles by Plitt and Schulmerich and Jones's single. In the fifth the Home Guards picked up an unearned tally on a walk to Jacobs, a hit batsman, and a wild heave by Muller on an attempted force play at second.

Barbee got his daily homer in the sixth after Steinecke had singled in the sixth, so the Indians picked up two runs in that frame. Barbee's drive landed out in the bleachers and was his fourth of the season. Barbee got four homers during the first week of the season against the Angels last year.

Ray Jacobs got those two runs right back for the Angels in the sixth when he smacked one over the left-field barrier while Berger, by virtue of a walk, was reposing on the hassocks.

AULT HOME-RUN VICTIM

Ault was pitching for the Indians in the seventh and Truck Hannah, the first batter to face him, greeted the Seattle rookie by slapping a high one over the left-field bricks. In the eighth inning Berger also found one of Ault's offerings to his liking and hammered it out of the park.

Plitt started weakening in the eighth and, after Johnson had been thrown out, Steinecke, Barbee and McDaniel hitting successive singles. The latter's hit went through Schulmerich's legs and McDaniel continued on to third, from where he counted on Hood's sacrifice fly.

Johnson, evidently figuring the game was gone anyway, sent Hetherly in at second and Cox behind the plate in the last of the eighth, and these two youngsters delivered singles during Seattle's ninth-round rally. Walsh, as we have hinted before, came to Plitt's rescue in the ninth so the Indian rally was all for naught. Score:

CARGO CARRIERS LOSE RATE CASE

Interstate Rail Commission Holds for Roads

Blanket Tariff on Car Lots Upheld in Ruling

Action Viewed as Setting Up Important Precedent

BY WALDO DRAKE

Transcontinental railroads won a signal victory yesterday over the intercoastal steamship lines in the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission that the rail lines' maintenance of blanket carload rates on canned goods and vegetables from Pacific Coast to eastern points, together with alleged discriminatory rates westbound from Atlantic ports, is not unduly prejudicial against the steamship companies.

Action of the Interstate Commerce Commission establishes an important precedent in the coast-to-coast transportation field, in that it is the first time the regulative body has denied jurisdiction over the intercoastal steamship lines; maintaining that these lines are competent to maintain complaint proceedings under the Interstate Commerce Act, but that none of these water lines are subject to the provisions of that act.

The complaint, in which the American-Hawaiian Steamship line was joined by practically all intercoastal lines, asserted that the railroads publish and apply two carload rates and two minima—one, of $1.28 per 100 pounds on carload minimum of 40,000 pounds and another, of $1.05 per 100 pounds on carload minimum of 60,000 pounds on Pacific Coast canned products and vegetables for eastern points, while in carrying these same products westbound from Atlantic ports to the same consignee only one minimum is applied—38 cents per 100 pounds from New York and 35 cents from Baltimore to Youngstown (O.) as an example.

The steamship lines maintain a rate of 45 cents per 100 pounds for shipment of canned goods from any Pacific Coast port to any Atlantic port. The railroads contended that the water rate, plus the rail charge from Baltimore, therefore aggregates only 80 cents. The steamship complainants, however, insisted that there are material additions: 6 cents for delivery from production centers to Pacific ports; 5.5 cents for port charges and insurance; and 10 cents for disabilities under which steamship lines operate as compared to all-rail carriers. This it was urged, would make the aggregate via the Canal to Youngstown, or other point in the Middle West, $1.015 via the port of Baltimore, or $1.045 via the port of New York. Rail witnesses told the commission that the 10-cent disability was contrary to fact.

It is conservatively estimated that a minimum of 25,000,000 cans of fruits, vegetables, tuna, sardines and salmon are shipped to the eastern markets annually from this coast.

MANY PASSENGERS IN ON HONOLULU LINER

Four hundred and thirty-three travelers, representing twenty-five States of the Union and five foreign countries, came in from Honolulu yesterday aboard the Lasseo liner City of Honolulu. Capt. Arthur Self completed his final voyage as her commander, having recently been appointed a San Francisco bar pilot, for which he will qualify at the Bay City next Monday.

Leo M. Meeker, president of the Pan-American bank, was among the liner's prominent passengers; others being Judge Cyrus Huling, veteran Columbus (O.) jurist; William Fleischman, wealthy sportsman and manufacturer, and Edwin C. Andrews, Great Lakes shipping magnate.

A cruise by water from Los Angeles to Detroit is the unusual trip planned by Mrs. Rex B. Clark and friends, soon to start on the Clarks's 110-foot cruiser Norconian. The trip will be from here to Panama, up the Atlantic Coast and thence up the St. Lawrence River to the Great Lakes. The yacht now is undergoing overhaul and receiving two new 200 horsepower engines at the yards of the Harbor Boat Building Company, East San Pedro. The job will consume five weeks and cost $40,000.

C. G. Reid, former chief engineer on the Union Oil Company tanker Santa Maria, has left the sea to become acting deputy shipping commissioner at Los Angeles Harbor. He joined the staff of Capt. John A. Rylander two days ago. A. L. Woodruff, former customs inspector, became a deputy under Rylander two months ago.

Philip R. Park Company yesterday began doubling its output of manomar, a stock food, one component of which is dried and ground kelp, harvested off San Pedro. Two carloads are now going east daily.

Kingsley Navigation Company announces appointment of C. G. Krueger & Co., as Los Angeles agents for the line. The company has a sailing out of here every twenty days for Victoria and Vancouver, B. C.

CHAIN STORE DEALS BREW

Hahn Department System Seeking Entrance Into Los Angeles and San Francisco; Rumors Active

BY EARLE E. CROWE

How, and when the recently formed Hahn Department Stores, Inc., latest of the nation-wide chains, will effect its promised entry into Los Angeles and San Francisco are two live questions under active discussion in the department-store field. Tentative negotiations have been in progress in both cities for the last few weeks, but nothing definite has materialised.

In San Francisco it was believed up until the middle of the week that the Hahn group would acquire the Emporium Capwell Corporation, owners of three department stores in San Francisco and Oakland, and also public markets in both cities. Following its previous practice, the proposed deal is reported to have involved the purchase of the entire capital stock of the Emporium Capwell Corporation, at a price said to be close to $40 a share. But yesterday the rumor was passed around that discussions had been called off and the deal dropped.

SURVEY MADE HERE

Representatives of the Hahn Department stores were in Los Angeles a couple of weeks ago to make a preliminary survey of the field. Initiation of active negotiations is believed to have been postponed until the settlement of the San Francisco proposition, but among the department stores here the current rumors name three stores as likely prospects in the eyes of the Hahn representatives.

Broadway Department Store, Robinson's and Blackstone's are the three mentioned. The Broadway is one of the strong independents, and has been sought before by ambitious chain companies. Robinson's and Blackstone's also have long and successful records, and may figure in discussions with the Hahn interests. The latter store is controlled by the Hamburgers, who sold one of their stores a few years ago to the May Company, first of the large department store chains to enter Los Angeles.

In addition to the Hahn rumors, Robinson's has been linked several times in connection with reports of an entrance into Los Angeles by the B. F. Schlesinger & Son's chain. This company operates in all the leading Pacific Coast cities except Los Angeles.

SMALL STORE POSSIBLE

In the San Francisco field the possibility is suggested that the Hahn Department Stores will now concentrate on one of the smaller stores. This policy has been followed in other cities where negotiations for the larger and more successful locations were unsuccessful.

The Hahn chain, only started a few months ago, is represented in twenty-two cities. The list includes Boston, Minneapolis, Seattle, St. Paul, Cincinnati, Grand Rapids, Dallas, Baltimore, Paterson, Akron, Columbus, Waterloo, Lincoln, Greensboro, N. C.; Jackson, Malden, Mass.; Lake Charles, La.; Greensburg, Pa.; Lebanon, Pa., and Connellsville, Pa.

Like many other chains, the stores in the Hahn system continue to operate under their established names. The system is operated under the management of Lew Hahn, former managing director of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, president, and George W. Mitton, president of the Jordan Marsh Company of Boston, as chairman of the board.

New Protest in British General Electric Fight

LONDON, March 29. (AP)—A strong protest against a proposed settlement of the dispute over the new stock issue of 1,600,000 £1 shares by the British General Electric Company has been received from Thomas L. Chadbourne and Herbert Bayard Swope, who are now en route to England aboard the liner Aquatania as representatives of American shareholders in the company.

When the new issue was first decided upon it was restricted entirely to British subjects. This raised strong protests among the American shareholders and also in some British financial circles. Mr. Chadbourne and Mr. Swope left for England to take up the matter.

Yesterday stockholders of the British General Electric met and approved a resolution adopted the 13th inst., providing for the issue of new shares, the permanent ownership of which was to be confined to British subjects. Sir Hugo Hirst, the chairman, announced that to satisfy American shareholders the proposed new issue would be offered under certain conditions, these being that all foreign shareholders must dispose of their rights in the new issue within a given period.

News of this action was sent to the American committee by wireless. The reply, sent by Mr. Chadbourne and Mr. Swope, which was timed last night, was addressed to Sir Hugo and was as follows:

"We are surprised at the news contained in dispatches sent to us by London papers stating that a General Electric meeting has been held today and action taken. We cannot credit one message which says that the plan submitted by the British Foreign and Colonial Corporation was approved. Regardless of that, we are surprised at the discourtesy shown American stockholders in holding a meeting while their representatives are en route for a conference which you said you welcomed. Further, we are surprised at the persistence in plans which do serious injustice to a large group of stockholders, which injustice is inherent in all the plans suggested and against which we must fight. A works to deprive American stockholders of important property rights. It violates the general conception of British fair play and is not calculated to make foreign investors in English securities feel that complete confidence which in ourselves always has existed. We have full power to act and we considered it our duty to adhere to the principle that the new financing give full property protection to all stockholders, which rule has ever been maintained without exception in both British and American enterprises."

Retail Trade Shades Lower

Retail Easter business has fallen below expectations and manufacturers of women's wear say that the spring business, while better than last fall, is at lower prices with smaller profits and keener competition, according to the weekly letter of the Bradstreet company on local conditions.

Although building is not as active building and material trale is in as in some former years, the building and material trade is in a much better condition and has a very good volume of business on hand with apartments and homes continuing to lead operations. Orange and lemon shipments are in excess of last year.

PROFITS OF POWER UNIT SHOW GAIN

Arizona Company Turns Loss to Income During Last Six Months

Combined net profits of the Arizona Power Company and subsidiaries for the year closed December 31, last, amounted to $31,839.61, after all charges including Federal taxes and after the elimination of intercompany items, as compared with $28,577 for 1927, an increase of $3,253.61, according to the annual statement issued yesterday by the company.

Preferred dividend disbursements on the 7 and 8 per cent stock, reached a total of $79,936.67 for the year, which left a deficit balance of $48,107.06. This compares with a deficit in 1927 of $49,143.22 after preferred dividends of $77,720.22.

In a recent statement covering the operations for the last six months of the year ending December 31, net profits were reported at $121,346.66, a jump of 585 per cent over the similar period of 1927. The balance, after preferred dividends, totaled $81,050.66 for the six months equal to $2.70 a share on the 300,000 shares of $100 par value common stock outstanding.

Gross operating income for the entire year aggregated $689,156.78, against $659,554.10 in 1927 and $442,747.72 in the last six months of 1928. Operating expenses of $341,843 were practically unchanged from the previous year. Nonoperating incom. increased nearly $3000 to $9451.

WOOL TRADE OPERATIONS AT LOW EBB

Survey Reports Market During Week Well-Nigh Featureless in Week

BOSTON, March 29. (AP) — The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

The week in the American wool market has been well-nigh featureless, manufacturers, while fairly busy on old contracts, are not in pressing need of wool at the moment, apparently.

In the West there is nothing being done of moment, a few options taken in Western Idaho late last week have been allowed to lapse.

Foreign markets are generally steady. Bradford and continental markets are rather quiet.

Mohair is slow and prices are difficult to quote with certainty.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1929, to March 28, 1929, inclusive, were 46,887,000 pounds, against 50,-800,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1929, to March 28, 1929, inclusive, were 56,231,000, against 58,-760,600 pounds for the same period last year.

The Bulletin will publish the following wool quotations tomorrow:

Amerada Oil Net Profits Off for Year

Amerada Corporation, according to the pamphlet report issued yesterday, earned net profits in 1928 of $2,214,109.63, equal to $2.40 a share after all charges including drilling expenses and taxes, compared with $3,706,715.18, or $4.02 a share on the same capitalization in 1927.

This decrease in earnings, the report states, was due to the unfavorable year for crude oil producers and low prices caused by continued overproduction. On the other hand, the figures do not reflect the unrealized earnings due to the enhancement of market value of its holdings in Louisiana Land and Exploration Company stock which is carried on the books at $3,000,-000 less than market value.

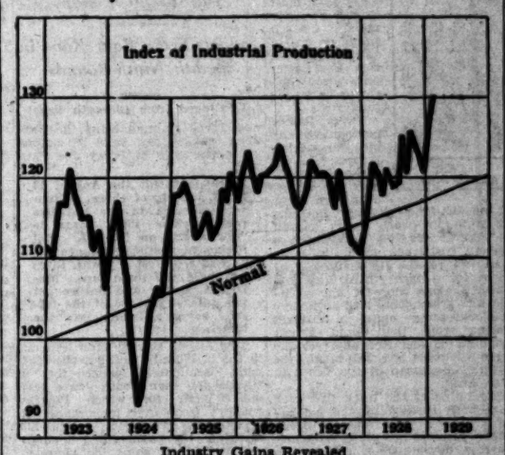
Production of crude oil was at the average daily rate of 17,176 barrels throughout the year, compared with 29,385 barrels during 1927, a decrease of 12,209 barrels a day or more than 40 per cent. Gasoline production averaged 59,452 gallons a day against 68,615 gallons in the preceding year.

OCEANIC OIL VOTES EXTRA DIVIDEND

Directors of the Oceanic Oil Company yesterday declared an extra dividend of 6 per cent, Cecile B. Springer, secretary-treasurer announced. The dividend is payable April 15 to stock of record April 5. The regular dividend of the company is 2 per cent bimonthly,

PRODUCTION CURVE SHARPLY UP

February Volume Sets New Record



Industry Gains Revealed

A NEW high level of productive activity was established last month with the marked expansion in virtually all lines of industry.

From the above chart it will be seen that in February the index touched a new record high of 130.2 as against the previous record for all time of 127.8 in January and as against 121.8 a year ago.

While the gains over 1928 were particularly marked in the motor and steel industries, the growth is reflected in every recorded group on a long list except four and, therefore, reflects a 1929 prosperity that is widely shared.

Dun Says Trade Trend Pointing to Higher Level

NEW YORK, March 29. (AP)—Dun's review tomorrow will say:

No features of the commercial situation have compared in general interest with the striking financial movements of the present week. Early acute depression on the stock exchange, extending to markets for cotton and grains, reflected the increased credit tension, with the highest call-loan rate in nearly a decade. The monetary position remains abnormal, but banking support quickly relieved the speculative unsettlement and only in isolated instances was hesitation in trade observed.

Confidence continues to be the predominant sentiment in mercantile and industrial circles, being sustained by the favorable record of the quarterly period now ending, and added momentum to business progress is imparted by the stimulus of a new season.

The large volume of the eastern turnover has given another proof of the high level of the public buying power, employment of labor is rising as outdoor work broadens, and important manufacturing lines disclose unusual activity. Even the recent exceptional average of steel output is being exceeded now, with many plants operating at practical capacity, and the status of most of the principal metals is one of buoyancy.

Not every branch of enterprise reveals the same measure of expansion in demand and improvement in prices, and some unsatisfactory phases exist, but the main trend is toward expansion.

Weekly bank clearings $13,614,535,-000, an increase of 25.2 per cent over a year ago.

The benefit from these changes, the report adds, should be reflected in the operating profit in subsequent years.

PLAYWRIGHT BACK FROM ISLAND TRIP

Mrs. John R. Boyd

The grace of the native dances of the Hawaiians has in no way been accentuated by civilization, according to Mrs. John R. Boyd of 1451 South Ogden Drive, prominent in amateur theatrical circles as a playwright, who returned from the islands yesterday aboard the Lassco liner City of Honolulu.

Mrs. Boyd went to Hawaii to study the dances and folk-lore of the islanders for forthcoming productions here. She was accompanied and aided in the survey by her sister, Mrs. W. W. Paden.

Council Hearing on Widening of Beverly Delayed

Hearing of protests against the confirmation of the assessments for the widening of Beverly Boulevard between Alexandria and Western avenues was postponed by the City Council yesterday to June 13.

The large crowd of property owners who had come to the Council chamber to demand the abandonment of the project were told that the postponement was taken in the hope that before the date named the State Legislature will have passed several amendments to improvement acts designed to ease the burdens of assessment paying. These amendments provide for assessments for widening projects going automatically to bond and also decrease the amount of penalties which can be assessed for delinquencies.

In taking its action yesterday, the Council had not received any assurance that the protestants against the Beverly widening project will be satisfied with anything but its absolute abandonment, as they had demanded at a special meeting of the Council's Street Opening and Widening Committee several weeks ago.

Frank Mayo and Actress Married

Frank Mayo, screen actor and former husband of Dagmar Godowsky, was married several weeks ago to Margaret Shorey of Los Angeles, vaudeville actress, it became known yesterday. The ceremony took place in Lynchburg, Va., where both were appearing on the stage, and was announced in a letter to the bride's mother, Mrs. Fredcrick Shorey of 934 West One Hundred and Sixth street.

The couple will arrive shortly in Los Angeles, where Mayo, it is said, will resume his motion-picture work. The bride's father, Frederick Shorey, is a former Los Angeles newspaper man.

Arthur Guy Empey, writer of war stories, has much heavier liabilities than assets, according to a voluntary petition in bankruptcy filed yesterday in the United States District Court.

The petition recites that Empey has liabilities of $124,417.35, with assets of $420, of which $220 is declared to be exempt.

Among the liabilities listed is one of $30,000 for Federal income tax for 1919, and among the assets are listed two typewriters valued at a total of $100. The remainder of the liabilities are mostly debts to publishers in the East and the South.

AID ASKED IN BATTLE ON FRAUDS

State Corporation Chief Friedlander Prepares to Return to Law Practice

The work of the State Corporation Department needs the sympathetic understanding and support of the general public and particularly of attorneys, business men and others who transact business with the department, J. M. Friedlander, State Corporation Commissioner, said yesterday in a farewell statement prior to relinquishing his duties to engage in the private practice of law.

The commissioner will sever his connection with the department next Monday. Making known for the first time his plans for the future he stated he will open offices in the Pacific National Bank Building, giving his attention to general practice, but devoting himself particularly to corporation work. He will have an office association with W. J. Clark, former deputy District Attorney in Los Angeles.

"Throughout the two years I have been commissioner the department has received splendid co-operation from people outside the department," Mr. Friedlander said. "I am asking that this co-operation be given also to my successor and that the public generally evince its sympathy with the department's efforts in preventing fraud by investigating thoroughly before investing, bringing doubtful enterprises to the department's attention and freely giving assistance when required in halting fraudulent schemes and punishing the swindlers."

Flyers to Open New Air Link With Mexico

Milo Frank, head of a new flying syndicate, yesterday left for Mexico City in a Boeing cabin plane from the Pacific Air Transport flying field. A. K. Humphreys, vice-president of the Boeing Air Transport, accompanied him, with Clare K. Vance as pilot. Mr. King said he is going to complete arrangements for installing an air-mail and passenger aviation service on the west coast of Mexico for which a concession has been granted. Operation begins within sixty days. The 2000-mile route extends from Tia Juana through Mexicali and Nogales, Son., down the west coast to Mazatlan, where it turns inland through San Blas, Tepic, Guadalajara, Morelia, to Mexico City, thence south to Tapachula. Planes will be operated on a daily air-mail and passenger schedule making the trip in less than thirty hours. At present the traveling time is eight days.

Chalmers Balch, organizer of the syndicate, said that the members associated with him and King are King C. Gillette, Sherman Clark, Lee C. Balch, John Clugston, James L. Rice, Arthur and O. B. English, Capt. Daniel Ellis and Lieut. Dean Farrah.

LARGE FILM DEAL PUSHED

Schenck and United Artists Owner Members Confer on Proposed $60,000,000 Amalgamation

Conferences between Joseph M. Schenck, president and chairman of the board of directors of United Artists, and owner members of the organization as the first step in the program to amalgamate all of their business activities into one $60,000,000 corporation, were started yesterday.

The task of bringing under one company the United Artists Studios, Inc., the Art Cinema Company, Features Productions, Inc., headed by Schenck, and the holdings of Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Gloria Swanson, Charles Chaplin, D. W. Griffith and Samuel Goldwyn, will require at least two weeks.

Schenck conferred all day yesterday with the owner members to work out a scheme of amalgamation acceptable to all members whereby the holdings of each member may be appraised in order that $20,000,000 of preferred stock in the new company, to be called the United Artists Consolidated, can be issued and distributed.

The deal whereby Warner Brothers may acquire a half-interest in the new organization by purchasing for cash one-half of $40,000,000 of common stock to be issued, will be delayed for more than a month pending the return from Europe of Harry Warner, president of the company.

News of the alliance between Warners and United Artists came as a surprise to many in Hollywood yesterday as there were many rumors to the effect Schenck was dickering for an entirely different line-up. Schenck said that if the Warner deal does not go through for any reason no other mergers or alliances involving his company are being contemplated.

WATER DISTRICT POLICY DECIDED

Merit Will Rule in Selection of Working Staff

Course Unanimously Voted at Meeting Here

Informal Report on Tri-State Conference Given

Merit rather than political perferment or the spoils system will be the policy followed in the selection of employees and personnel in the administration of the work of the metropolitan water district of Southern California the board of directors decreed yesterday at their regular meeting.

The adoption of the foregoing policy was proposed by President Whitsett and received a unanimous vote. While it was pointed out that the district has no funds as yet to do any employing it is considered desirable that interested parties take notice of what the policy and practice of the board will be.

During the course of the meeting W. B. Mathews, member of the California Commission on the Colorado River and special counsel for the Los Angeles water board, gave an informal report of the progress made at the recent tri-State conferences. He expressed the feeling of all concerned that a seven-State compact is much to be desired and that there still is hope of procuring the concurrence of Arizona.

PLEA FOR UNITY

"We western States interested in the development of the Colorado all want to be working together, and we do not want any State out of it," he said.

He also pointed out that Arizona and California have problems in this connection not shared by the other States, in that some agreement must be worked out with Mexico as to her rights in the waters of the river.

He paid a compliment to the Arizona commission by saying that it has on it three of the best attorneys in the State.

Mathews also voiced an optimistic view as to the river itself, expressing the belief that "the river will do better by us than we have been supposing." When the water is conserved, directed and handled intelligently the States are going to find that there will be much more water available than has been figured on, he thinks. As for California, he feels that she will fare well when the negotiations are completed. "The problems are many and complicated," he said, "but if we will just stay with it and continue to work patiently I feel that many things can be accomplished which ordinarily might be viewed with skepticism."

PASADENA'S QUERY

Pasadena addressed a communication to the board, advising that she is confronted with the necessity of doing something in the very near future about providing a water storage reservoir in San Gabriel Canyon, filings for which she has made with the proper authorities. She wishes to know as to the probability of tying in with the plans of the metropolitan district for a terminal storage for the Colorado River Aqueduct. That is to say, if Pasadena could build a reservoir which later could be used as a terminal storage by the district, she would be glad to enter negotiations. If not, she would like to know it now and make her own plans accordingly. Owing to her rate of growth she must provide additional water supply before the Colorado water can be made available. The communication was referred to a committee for consideration and conference with Chief Engineer Van Norman.

E. C. La Rue, former district engineer with the United States Geological Survey, was invited by the board to appear at its next meeting, on Friday, April 26, next, at 10 a.m., and present his plan for a proposed route of the Colorado River aqueduct. His is a gravity-flow plan. He is expected to present maps, charts and figures.

INSPECTION PLANNED

Members of the board plan to make an inspection tour within the next two weeks over the four major proposed routes for the aqueduct.

A letter from the Palo Verde Mesa and Chuckawalla Development Association, which apparently had been sent to a number of chambers of commerce in the district, came up for discussion. The letter is a lengthy one, discussing the Colorado River water problem with reference to any division of the water allocated to California, and suggests that a special commission be appointed by the Governor of California to handle the division of the water allocated to the State. The sentiment at yesterday's meeting was that the subject is not a matter for the district to pass upon, that the State Division of Water Rights already is empowered to adjudicate water rights. The city of Los Angeles has filed with the authorities on 1500 second feet of water from the Colorado in behalf

LONG-LOST SON FOUND; MOTHER NOW MISSING

Police inquiry yesterday revealed that a mother's ten-year search for her wounded soldier-son has been reversed by a queer twist of fate, with the son located and the mother now being sought.

On September 3, 1919, Cleo Dewey Allen, a wounded veteran of the World War, was sent to the Bryon-Elassor Reconstruction Hospital at Chattanooga, Tenn., for rehabilitation. Five days later he disappeared from the hospital. In 1927 his mother, Mrs. Lily Allen, of 5533 Long Beach avenue, Long Beach, asked the Los Angeles police to search for him here. A friend, Clarence Iverson, had told her that he had seen Allen in this city, though the long-sought veteran had denied his identity, saying he was Frank Jennings. Search failed to locate him.

Yesterday Detective Captain Allen, no relation of the persons involved in the strange case, received notification from Police Chief Black of San Jose that he had Cleo Dewey Allen in custody there. Capt. Allen hurried to the Long Beach address to carry the good news to the mother. She was not there, however, and the detective could not get any information as to her whereabouts. Search for her now is under way.

Guggenheim Expected to Leave Soon for East; Colonel's Plans Unknown

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh probably will leave the Santa Barbara home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Guggenheim where he has been a house guest for the past week, within the next few days, it was indicated yesterday in Santa Barbara reports that the Guggenheims are planning to return to the East on April 6, next.

Whether Col. Lindbergh will leave Southern California when Mr. and Mrs. Guggenheim vacate their winter residence could not be verified.

It is expected in Santa Barbara society circles that the colonel will remain at the Guggenheim residence for a dance to be given there next Monday evening in honor of Miss Nancy Guggenheim and two of her classmates from the Santa Barbara Girls' School, Misses Betty and Barbara Thacher.

Following a night at Mt. Wilson where they viewed the moon and stars through the 100-inch telescope as guests of Dr. Robert A. Millikan, Col. Lindbergh, Mr. and Mrs. Guggenheim, and Nancy flew back to the Chadbourne-Douglas Air Service field at Carpinteria yesterday morning in a new Lockheed-Vega monoplane.

Otho G. Lord and Jerome Rosenfield, attorneys, yesterday announced the opening of offices at suite 1202 Chester Williams Building for the general practice of law.

NEW STORM BREWS OVER BOULEVARD

Property Owners Fight Compromised Assessment Plan for Los Feliz

Although the original assessments for the widening of Los Feliz Boulevard and the east city boundary were changed as the result of appeals at previous hearings, the protesting property owners appeared before the City Council yesterday and announced they are as much displeased with the new assessments as they were with the previous ones.

Moreover the forces of the protestants were augmented by the addition of the Southern Pacific Railway. The original assessment of the railway had been $13,000, but in the revised assessments a levy of $40,000 has been placed on the road. A representative of the company present yesterday said it does not object to an increase in its original assessment but is not willing to pay more than $28,000.

Seeing no immediate way out of the tangle, the Council voted to continue the hearing to May 2 and the property owners present were advised that the Council's Street Opening and Widening Committee also will hold another hearing on the matter April 9.

Parrish Going to Conference

Dr. George Parrish, city health officer, was authorized by the City Health Commission yesterday to attend a conference of health officials of all ports on the Pacific Coast and officials of the Dollar Steamship Company in San Francisco to discuss measures to protect the Coast from infectious disease brought in from the Orient by steerage passengers. Date of the conference is to be announced later.

The plan is to have steerage passengers from the Orient examined at the port of embarkation instead of at Pacific Coast ports, and also to place in effect recommendations for treatment of patients and precautions while en route.

LAWYER SOUGHT IN GRIMES CASE

Attorney Linked to Arrest of Jacobson

Eight Witnesses Testify in Dramatic Trial

State Expects to Close on Monday or Tuesday

The District Attorney's office last night opened a searching investigation in an effort to locate a prominent criminal attorney, who through testimony yesterday at the so-called Jacobson "frame-up" trial was connected with the asserted conspiracy to arrest falsely and maliciously the Councilman in a Beagle-street morals raid eighteen months ago.

Clews to the identity of the attorney, although unnamed in the testimony, were being traced as result of the assertions from the witness stand by Attorney W. V. Anderson that Mrs. Callie Grimes, one of the defendants at trial, confessed to him that in addition to eight others the lawyer assisted in the asserted conspiracy.

The injection of the attorney and the new confession into the case came shortly before adjournment until Monday, and after a day replete with drama, in which tragedy and comedy marched through the prosaic record as eight witnesses walked to and from the witness stand.

BITTER STRUGGLE

Counsel for Mrs. Grimes, Police Officers Wallis, Williams, Cox, Raymond and Lucas; Charles Crawford, a politician, and Albert Marco, convicted vice dictator, the defendants on trial, fought stubbornly as the prosecution continued with the presentation of evidence. The State expects to close Monday or early Tuesday.

Mrs. Rose Jacobson and Miss Edna Jacobson, the Councilman's wife and daughter, came to his defense during the morning session and testified in corroboration to his statements surrounding the asserted "frame-up." The defense bitterly is attacking his story.

Tragedy appeared on the witness stand in the person of James Donald Crawford, whose father was murdered Thursday night.

Disheveled, half-weeping and still in custody for questioning on the death of his father, young Crawford ambled dejectedly to the stand from where he pointed out Raymond and charged the officer threatened him on the night of Jacobson's arrest with Mrs. Grimes in her Beagle-street cottage.

STORY RELATED

When the bedraggled young man was seated in the witness chair with all eyes on him, the jury, which is not permitted to read the newspapers, cast puzzled glances at the witness. Judge Wood appeased the curiosity by the simple statement to the jurors that Crawford's father had been murdered.

"I was waiting for my girl," said the youth on the verge of tears, "and I heard a crash in the Grimes place. A man came running around the house and told me I'd better move on. That man was Raymond."

That was the second time during the day that witnesses had leveled their fingers at Raymond. Mrs. Fern Carlin, a neighbor of Mrs. Grimes, declared that the Beagle-street woman introduced her to the officer a few days before the raid. Mrs. Carlin identified Raymond in court.

FLURRY CAUSED

Anderson's appearance on the stand created a flurry in the defense ranks, and attempts were made to prevent his testimony about conversations with Mrs. Grimes on the grounds they were privileged relations between attorney and client. Anderson denied the relations, and the court ordered him to proceed.

"About September 1, 1928, she came to my office and introduced herself," Anderson testified. "She said she had been double-crossed and wanted to tell me what happened in the Jacobson case, since I had represented the Councilman at his Municipal Court trial.

"She said she had met Jacobson at the City Hall on an assessment matter and he later came to her house, where he made advances to her and tried to make love to her.

"She said she told Cox, her brother-in-law, about her experience with Jacobson and later met Marco and Crawford at Cox's home where she agreed to try and get Jacobson in a position where he would be arrested but they did not agree on plans for the compromise.

"At another meeting at Cox's home she said she met Marco again and agreed to try to get Jacobson

NIX ROILED IN JULIAN QUIZ

City Prosecutor Accuses Council of Hindering Cases When it Asks About Funds

Accusing the City Council of attempting to "hinder and delay the disposition" of the 143 Julian usury complaints filed more than a year ago, City Prosecutor Nix, in a brief letter sent yesterday in response to that body's request for information as to the progress of the cases, indicates that he will prosecute the cases without the additional $25,000 he requested for that purpose.

The Council has requested more definite information as to the $10,000 already appropriated and spent for prosecution of the usury cases before giving Nix the additional amount asked. Nix also declares that he is not interested in those assigned to the cases prior to his taking office. The Council also had requested that the deputy in charge of the cases be instructed to appear before its Finance Committee to explain the present status of the cases. Nix was unable to comply with this request as Arthur Roenblum, the deputy in charge of their preparation, was one of the numerous employees dismissed by him immediately after he assumed office.

The full text of the letter follows:

"I have no knowledge and am not concerned with those assigned to the usury cases prior to my assuming control of this office. I am responsible for its proper conduct at this time.

"Your honorable body having seen fit to delay and hinder the disposition of the Julian usury cases now pending in this office, I have instructed certain of my staff to prosecute the cases to the best of their ability, even to the sacrifice of their other duties in this office.

"Respectfully,

"LLOYD S. NIX."

SOMEWHERE ON THE BORDER.—Maj. Hazeltine, who is in command of two troops of the Tenth Cavalry, one machine gun company and one company of the Twenty-fifth Infantry at Naco, has handled the situation with great tact. He has established the most friendly — even charming — relationships — with the Mexican generals in the Federal garrison.

In a way, this must have been an easy job; for they are invariably delightful men. A well-bred Mexican is ordinarily about as graceful and tactful and charming a fellow as could be met with anywhere. In the main, they have been very friendly and almost pathetically trustful with the American newspaper men. Their confidences have not been abused.

GROCERIES GO HIGH

Bisbee has still another distinction. It is the only place in the world where groceries are delivered by burro.

The city is built in the bottom of a deep, steep canyon. Most of the houses hug the sides of a precipice. I imagine that the householders wear climbing irons when they go home. The grocery delivery wagons lug the sugar up to the edge of the snow line; from there on it is delivered by pack burros. This is the Bible truth.

FAME A LA CEMETERY

The only extra edition of the Tombstone Epitaph has just boomed forth. And boom is right. The occasion was the thrilling announcement that a big tourist hotel is to be built there. This because Tombstone is the best-advertised town in the Southwest. They ought to put up a monument to the old gunmen who used to have their innocent fun shooting each other on the main street of that burg. It is the only town in the world that ever became famous because of a cemetery.

GIVING BACK LOOT

A very strange thing is happening in relation to the old missions of California.

During the years they have been looted of everything that could be carried away, including the tile roofs. Now this loot is coming back again. At all the missions they tell me this.

In some cases curio dealers are giving back priceless church furniture that has come into their hands. In other cases the families who carried it away have experienced a long-delayed qualm of conscience.

STOLE INFANT JESUS

One of the most curious cases of theft on record at any of the missions was at San Miguel, where some one stole the infant Jesus from the arms of the Virgin Mary.

Band Will Give Easter Concert

Outstanding among many elaborate musical programs featuring Easter Sunday in Los Angeles will be the opening spring concert at Lincoln Park, for the Los Angeles City Park Board, by Harold W. Roberts's Golden State Band. For this occasion the band will be augmented to sixty-five pieces and the entertainment will begin at 1:30 p.m.

During intermissions hundreds of candy Easter eggs will be distributed among the children. Brief addresses will be given by representatives of the Park Board and the Lincoln Heights Commercial and Industrial Association. Speakers will include Mrs. Mabel V. Socha and W. A. Wilson.

Selections also will be given by the U.S.C. Women's Glee Club.

Son Confesses Slaying of Father, Declaring He Shot Drunken Parent to Protect Mother

BLOODY PISTOL FOUND IN TREE

Youth Sobs Out Sordid Tale of Family Fight

Park Employee Beat Wife, Lad Asserts

"Jacobson Angle" of Case Admitted Fanciful

A written confession that he killed his father was made by Jack Crawford, Jr., 18 years of age, to Assistant Chief Deputy District Attorney Jordan late yesterday afternoon. The elder Crawford, caretaker of Rose Hill Park, was shot three times Friday night in his home at 1178 McKenzie street, and died almost instantly. Police at that time took into custody his two sons, Jack and Donald, 20, Mrs. Bessie Crawford, the widow, and Herbert Wilson, Mrs. Crawford's brother, all of whom were in or near the house at the time of the shooting.

The case assumed a particular significance in that Donald had been subpoenaed as a witness in the Jacobson case, and that the four arrested denied that they knew who committed the murder, other than that they heard Crawford say, "They got me," just before he died.

YOUTH CONFESSES

The young son confessed yesterday, however, after Chief of Detectives Cline and other police officers obtained irrefutable evidence pointing toward his guilt.

"Father came home drunk and was beating my mother," declared the boy between sobs, as he confessed. "He started to beat me when I tried to protect her. There was a gun on the dresser and I picked it up and shot. I don't remember very well—everything went kind of blank."

To both the police and the District Attorney's office, young Crawford declared that his brother's connection with the Jacobson case had nothing to do with the killing. Mrs. Crawford and the brother each made statements to the same effect.

In detail the youthful slayer's story is this: He and his brother and Wilson were playing pool in a sort of subcellar of the Crawford house at about 7 o'clock Thursday evening, when they heard their father come home. Almost immediately, it is asserted, an argument broke out between the father and mother that assumed the proportions of physical combat.

FIGHT IN HOUSE

Jack said that he hurried upstairs and found his father throwing dishes at his mother and in other ways abusing her. Walking to the older man, the son said, he laid his hand on his shoulder and tried to quiet him, but the father's answer was to hit the boy over the head with a bread board. The battle then began between father and son and raged from room to room of the house, until in a bedroom the boy's hand closed on the gun.

After the shooting, the boy ran out the back door, and hid the gun, a small, nickel-plated revolver, in the hollow trunk of an elm tree in the back yard.

When the fight between father and son began the mother rushed from the house, and was not a witness to the shooting. However, after she found her husband dead, she and her two sons and brother agreed to try to protect Jack.

REMAIN SILENT

With this idea in mind they withstood all questioning by the police, until Police Officer Vernon of Lincoln Heights Division, one of the officers stationed at the scene of the murder, found the gun in the tree trunk. It was blood stained.

Confronted with this evidence by Chief Cline and Captain of Detectives Davidson, Mrs. Crawford broke down and gave the details of the shooting. In the major particulars her story coincided with that of her son, who confessed later, when she, too, was confronted with the gun.

Young Crawford was booked on a charge of murder after making his confession, and the police prepared to release the others from custody after they had signed written statments.

The shooting of the father by the son puts a period to another sordid chapter in the life of the Crawfords.

FAMILY RECORD

Like a family album identification records reveal police histories for every member of the family. The elder Crawford was arrested numerous times for possession of liquor, once for having a gambling device in a house near his home and once in connection with a robbery. Jack served a sentence in a reform school for robbery when but 16 years of age, and later was picked up on suspicion of insanity after he is said to have threatened to kill his mother.

His brother, Donald, was apprehended as a delinquent after he had been found in possession of a revolver in a raid at the Crawford home. And Mrs. Crawford, the records disclose, forfeited $500 bail following her arrest on a Wright Act charge.

ARRESTS MADE

The records are set forth as follows: Jack Crawford, Sr., arrested October 2, 1926, for possession of half a gallon of green liquor and one gallon of wine; October 10, 1925, for possession of six pints of beer; July 29, 1925, for possession of twenty-seven cases of beer, beer-making apparatus, and eleven gallons of wine; April 5, 1925, for possession of dice and pool table used as a gambling device in a house at 1158 McKenzie avenue, and September 6, 1923, on suspicion of robbery.

Jack was arrested June 30, 1927, and sent to Preston for implication in the robbery of the West Third-street Bottling Works at 3803 West Third street; February 27 of the same year for possession of liquor; August 28, 1926, on suspicion of insanity because of threats to kill his mother.

Mrs. Crawford's arrest occurred August 27, 1926. Donald was taken into custody April 5, 1925, and later paroled to his parents.

OFFICIAL WASTE DECRIED

Taxpayers Hear Charge County and City Government Overlapping Cause of Lost Efficiency

That the Los Angeles county and city governments overlap and decrease the efficiency of law administration and executive jurisdiction was charged last night at a dinner of the California Taxpayers' Association in the Clark Hotel by Rolland A. Vandegrift, director of research for the association.

"One of the most striking criticisms of American citizens today is the fact that they neglect to apply to government the same efficient methods which they insist on having applied in their business," Mr. Vandegrift concluded.

A complete study will be made of the next Los Angeles county budget with the purpose of determining whether certain county institutions are expending their shares judicially, it was decided by the Los Angeles county committee under the chairmanship of E. F. Undrehill.

Opposition to the Senate bill which will increase salaries of the members of the County Board of Supervisors from $5000 to $10,000 a year, was contained in a resolution adopted by the organization's county committee.

The resolution stated in part that "the bill provides that each member of the Board of Supervisors shall receive an annual salary of $5000, to be paid out of the tax funds of the flood-control district in addition to the salary already received. We question the plan's legality if made effective during the present board's term of office. The principle of the salary increase as set forth in the bill is wrong."

Hubby's 'Church' Jail, Says Wife

"Henry Elberg insisted that we be married at the altar and have a big church wedding, because he said he was a church member in good standing and unless he was married in the church he would feel as if he had not been married," Lillie Elbert declared to Superior Judge Burnell in asking annulment of her marriage.

Mrs. Elberg further stated that after the ceremony she found out that Elberg had never been in a church until the day of their wedding and that he had served four terms in prison.

An annulment was granted at the close of the hearing.

NINE CO-EDS INITIATED

Tri-C, women's honorary journalistic society at the University of California at Los Angeles, yesterday initiated nine new members with a ceremony conducted at 5 p.m. at the Alpha Xi Delta Sorority house, 1011 North Berendo street. The new members are Elizabeth Campbell, Fairfax Stephenson, Claire Eddy, Katherine Campbell, Bernice Karno, Mary Guay Chapman, Mabel Frose, Ruth Roberts and Ruth Prussia.

ONE SHOT AS MATCH SETS FEUD FLAME

Soldiers' Home Quarrel Over Trifle Leads to Use of Newly Bought Gun

A single match lying on a locker in the barracks of Company Nine at the Sawtelle Soldiers' Home yesterday kindled a feud between two colored members of the company, which resulted in one being wounded and the other arrested charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Albert Williams, 34 years of age, was shot in the left thigh just above the knee and injured seriously. A few minutes later William Moore, Jr., 21, surrendered to C. C. Garnett, a guard, and admitted the shooting, according to Deputy Sheriffs Croushorn and Brewster, assigned to the investigation.

Witnesses assert that Moore and Williams quarreled over a match which Moore picked up from Williams's locker. A fight ensued, in which Williams knocked Moore down, it is charged.

Moore then went to a hardware store, the officers assert, bought a small shot gun, returned to the barracks and shot Williams.

'Unloaded' Gun Injures Youth; Companion Held

Shot through the head by a gun that wasn't "loaded," Von Marow, 12 years of age, is in the hospital with a fractured skull and a brain concussion, and John Condon, 13, his playmate, is in Juvenile Hall charged with assault with a deadly weapon, as the result of a shooting yesterday near the injured lad's home at 424 Riverdale avenue.

With Lester Johnson, 14, of 2422 Slober Place, the two boys, according to police, were examining a .22-caliber rifle that belonged to the Marow boy, when Condon seized the weapon and, aiming at Marow, pulled the trigger. A bullet pierced the boy's skull.

Detective Lieutenants Curry and Rosselli of the Lincoln Heights division reported finding a blood-stained stick near the scene, which they declared may indicate a fight took place.

JURORS WEIGH BALANCE OF RIGHTS AND WRONGS

It took a jury of nine women and three men an hour and a half yesterday to decide which of two women who sued each other after a hair-pulling fight over a man was entitled to $1 damages.

The jury almost immediately returned a verdict of $1 for each of the litigants, Mrs. Anna Mefford, who sued Mrs. Mamie Barclay, restaurant owner, for $10,000, and Mrs. Barclay, who sued Mrs. Mefford for $15,000. Then Superior Judge Fletcher Bowron explained that the issues were directly controversial and the jury must decide which of the women was at fault. That started the argument. Finally, it was decided to award the dollar to Mrs. Mefford.

The man over whom the women fought, Norman Wilbur, testified that he formerly had been engaged to marry Mrs. Mefford, but that after three wedding dates had been broken he became discouraged. He was sitting at the corner of Poinsettia Place and Santa Monica Boulevard, October 31, he said, talking to Mrs. Barclay, when Mrs. Mefford came across the street.

"Mrs. Mefford called Mrs. Barclay an unladylike name," said Wilbur, "and then the fight began. They pulled hair and everything. Finally, I told Mrs. Barclay this was no place for her and took her across the street to her restaurant."

A chef in Mrs. Barclay's cafe testified his employer was attacked and had to defend herself from Mrs. Mefford.

Mrs. Margaret Kohnke, sister of Mrs. Mefford, who witnessed the fight, said each woman thought that Wilbur loved her. Mrs. Barclay appeared at the scene of the altercation, she said, and demanded that the other woman "leave Wilbur alone."

"Then," said Mrs. Kohnke, "she took my sister by the throat, pulled her hair and kicked her."

Denying these charges, Mrs. Barclay insisted she was the party attacked.

LAWYER LISTED IN "FRAME-UP"

Prominent Attorney Sought in Jacobson Case

Second Confession Laid to Mrs. Grimes by Witness

Wife and Daughter Go on Stand for Councilman

to her house on the understanding that she was to get $1000 and $100 a month as long as she lived. She said Marco drove her to her home, brought the whisky and gave instructions.

"She said there was a criminal attorney in on the affair, but she would not give me his name. She was very bitter toward Jacobson and said he was as much to blame in the affair as she was."

The attorney said he was told by Mrs. Grimes that she received a total of about $1100 for participating in the asserted "frame-up" and that she was sick and wanted to sell her story.

"She said she wanted money and I told her she was in the wrong place," Anderson said.

Under voir dire proceedings, which permits the defense to take the witness, Anderson then was the object of attack from Mrs. Grimes's counsel, because the court has ruled that the testimony is applicable only to her. He will return to the stand Monday.

TELLS OF CARS

Daniel J. Wyman, who at the time of the raid lived at 4460 Turquoise street, testified that he saw police cars in the neighborhood between 7:30 and 8 p.m. on the evening of the arrest. He said the cars remained parked near his house until after 9 p.m. He was excused after a short cross-examination.

James Wharton, a service station keeper, caused the prosecution to admit surprise when he declared he could not identify any of the defendants as having been in the Beagle-street neighborhood on the evening of the affair, nor could he testify that the automobiles he saw were police cars.

The defense attempted on cross-examination to attack the credibility of young Crawford's testimony on the grounds of bias toward police. He denied the questions.

"Didn't you at one time threaten some officers with a gun and a billy saying, 'I have no us for cops and if I ever have an opportunity to get them, I will?'"

"No," replied the witness, with trembling lips.

Aside from the bit of tragedy in court, laughter broke forth in the courtroom at intervals during the day as quips between counsel and not infrequently impassioned oratorical objections won a round of smiles.

Mrs. Jacobson, wife of the Councilman, went to the witness stand and corroborated her husband's testimony of Thursday, in which he revealed a purported confession of Mrs. Grimes to the asserted "frame-up" which hitherto had not been made public.

Mrs. Jacobson said she went with her husband last October to meet Mrs. Grimes at Temple and Berendo streets.

"Just as she got into our car," Mrs. Jacobson testified, "she said, 'I am ashamed to meet you, but after it's all over with you'll be happy.'"

The statement of the Councilman's wife temporarily was halted by a host of objections from defense counsel. Whereupon Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison arose and declared:

"I am attempting under the limited rules of evidence to elicit the truth for this jury."

DAUGHTER APPEARS

Mrs. Jacobson was on the stand but a short while, and was excused without cross-examination. Her daughter, Miss Edna, a university student, was called then in her father's behalf.

The daughter said she put the family car in the garage at the Jacobson home, 3014 Terry Place, about 8:15 o'clock on the evening of her father's arrest. Then she testified that her father was called to the telephone between 8:45 and 9 p.m. and she heard him mention street assessments.

"Then he told me he would have to go out there," Miss Jacobson said.

Her testimony also was vigorously objected to, but she was excused without cross-examination.

MORE ABOUT AUTOS

R. J. Francour, a law student living at 4455 Turquoise street, testified that he saw two police automobiles and another closed car drive to and park at South Huntington Drive and Turquoise street at about 7:15 p.m. on the day of the arrest.

Dennison asserted that Miss Jacobson's testimony and that of Francour is a strong link in the prosecution's case, because the latter saw the police in the neighborhood of the raid an hour before Miss Jacobson put away the family car and an hour and one-half before Miss Grimes is asserted to have called Jacobson on the telephone inviting him over to her Beagle-street cottage.

Mrs. Carlin, a resident of the Beagle-street neighborhood, who was the first witness called at the morning session testified that on Sunday prior to August 5, 1927, she was caring for Mrs. Grimes's daughter, Virginia, and the woman introduced her to a man she identified as Harry Raymond.

On the afternoon of the day of the raid, Mrs. Carlin testified that she also saw Cox, Mrs. Grimes and Raymond drive to the woman's home, park their car and go into the house.

"Do you see the man in the courtroom whom Mrs. Grimes introduced to you?" Dep. Dist.-Atty. Bush inquired.

"Yes," she replied, and dramatically pointed to Raymond.

On cross-examination the defense attacked Mrs. Carlin's testimony on the grounds that in 1920 she had been committed to the Sonoma State Home for the Feeble-minded. The witness denied she had been a mental case, saying she was sent to the home on the understanding it was a rest institution.

ALIMONY DECLARED EXCESSIVE

Hulett C. Merritt, Jr., in Court Protesting Order for $1100 Monthly

Because Hulett C. Merritt, Jr., is getting a salary of only $1250 a month now, for managing a ranch, he can't pay his wife $1100 a month alimony, he says in his answer to an order to show cause, in Superior Judge Smith's court yesterday.

Mrs. Merritt cited her former husband on a contempt charge as failing to pay his alimony. She asserts that his father, Hulett Merritt, Sr., Pasadena millionaire, created a trust fund in 1924 for his son and his son's family. She asks that she be paid her alimony out of the proceeds of this trust.

Mrs. Merritt was granted a divorce in 1926, and the alimony allowed for her support and that of her daughter, Ariadne. Merritt has married a second time.

The trial has been on the court calendar for more than a year. Most of the time yesterday was taken up by arguments on legal points and selection of a jury. The defendant's father was the first witness.

BUNNYVILLE MECCA FOR YOUNGSTERS

Hundreds of Children Go to See Easter Exhibit of the Broadway Store

Bunnyville, that haven of Easter rabbits where Peter Rabbit is king, has become the Mecca of hundreds of Los Angeles children in the past week and with just two more days to go before Easter, preparations have been made by the Broadway Department Store, Inc., to accommodate hundreds of children who will visit this magic land before Peter Rabbit's invitation expires.

Bunnyville is located on the eighth floor.

The first glimpse of Bunnyville reveals Humpty Dumpty. Humpty sits on his wall just outside of the gates of Bunnyville, a few feet away from Chicken Little, who really is keeper of the gate.

The most interesting thing to the children is the magic wishing tree. Peter Rabbit asks each one of his little guests to stand under the tree on a certain spot and make a wish. The wish always is answered and each child receives a surprise Easter package from Peter Rabbit.

Girl Missing at Trip End; Search Asked

Mrs. Sadie Latimer of 4120 Monroe street appealed to the Sheriff's office last night to institute a search for her 17-year-old daughter, Eleanor Jane, who, she declared, has disappeared mysteriously instead of arriving in Omaha, Neb.

The mother told officers she escorted the girl aboard a train at 11 a.m. Thursday, starting her on a visit to her father, L. W. Latimer, in the Nebraska city. Late yesterday, she received word that Eleanor had not arrived. It is the mother's belief that she left the train at a station not far from Los Angeles and returned here to rejoin her chums, on account of whom she had objected to making the journey.

The missing girl has red hair, blue eyes, is five feet fous inches in height and weighs 114 pounds. She was wearing a dark-blue tailored suit with white fur collar and a close-fitting black felt hat.

TOMLINSON TO PILOT FAST MADDUX PLANE

Lieut. D. W. Tomlinson, vice-president of Maddux Air Lines and former leader of the Navy's Three Sea Hawks, was announced yesterday to take personal charge of the line's first fast express plane leaving here Monday. It is to fly from Los Angeles to San Francisco on a new through schedule of three hours. Maddux is inaugurating this to supplement its local service daily through Fresno and Bakersfield to the Bay City. The new daily express planes leave both cities at 2:30 to arrive before 5:30 p.m. Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale, and Alameda are the terminals. Locals leave Los Angeles at 11:30 and San Francisco at 11:10 a.m. The Los Angeles-Phoenix plane will be rerouted Monday, going by way of San Diego to Imperial and Phoenix. An extra plane daily to San Diego at 4 p.m. starts Monday.

J. C. Bliss will discuss "The Importance of Proper Selection of a Building Site" at university college, University of Southern California, Monday evening, when organization will be completed of a twelve-week lecture course in building and property management conducted by Rollen H. NAME CHANGE POLL URGED

The whole city would vote on whether the name of that portion of Sunset Boulevard between Hollywood Boulevard and Main street shall be changed to Hollywood Boulevard, under the terms of a resolution introduced in the City Council yesterday by Councilman Foster. The resolution asks the Council to make provision to have a proposition embodying the name change put on the ballot at the coming primary elections.

No action was taken on the resolution, since the Council is scheduled to vote next Friday on a report of its Street Opening and Widening Committee concerning the proposed change of name. The resolution was referred to that committee for consideration in making its report.

After a hearing on the matter conducted by the committee last Monday, it was indicated that the committee's report will recommend against the change of name.

THREE BANKERS FACE CHARGES

Former Tellers Indicted by Federal Grand Jury

Nine Other Persons Accused of Various Crimes

Couple Said to Have Sold Narcotics to Agents

Three former bank tellers are among those indicted yesterday in ten true bills returned in United States District Court by the Federal grand jury. Nine others were indicted on various charges.

Arthur Vernon Dudley, former teller of the People's National Bank, is accused of embezzlement of about $25,000 in one indictment. The asserted embezzlements are said to have been over a period of months. Dudley was arrested and has furnished bond for his appearance. Bail was set at $3000.

EX-TELLER LISTED

David Roy Coleman, former teller and assistant manager of the Escondido branch of the Bank of Italy, National Trust and Savings Association, was indicted for embezzlement of about $4500 of bank funds. His bail was fixed at $3000.

Coroner Nance Holds Inquest on Own Office

Investigation of charges that an attendant in the Coroner's office has sold funeral cases to various Los Angeles undertakers was started in earnest yesterday by Coroner Frank Nance, following a preliminary inquiry. Virtually the entire day was spent in questioning employees.

"I still find it hard to believe that any of my employees would be a party to such an act," the Coroner said, "but I intend to press the investigation to a close, and if there is one man or ten men who have engaged in such transactions they will be dismissed."

Coroner Nance added that he is inclined to believe the charges may have been fostered by a disgruntled undertaker, dissatisfied with the office policy which forbids any employee doing anything to influence the selection of an undertaker.

Volstead Act Suspect Held

After being sought by police for nine days on information which they say involved him in extensive liquor operations, Harry C. Hathaway, 30 years of age, was arrested yesterday in front of his home at 6530 West Sixth street and booked on charges of Wright Act possession and suspicion of conspiracy to violate the Volstead Act. He was apprehended while seated in a sedan, in which Detective Lieutenants Berenzweig and Irvine, of the vice division, assert they found a quart of liquor and fifty cases of empty liquor bottles.

Hathaway is under $30,000 bond, according to Federal officials, in connection with liquor smuggling cases now pending before the Federal Court.

Crandall Asks County and City to Join Forces for Federal Building

Recommendation was made yesterday to the City Council and County Supervisors that those two bodies join with the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce in support of the plan for the Federal government to buy the necessary land adjacent to the proposed civic center and erect a building that will be adequate for the future needs of the government, Shannon Crandall, president of the chamber, announced.

The recommendation was made on the basis of figures showr in a survey of the growth of Los Angeles in the last two decades. These figures indicate that if the government does not enlarge their plans for the building it will be congested within the next few years.

These figures and statistics, compiled by the chamber, will be presented to the necessary authorities in Washington by District Engineer William Arthur Newman, Federal agent in charge of construction in the Southwest. Newman has gone to Washington and will, through the statistical survey, show the need for a larger building than is planned at this time.

Reassignment of Municipal Judges Made

Reassignment of four Municipal Court judges, effective April 1, next, is made in a general order issued yesterday by Presiding Judge Turney. The changes, Judge Turney said, are necessitated by the fact that Municipal Judge Pope, who has been assigned to Superior Court, is relieved from his work there.

Judge Reed, who has been sitting in civil court, will sit Monday and thereafter as one of the two traffic court magistrates. Judge Swain being the other. Police Judge McLay of Lynwood, who has been sitting in traffic court continuously since his assignment to Municipal Court nearly a year ago, is relieved from Municipal Court work. Reviewers Will Visit Hollywood

As part of a plan to bring about a closer personal contact between the motion-picture business and the men and women who write about it, fifty film-play reviewers, one from each of as many key cities, will visit Hollywood this summer as the guests of Samuel Goldwyn, producer, according to an announcement from his studio yesterday. They will be selected by balloting on the part of theater patrons and brought here on a special train from Chicago.

FIGHT WAGED HERE ON DEADLY ONIONS

A nation-wide drive to rid the United States of canned onions imported from Naples, Italy, on the ground that governmental tests have shown a large percentage of the product to be infected with botulinus and other deadly toxins, reached Los Angeles yesterday, when sixty inspectors of the city health department began to work to round up all cans of a certain brand for destruction. The warning was issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, which found on testing 368 cans of the onions in more than a dozen middle western and eastern cities that twenty-two of them were so highly toxic that they caused the death of guinea pigs in tests, while thirty others yielded cultures fatal to guinea pigs. Of the cans tested, 14 per cent were found to be poisonous.

GANG SLAYING TRIAL ASSURED

Efforts to Balk Hearing of Trio Frustrated

State Wins Legal Fight in Palombo Killing

Group Accused of Ridding Victim from Car

Efforts to block the trial of Ardito, Mike Puglio and Deciola, charged with the murder of August Palombo during an asserted gang fight, failed yesterday in Superior Judge Shaw's court when the court dismissed another charge pending against the defendants without prejudice.

The motion for dismissal was made by W. T. Kendrick, Jr., who urged that it be dismissed "with prejudice."

Inasmuch as the original case against the defendants was dismissed with the pending action it is to have been dismissed "with prejudice" would have been impossible to prosecute the defendants for Palombo's death under the present complaint under the law, according to the Dist.-Atty. Monahan, who is in charge of the prosecution.

The original charge against the defendants was filed shortly after Palombo's death but the complaint was prosecuted because of lack of evidence. Recently, however, additional evidence was obtained and a new complaint was issued by the District Attorney.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Monahan also obtained an extension of ten days in which to file the information against the defendants.

The three defendants are accused of shooting Palombo to death with shot guns from a speeding automobile car while the victim was in his automobile near his home.

The sale of stock to McDonald & Kahn by Ross will cause a change in the organization, and he will retain his position as president and be identified with the construction of the dam. The actual work at the dam is under the supervision of Andrew Cassel, formerly field superintendent for the contracting concern of McDonald & Kahn.

Reports that Claude Fisher, member of the contracting company, had sold his interest in the project, were denied yesterday by Fisher.

Fletcher of that city, who has played a prominent part in developing the water system there, it was said he was asked by the board to attend the meeting and to make a report for the consideration of the San Diego authorities. He conferred also with members of the board individually.

Health Board to Ask Council for New Hon

Provision for an adequate city health building in the Civic Center to take care of the city's expansion for the next twenty years will be asked of the City Council according to a decision of the City Health Commission yesterday.

Council will be asked to place a bond issue of $1,000,000 up to the voters at the next election to provide for a building with 75,000 square feet of floor space.

A handsome white steel framed structure, similar to the City Hall in construction, will be requested, except that the building will be wider or in proportion to its size so as to make it convenient for patrons instead of the asserted inconvenience of a tall building.

The present building at the corner of Main and Temple streets, considered an eyesore to the neighborhood City Hall, has been the object of considerable condemnation by the City Council, which desires to have it pulled down. The health department, however, having nowhere else to go, has refused to move and demands a new and adequate building that will compare with the best in the United States.

SIX-MONTH TEST PLANNED BY P.E.

Company Says Proposed Fare Rise New Experiment

Delays With Opponents of Increase Aimed At

Witness Declares Figures Will Prove Losses

The application of the Pacific Electric Railroad to the State Railroad Commission requesting an increase in rates will state that the company plans to try the requested rates for a period of six months, it was announced at the company's offices yesterday.

At the same time D. W. Pontius, president and general manager, and Frank Karr, vice-president and general counselor of the company, announced that the impending opposition to the company's proposed rate increase by cities affected will be met in an amicable program of delay so far as the company is concerned.

Announcement Thursday by the company that a proposed change in the present schedule will be asked to make the experimental-fare schedule established by the Railroad Commission last April 7 expires at midnight tomorrow, resulted in many local organizations and civic leaders laying plans to oppose the railroad's request when it is placed before the railroad commission body.

COMPILING FIGURES

"We have figures which will undoubtedly clarify any misunderstanding any community or organization may have as to the way we propose to try a six-months' schedule," Mr. Karr said. "Today a corps of experts was working on books of the company compiling figures and arguments to be submitted before the commission when a hearing is set for hearing of the application.

APPLICATION IN ORDER

"Commutation rates were increased more than 20 per cent," Mr. Pontius stated.

"It was the opposition that has been voiced to the company's proposed rates that prompted Mr. Pontius and Mr. Karr to personally asserted that the application for a rate increase is in accordance with the decision handed down by the Railroad Commission in the present schedule was established a year ago.

According to the "Opinions and Orders" of the commission under Decision No. 18219 of April 12, 1927, a hearing will be granted an application if the rates approved at that time are unsatisfactory.

QUESTIONS AS TO LEASES

In justifying their application to the commission, company officials have cited that despite the increase in passenger traffic during the year the company suffered a deficit during that year of $809,418.26 more than it did in 1927.

The question of interurban fares including commutation rates to a lower degree and rescinding local rates is expected to produce a substantial increase in passenger traffic, it is said, to give the company the additional revenue it asserts is necessary.

The company officials state, however, that $828,000 brought in only $12,417,- as against $12,417,- in the previous year.

In additional argument Mr. Pontius and Mr. Karr contend that not only in one period of the day does the company earns money on operating expenses. That is the rush period during the morning hours, they said.

Health Board to Ask Council for New Home

Plans for an adequate new health building in the Civic Center will be requested, executive officer of the building will be widened in proportion to its size so as to be more convenient for patrons, because of the asserted inconvenience of the present building at the corner of Main and Temple streets. Dr. [illegible] has been the object of condemnation by the Council, which desires to have it torn down. The health department, however, having nowhere else to go, has refused to move and declares a new and adequate building will compare with the best in the United States.

STAGE LINE SPROUTS WINGS

Pickwick System Inaugurates Daily Air Service from Los Angeles to San Diego

Land transportation sprouted another full-fledged set of wings yesterday with the inauguration of the Pickwick Airways, a creation of the Pickwick Stages System, at the Grand Central Air Terminal in Glendale. The initial flight marked the beginning of regular service between Los Angeles and San Diego, with a schedule of three round trips daily.

Preceding the take-off, there were brief dedication ceremonies in which city and county officials from Los Angeles and Glendale and aviation notables took part. The first plane of the fleet was taxied up before the grand stand where some 500 air-minded enthusiasts had gathered and while the band struck up a tune and the cameras clicked, Miss Bobbie Trout, former holder of the woman's endurance record, swung the bottle against the side of the ship in the traditionally prescribed christening ceremony.

FITTS SPEAKS

Dist.-Atty. Fitts spoke briefly on the desirability of keeping California in its present status of leader in the field of aviation. Thomas E. Morgan, vice-president and general manager of Pickwick Airways, said his company believes so firmly in the future of air transportation that it intends to give its best efforts to the development of commercial aviation. Other speakers were C. C. Spicer, Col. Henry O. Wheeler, chairman of the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mayor MacBain of Glendale. Victor Clark acted as master of ceremonies.

The planes in the new service are trimotored Bach ships, powered with a 525-horsepower Pratt & Whitney Hornet motor and two 200-horsepower Comet motors. They have space for eight passengers and two pilots, and are equipped with every modern convenience, such as electric lights, air cushions, chairs, electric heaters, drinking fountain and lavatory. Flying time between this city and San Diego will be one hour and fifteen minutes, with the Grand Central Terminal here and Lindbergh Field in San Diego as passenger depots.

GUESTS ON PLANE

Officers of the Pickwick Stages System, which operates stages from the Pacific to the Atlantic, also head the new air venture. Charles E. Wren is president and Capt. William A. Frye, former flying instructor during the World War both in the United States and Europe, will be in direct charge of all flying operations.

When the first plane left for San Diego yesterday special guests who went as passengers were Miss Ruth Elder, Al Wilson, F. M. Schiegel of the Shell Oil Company, Morton Bach, airplane inventor, Henry Hollman, Jack Howell, Victor Clark and Capt. Walter Clausen, president of the Los Angeles Reserve Officers' Association. Capt. Frye piloted the plane.

ADDITIONAL POLICE ASKED

Commission Requests City Council to Provide Funds for 500 More Officers at Once

The City Council received a request from the Police Commission yesterday for an immediate addition of 500 men to the personnel of the police department. The commission advised the Council that it is making its request at this time because of the complaints lodged with it by the West Highland Park Improvement Association concerning lack of sufficient police protection in that neighborhood. The communication automatically was referred to the Council's Finance Committee, which probably will consider it at its meeting Monday.

In a report of Chief Davis to the commission, which was attached to the commission's letter, the police chief asserted that the West Highland Park section has more adequate police protection than many other sections of the city, but he added that the department as a whole is woefully undermanned. He cited figures to show that Los Angeles has fewer policemen per square mile of its area than any other large city in the country.

The additional personnel requested by the commission is the same as that which the commission already has requested in its budgetary demands for the next fiscal year, but in its letter to the Council yesterday asks that the Council immediately appropriate sufficient money to hire the additional policemen at once and pay their salaries for the remainder of the present fiscal year.

If the Council grants the commission's request, there will be added to the police force, according to the outline submitted by the commission, two deputy chiefs, two inspectors of detectives, six captains of detectives, thirty-four detective lieutenants, fourteen lieutenants of police, twenty-one sergeants, 376 patrolmen, twenty-five motorcycle officers and twenty policewomen.

FIFTY BOY DAM-BUILDERS BAGGED FOR SACK RAIDS

Fifty boys, ranging from 7 to 17 years of age, were lined up in the Highland Park police station yesterday morning for getting too inspired.

With an engineer for President and everybody thinking about Boulder dam, the boys decided it would be a great stunt to build a dam in Arroyo Seco, not only as a token of their enthusiasm and admiration but also as the assurance of a first-class place in which to swim. The leaders found all the boys in the neighborhood responsive to their enterprising plans, and yesterday more than fifty were on the job, most of them having brought lunches so they could put in a full day.

But the sandy soil washed badly.

Then some genius appeared with a cement sack. Filled with earth, it made a formidable obstable for the stream.

"If we could only find a lot of sacks like that!" wistfully sighed the leader. "Kids, keep your lamps peeled for sacks."

The result was amazing. One never could have imagined so many empty sacks grew around there. Sacks were found in such quantities that soon 100 fatly filled, formed a dam across the arroyo and 100 more were being filled by eager workers.

In the excitement of achievement, the absorbed commander did not question his eager foragers as to where they were finding so many sacks.

But then a policeman appeared with the sad announcement that Davis & Davis, contractors, and the Sunshine Laundry wanted their sacks back. The boys were haled into the police station and questioned by Lieut. M. J. Greeley and Sergts. Johnson and Kailey.

"Why, we were just trying to be engineers—like Hoover," they protested.

"They were doing a darned good job of it, too," said Davis. "So good that if they'll bring my sacks back there won't be any complaint. They meant all right."

So today most of the boys in Highland Park will be working like beavers—very much like beavers, for the water has backed up several feet—retrieving sacks.

It is always good constitutional practice to let the oppressed minority get what it has on its mind off its chest.—[Worcester Telegram.

BEERY ROBBERY SUSPECTS HELD

Theft of $100,000 Declared to Have Been Confessed

Police Hunt for Third Man in Studio Burglary Case

Suspects Say Securities in Plunder Were Burned

Accused yesterday of stealing $100,000 from Wallace Beery, film actor, and of trying to dispose of the plunder, Carl Coleman, 25 years of age, of 10724 Bloomfield Road, North Hollywood, and Morris Goodman, 23, of 1762 West Forty-first Place, were arrested. Detective Captain Cato of the Wilshire division announced that they have signed confessions of complicity.

Both men deny that Coleman was present at the theft, though he is accused of subsequent efforts to realize on the haul. The pair are charged with suspicion of grand theft. The accused formerly were property men at the Paramount studios.

Beery's portable dressing-room on the lot was robbed on April 5, 1928. The actor had taken $100,000 in negotiable checks, stocks and bonds from a Hollywood branch bank to transfer them to a downtown lock box. These securities were left in a coat pocket while he changed to costume and worked on a picture. When he returned to his dressing-room he found a window broken and the valuables gone. Stop orders were put out immediately, blocking sales.

According to Capt. Cato and Lieut. Stoll, who arrested the men, the pair tried to sell the bonds to a brokerage concern after forging Beery's signature. The broker refused to have anything to do with them and notified the detectives, leading to the arrest. Cato said the prisoners admit that the bonds were buried in a vacant lot in Hollywood to be left for a year.

When the papers were dug up and the attempt to sell them failed the men say they burned the bonds and stocks. Capt. Cato will not accept this version without proof, and he warned that the bonds no longer are negotiable. The prisoners name a third man, who is being sought.

With the expected receipt of a barograph here today from San Francisco, final preparations were made yesterday for the take-off early tomorrow morning from Metropolitan Airport in a Lockheed-Vega monoplane of Mrs. Florence Lowe Barnes, San Marino society aviatrix, in an attempt to break the world's solo endurance air record made by Martin Jensen last Thursday in New York.

Mrs. Barnes will have to keep her ship in the air more than thirty-five hours, thirty-three minutes and twenty seconds to win the world's record.

The take-off probably will be made at daybreak so that the Lockheed can take advantage of the heavy morning air to help get the maximum load off the ground.

LOCAL PLANES WILL HOP TODAY FOR DETROIT

BURBANK, March 29.—Seven Lockheed-Vega monoplanes, examples of the various types built by the Lockheed Aircraft Company here, will take off in military formation tomorrow morning at the test field in West Burbank for the national air show at Detroit, Mich., it was learned here today.

The trim sky crafts will be piloted by seven nationally known pilots and will go direct to El Paso, Tex., where they will be met by Capt. Fred Hawks, record holder for the nonstop flight from Los Angeles to New York.

At that point Hawks will lead the formation to Detroit. This flight will be the largest yet held by the products of one factory on the Pacific Coast for such a long trip, it is stated.

Suspect Held on Identification by Attack Victim

Identified by his asserted victim, according to police, John E. Trembie, a tile-setter, 25 years of [illegible], was arrested yesterday at his home, 3701 Bryson Drive, Lennox, and charged with assault on Emma Laesser, 16, on February 23, last. Late on that date, it is asserted, the girl was approaching her home at 1126 El Paso Drive when Tremble drove up in a car, alighted, struck her on the head, and then disappeared. She was taken to the General Hospital.

While fellow workmen were discussing the case the following day, Tremble left his job. The foreman reported this to Captain of Detectives Smith, who detailed Detective Lieutenants Pitman and Kopytek to investigate. They reported Tremble had left his home. Yesterday, he returned.

An additional charge of possessing a pistol with the numbers filed off was placed against Mrs. Bourse, on which she was allowed until April 4 to plead. Mrs. Bourse, asserted by police to be the "landlady" of the Hollywood house, will be tried on April 23, next, on charges of maintaining a disorderly house. Mrs. Praylor, negro maid, is charged with vagrancy and will face a jury on April 25.

Mr. Firestone comes here to inspect the new Firestone factory.

After leaving Los Angeles, Mr. Firestone and his party expect to make a complete tour of the Pacific Coast States, surveying general business conditions. I am very anxious to carry home to my readers the great satisfaction and benefits from a health standpoint of preparing your coffee the healthful way. There are two objectionable substances in coffee when improperly prepared and these objectionable substances being taken into the system with the regularity of the daily coffee beverage, with a considerable percentage of individuals finally cause the ill-symptoms which lead them to discard the drinking of coffee—a very unnecessary sacrifice if I can only get you to realize how perfectly healthful and beneficial a beverage can be made by use of the proper coffee and the proper method of preparing it. The knowledge of the proper development and preparation of the coffee for the drip method and the knowledge of the proper method of preparation of the beverage itself has been gathered at an expense of over $30,000, and it is offered to you without cost—why not take advantage of it.

I am particularly referring to the new Ben Hur Drip Coffee and the Ben Hur Healthful Coffee Maker. If you are making your coffee by the drip method now or are the possessor of one of these Ben Hur Healthful Coffee Makers do not be misled into disappointment by using ordinary brands of coffee which have been blended for the boiling or percolating method. The results will not be satisfactory unless you use the specially developed Ben Hur Drip Coffee, as other brands reground or bulk grades ground fine by the grocer in ordinary electric coffee mills will not have the clear-cut, delicious flavor of Ben Hur Drip Coffee. The heat developed by friction when the grinding burs are set close for fine grinding scorches the delicately flavored, aromatic oils, producing a disagreeable, baked, metallic taste, and the coffee may not be of a character that will release its flavor by the filtering process. You can eliminate all uncertainty and can be sure of a healthful beverage in coffee, and this with economy by insisting on the genuine Ben Hur Drip Coffee.

When baby chokes — A choking infant can be quickly relieved by pressing between its eyes with the thumb and finger.

Thews Sweet Milk Cocoa is particularly desirable and palatable because it's not only a high-class preparation containing purest cocoa and full cream milk sweetened with raw sugar, but because it's so very, very nutritious and beneficial. It's splendid for invalids and growing children especially. Get a tin today and try it out. If your grocer hasn't it get it from C. M. Boxall, 8335 Seventh ave., (UNiversity 7152) or from the following: Health Cafeteria, 820 W. 6th; Gentry Bros., 6th ave. and 54th street; Lamberts Groceteria, 4707 S. Hoover.

To keep irons smooth, when ironing, sprinkle a little kitchen cleanser on a cloth and rub the hot iron on it.

It won't be long now before the shelves of every pantry in every Los Angeles home will be stocked with Guasti Wine Jellies. Nor is it hard to understand why, for never will you be able to buy any finer jellies, nor ones that are made of purer ingredients! You see, unusually great care has been taken by the makers—who are no other than the Italian Vineyard Company than which no finer concern exists—to give us the finest product on the market, and to prove their success you need but take one taste of their wine jellies to be convinced. The pectin used in the making of Guasti Jellies comes from the best of oranges used in sufficient quantity only to make it jell. Don't you see for yourself that such methods employed by a concern whose reputation for giving us the best is never questioned, results in a product which is a world beater? Where may you buy these Guasti Jellies do you ask?—From your grocer; and if he hasn't them as yet call the order department of the Italian Vineyard Co., 1249 Palmetto st. (MUtual 2124) and they will see that you are supplied at once.

The most truly delightful spot for you to spend tomorrow—Easter Sunday—is San Clemente, the "Spanish Village By The Sea"—and the most interesting worthwhile place at which to dine in Travaglini's Cafe, San Clemente . . . for there you may feast like a lord, partaking of food such as the epicures rave over . . . and justly, for no one ever tasted more delicious food, and no one was ever treated more courteously for Mr. Travaglini is famed far and near as a host par excellence. Won't you plan to go down then to San Clemente and see for yourself what a truly ideal spot it is?

Remember too, in the city there is Travaglini's Roma Rotisserie and Food Shop where you may dine well or take hot cooked food home to serve if you prefer. The address here is 1801 W. 7th; Phone number, WAshington 0873.

Use a grape-basket for clothespins, with a wire hook fastened to the handle, or sew a wire hook on the clothespin bag; this will save much time when hanging out clothes; it can be pushed along the line and is always handy for use.

Louise will add her praise to Katrina's lavish remarks about Hughes Ice Cream for Lou thinks it is without any doubt the finest ice cream you will find in a day's travel. You see when you use pure rich cream you are certain to have a delicious ice cream and that is one of the reasons everyone simply adores Hughes—besides all this they put fresh fruit in their cream and the finest of vanilla and chocolate so that when you serve Hughes you may rest assured you are giving the best to your beloved family.

For a burn, mix equal parts of white of egg and olive oil; apply at once and cover with a piece of old linen and no blister will result. Or apply baking soda, cover with a cloth and keep it wet with cold water.

These are thirsty days, sure enough, and being thirsty days you, of course, want the best thirst quencher to be had . . . well, then here is where my suggestion comes in: Have you bought as yet the Special Home Package of Coca-Cola which comes twelve bottles in a carton for 50 cents? It's quite the most ideal way to buy this marvelous beverage, which is growing more popular daily. Yes, indeed, your grocer sells the Special Home Package and will gladly send you as much as you desire.

For external burns caused by lye, wash freely with a large quantity of water, and apply a dressing of olive oil or cottonseed oil.

There are so many features in electrical refrigeration which endear this method of preserving food that it actually behooves every housewife to purchase such refrigerators without further delay. Take the simplicity of operation, for instance. Nothing to get out of order and nothing to cause you any trouble in the slightest.

Then there is the economy of electrically cooled boxes to take into consideration. Why, this one item alone is worth the entire cost, for it means true economy in the long run. Consider the perfectness of the preservation of the food, the convenience of having constant cooling properties and the freedom from the old nuisance of tracked-up floors; surely it makes electrical refrigeration the most desirable item in housekeeping, don't you think? But then choose for yourself—Let me urge you to go down now, today, to the basement of the Bureau of Power and Light at 2nd and Broadway, and see these electrical refrigerators demonstrated! Remember, it's economy to own such a box—especially now that electrical rates are so low, a matter of interest to all women. For this we may thank the Bureau, who have given us the reduction. Are you taking advantage of it by securing all the electrical appliances you need and want so badly?

To remove scars from the skin, mix thoroughly the following lotion and bathe scars three or four times daily: Borax, one-half ounce; salicylic acid, twelve grains; glycerine, three drams; rosewater, six ounces.

There is salt,—and salt, but the salt you hear me recommend to all my readers is Morton's,—the Iodized kind, and for this reason: First of all the granules are fine, but not so fine that it lumps; on the contrary it's Morton's slogan that "When it Rains, it Pours," proving that even in wet weather Morton's Iodized Salt is desirable and satisfactory. Then consider its beneficial properties: The iodine in it amounts to just .02 per cent, not enough to change the color nor yet the taste but in sufficient quantity to make it healthful. So that when all is said and done, Morton's Iodized Salt for your cooking and table purposes is the salt to order. Why not get a carton this morning and prove to your own satisfaction the superior quality of Morton's Iodized Salt? We think it the best ever!

To prevent new clothespins from breaking, put them in a basin with a little washing soda and cover them with boiling water, letting them soak thirty minutes; rinse in cold water and dry in the sun.

This is just the time of the year to have your down coverlet recovered for with warmer weather you may be able to spare it for a few days. Now the concern you want to take it to is the Western Feather & Down Works, 1206 W. Washington street, (WEstmore 9854.) Their prices are very low and the workmanship splendid.

To whiten handkerchiefs or linen—Wash as usual; then take one quart of cold water, add one teaspoonful of cream of tartar, and soak them overnight.

Seriously now, have you not forgotten all about how badly your silver needs replating—your friends wont and will look at your askance when you put on the table knives, forks, teaspoons and tablespoons which need just the services of the Peerless Platers, 239½ S. Spring st. (upstairs) to make them exactly like new! Their phone number by the way is VAndike 5417.

To perfume handkerchiefs, break up one-quarter of an ounce of orris root in a muslin bag and put it in the boiler for a short time when boiling, for a lasting, faint scent of violets.

UNIVERSITY ANNOUNCES CONTRACT

Mudd Memorial Hall of Philosophy to Be Started at U.S.C. at Once

Contract for the construction of the Seeley W. Mudd Memorial Hall of Philosophy of the University of Southern California, which is to stand at the junction of University avenue and Exposition Boulevard, has been let to the R. Westcott Company, it was announced yesterday. The cost of the building, which is to house the classrooms, offices, lecture halls and library of the university's department of philosophy, is estimated at $261,650.

Work on the building will begin at once in an effort to have it completed as early in the fall as is possible. Ground will be broken early next week.

The new hall is a gift to the University of Southern California in memory of the late Col. Mudd.

The principal architectural feature of the building, which is of the Northern Italian Romanesque type, is a 140-foot clock tower, which will stand at one corner of a rectangular court around which the three wings of the building will be constructed.

Ralph C. Flewelling, son of Dr. Ralph Tyler Flewelling, chairman of the department of philosophy, is the architect.

Turkish rugs and carpets imported into the United States last year were valued at $2,470,000.

Chamber Names Committee to Study Tariffs

A tariff committee has been appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to investigate proposed measures and make recommendations to the board, A. G. Arnoll, secretary and general manager of the chamber, announced yesterday.

C. C. Hine, a member of the board, has been named chairman of the newly created committee. He is vice-president of the Globe Grain and Milling Company.

The other members are A. Schleicher, Eugene Overton, Oscar C. Mueller, Sylvester L. Weaver, Frank C. Mortimer, M. H. Adamson, B. R. Holloway, R. H. Lacy, Harry M. Elchelberger, Maynard McFie, Robert Linton and Orra E. Monnette.

Trial Ordered in Auto Death

Mrs. Blanche Pickarts, 3227½ South Figueroa street, must face trial in Superior Court on charges of causing the death of Mrs. Mary H. Pring, Municipal Judge McDill ruled yesterday in ordering the 42-year-old woman held on manslaughter charges. Bail was fixed at $3000.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman charged that Mrs. Pickarts was driving her automobile at a rate of thirty miles an hour along North Broadway when she struck Mrs. Pring, who resided at 151 South Griffin avenue. Mrs. Pring was in a pedestrian zone, witnesses testified.

ENTENMANN OBSEQUIES TO BE TODAY

Engineer's Rites Will be at Banning and Burial at San Bernardino

Funeral services for Paul M. Entenmann, eminent engineer, who died at Banning yesterday morning following many years of ill health, will be conducted at 9 a.m. today in Banning. Burial is to take place in San Bernardino.

Mr. Entenmann, who was 42 years of age, was a native of New York City, and first came to California in 1914, following long association with many large engineering projects in the East. For a number of years he dealt with the problems of the under-river tubes of New York, but finally had to abandon this work when ill health sent him to the desert climates of this State.

He acted as consulting engineer on irrigation projects in Mexico and was considered an expert on Colorado River problems. Government engineers at a recent meeting in New York paid high tribute to an authoritative work on this subject which he wrote and when members of the Colorado River Commission were in California making up their report for Congress, they spent several days in consultation with him at his bedside.

For several years he was in partnership with J. C. Allison, handling engineering problems of the Colorado River basin both in the United States and Mexico.

Today's Bible Text

Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation. Isa. xii, 3.

SKIRTS FOR WOMEN

A Philadelphia scientist is said to have recommended skirts made of asbestos for women. Maybe he was thinking of this hot-mamma stuff and this was as far as he could get.

HEROIC MURDERERS

An Illinois wastrel confesses to the police that he practiced murder in order that he might be considered a hero by his sweetie. There seems to be a rather mixed interpretation of what constitutes a hero in these days. It may be one who slays his dozen or merely one who sits on a flagpole for ninety hours.

NOT SO DEADLY

To a rank outsider the fighting going on in Mexico doesn't seem anything as deadly as that in the Argonne or at Gettysburg. The dispatches will tell of forces of 4000 or 5000 men being engaged all day and will then speak of one rebel being killed and fifteen or sixteen wounded. They must be poor marksmen or else their guns are loaded with prunes.

TALES OF TERROR

Organization of the Crime Club, Limited, in London led some apprehensive Britishers to fear that Scotland Yard was threatened and that the higher-ups of evil were undermining the virtue and safety of the empire. But later it was learned that the Crime Club was merely a bookstore and publishing house—presumably specializing in mystery and detective stories. So England is getting back into its stride.

FOR BIGGER JAILS

The urge is for bigger and better jails. Now it appears that the hoosegow at San Diego is patterned for 130 guests, but is now required to entertain 300. This is not only a strain on the internal economics, but on the walls. Something will have to be done about it. Possibly a larger number of citizens can be persuaded to so conduct their lives as to make their inclusion in the bastile unnecessary. It is at least worth thinking over.

JAPANESE PROTECTION

The Japanese Diet in both its houses places a greatly increased tariff upon imports of lumber and timber from our great northwest. The Japanese have been using a lot of spruce, pine and other woods from the Seattle and Portland territory and it will cost at least $2,000,000 a year more to get the stuff into the islands under the new schedule. The roar of the lumbermen may already be heard. They don't like that kind of a Diet.

OUR PARKING SPACE

Uncle Sam has provided national parks or beauty spots to the extent of 12,114 square miles. This would make another State the size of Maryland. Yosemite is the fourth in size, but easily leads the rest as a popular trysting place for travelers. More than 200 square miles were added to the system last year—including the creation of the Grand Teton Park in Wyoming. Again the nation is brought to realize what it owes to Stephen Mather for his guardianship of the country's breathing spaces.

THE LEGAL MILLS

The national Congress and the various State assemblies in this country are said to have an annual output of nearly 12,000 new laws. If one would care to add to this the mass of city and county ordinance and regulation the total would be stupendous. We have the greatest law mills in the world and some of them are working all the time. It is figured that it would take a man with the wonderful brain of Prof. Einstein 9557 years to memorize the laws that are produced in one legislative season and there are some folks who can't think of any but the Volstead Act. But with this mess of regulation it is no wonder that some of us get pinched occasionally for an oversight. When President Hoover's commission of experts try to find out what is the matter with law enforcement and judicial practice in the nation it is predicted that some of the criticism will lodge in our itch for over-legislation.

QUINN'S PLATFORM

Frankness, straightforwardness and absence of bunk characterize the platform upon which John R. Quinn seeks election as Mayor of the city of Los Angeles. Nowhere does Quinn promise the impossible, nowhere pledge himself to do more than a Mayor of Los Angeles can be expected to accomplish. In this respect his declaration will be a disappointment to fanatics and to faddists; radicals and parlor Bolshevists will find none of their doctrines in it. But men and women of common sense, home owners and other taxpayers will find in it a practical program for their relief and protection. Further they know from Quinn's career that he has the will, the judgment and the backbone to carry it out.

There is, for instance, the pledge for efficient, honest and economical administration. Similar words will be absent from no Mayoralty platform, and perhaps in most cases they will be sincerely meant. There can be no doubt they are sincerely meant by John R. Quinn, whose work in the war, for the service men and in business are all guarantees not only of good intentions, but of ability to deliver. When Quinn proposes, as he does in his second pledge, to "protect property against unfair and duplicating assessments" and to protect homes and beaches from greedy industrial projects, he speaks again with measured words which convey belief that not only does he know what he is talking about, but that he knows how to accomplish results. The present city administration has been talking about the special-assessment evil, but has taken no steps to correct it. Quinn will.

His pledge to make Los Angeles unsafe for every type of criminal is equally forthright. He means, as he makes clear, not only bootlegging, but all the crimes with which the unlawful liquor traffic is allied, and all other crimes. He will do it by strengthening the police department and by obtaining its cooperation with county, State and Federal law enforcement agencies. The police department needs not only freedom from political interference, but wholehearted support on the part of the city's chief executive. It has had neither.

A sufficient and dependable water supply is of paramount importance to this city, and Quinn makes no mistake in emphasizing that fact and his realization of it. He has long been on record for obtaining water for all Southern California from the Colorado River; he adds: "It shall be my duty as Mayor to secure and conserve every drop of water from every available source that can be utilized."

Further development of Los Angeles Harbor, consolidation of Long Beach and Los Angeles harbors on the basis of fairness to both cities, and railroad unification at the port, are other matters on which the candidate speaks out with no hedging. Support for the public school system and for the Olympic Games and other community-building activities, are likewise pledged.

There is nothing in the list that is not of local concern, nothing that savors of partisanship or factionalism, no plea to special interest and, above all, no hooey. It is a plain statement of intention by a man willing and able to carry his intention into practice, and worth far more than the glittering tinsel which make up most political pronouncements.

On such a basis Quinn may well submit his candidacy to the electorate.

HARBOR RAILS UNIFIED

Approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission of the rail unification plan at Los Angeles Harbor means, if there is no political interference, that in ninety days Los Angeles Harbor will start benefiting from real rail competition, reduced charges for switching, expert operation, the most economical and efficient use of the city-owned rail lines, and the setting up of a powerful incentive for Long Beach Harbor to seek consolidation.

The Commerce Commission has made but one change in the proposed plans, limiting the agreement to five years. This was done to give Long Beach an opportunity to join in the plan, it was explained. Under the circumstances, the limitation seems reasonable. There is little doubt that the arrangement will prove so advantageous to all parties concerned that it will be continued indefinitely, and that it will contribute so much to the growth of the harbor itself that no other scheme will even be considered.

It is estimated that in many cases as much as a whole day's time in the dispatch of freight will be saved by the unification plan. Unification will be of advantage to shippers in that it gives complete freedom in choice of lines for shipment, as the freight agents of the Harbor Belt Line Railroad will represent all the lines equally.

The city will be saved the necessity of a $40,000,000 bond issue for paralleling the present tracks and welding these great additions and isolated stretches of rails into a system. Most of such construction would duplicate existing trackage—an obvious waste both of right of way and of money. It will also be saved the necessity of providing engines and rolling stock. It gains a definite say as to how the other railroads at the harbor shall be operated, and can veto any move not in the public interest.

All in all, the unification plan gives the city all the advantages that a municipally operated belt line could have, without the disadvantages.

ROOSEVELTS IN TIBET

The Roosevelts have been getting more specimens of rare animals along the Tibetan border, to mark their second expedition to that section. Maybe they haven't snared any more of the ovis poli, but they have bagged a few fine examples of the sambar and serow. The sambar is a very large antelope with a mane like a horse. Some of them will weigh more than 500 pounds and the males may have horns more than forty inches long. They sound like good shooting. The serow is a smaller goat-like antelope, which appears to hold little family parties on the roughest mountain sides. It is mighty hard to get within flagging distance of any individual or group. The Roosevelts will be able to make further report to the Marshall Field Museum, which is really sponsoring their expedition.

The LEE SIDE O' LA
BY Lee Shippey

LOS ANGELES is so big that most of us wouldn't know when the fleet comes in and goes if it weren't for the newspapers. But everybody in San Pedro knows weeks before the coming or going takes place. Two weeks before the fleet arrives rental agents, gas, electricity and telephone companies are besieged by applicants for service. "Everybody from the parson to the bootlegger wants to be all set and ready," an officer of one public service company tells us.

When the fleet sails, hundreds of men are kept busy disconnecting light, gas, water and telephone service—and trying to run down a small but persistent minority of bill dodgers. It is hard to collect from Mrs. Jones a bill contracted by Mrs. Smith, and there are a few young women who get a new name every time the fleet comes.

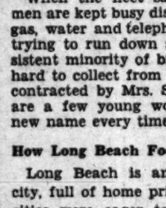
How Long Beach Fools Itself

Long Beach is an intensely loyal city, full of home pride. When other cities were eager to be annexed to Los Angeles, Long Beach has grown indignant if union were even suggested. Indeed, there are lots of folks in Long Beach, it seems, who will be willing to let $8,000,000 of government harbor work slip rather than co-operate heartily with Los Angeles.

Yet at the Pacific Coast Club yesterday a man who has been a leader in Long Beach for twenty years assured us that eventual union between the two cities is inevitable. "And most of the smart men here know it," he said, "but as yet they don't dare say so.

Boom With No Faw Down

"Long Beach has grown tremendously," he said, "but its development during the next twenty years is going to be even more astounding. The new circular pier it is building is going to be one of the most attractive things on the Pacific Coast. The Ford plant is a great commercial asset. The Janss Investment Company is about to develop an addition which will be a city in itself—8000 acres. The Dominguez development will be in the same class, perhaps even greater. I believe that by 1945 there will be 1,000,000 people in Long Beach and the territory immediately surrounding it. A population of half that figure is only a few years away.



Will Drive Itself to Drink

"Nothing can stop Long Beach. It is going to outgrow itself. Do you imagine you can supply all those people with water from wells? Every year now our water levels are lowering; we have to pump a little farther. When we have 500,000 residents we will be desperate for water. And we must begin looking ahead right now to the time when we'll have 500,000."

Wild Flowers in Town

You don't have to drive out to the desert or over the Ridge Route to get something of a thrill from wild flowers. Out in Bel-Air they've planted wild flowers so that they appear to have grown wild. Lupins and poppies flash out all along the road. Yesterday we drove through Bel-Air, then on past the beginnings of the Beverly Boulevard new U.C.L.A., out with its marvelous panorama of beautiful and palatial homes, and then out to Castellamare and the sunshine-spangled sea. It's a drive which makes one love his city and his State and be glad that he lives in a world so opulent with beauty.

Where Men Are Men and—

Lee: Anent your Coachella and Imperial Valley stories.

When one sees the amazing hotels in those valleys now, it is hard to realize how breezy and untrammeled some of the little towns close to them are. Not long ago Bishop Stevens of the Episcopal Church, a little dusty and travel-stained, stopped for luncheon at a roadside skilletry while on his way to visit a desert mission. The young lady who presided at the frying pan was perspiring and chewing gum freely.

"Rather warm today," remarked the bishop, pleasantly.

"Boy," was the rather startling response, "you sure said a mouthful!"

Doing Her Best

But don't be critical. Maybe she was a high school girl and did not know any other words to express agreement.

OIL CONSERVATION

World-wide oil conservation, agreed upon in New York, follows close on the heels of a conservation agreement that applies to the California field alone. Under its terms, an effort will be made to restrict production this year to the production of 1928. Inasmuch as this production produced a surplus, it seems probable that it should be more than sufficient for the legitimate needs of 1929, and that consumers should not find their prices increased above a reasonable figure.

With so many operators, it is difficult to see how a conservation program can be carried through on a world-wide scale, but if it can be done the benefit to the whole oil industry will be great and lasting, and the benefit, in the long run, to consumers will be equally great.

While there is a strong probability that when petroleum is gone an acceptable substitute for it will be in use, that is no reason for wasting present resources of this extremely useful substance. So far as California is concerned, there is an additional reason for the cessation of drilling and the curtailment of production from present wells, in the saving of gas that will be effected. It is estimated that 400,000,000 cubic feet of gas is escaping into the air, never to be recaptured, every day at present, and there is no practical method of storing it. This is sheer loss, not compensated for in any way whatever, and that an end should be put to it needs no argument.

The flush oil production of the past few years has had its good points; it has also had grave consequences. It has been one of the factors, for instance, in the virtual wrecking of the coal industry in the Eastern States, throwing thousands out of employment and affecting national prosperity. It is better to have such adjustments made slowly. If oil conservation aids in relieving the coal situation, as it may, that is another point in its favor.

THE WATTERSON CASE

What happens to W. W. and Mark Q. Watterson, former Inyo county bankers now serving time at San Quentin, is no longer of any great practical interest to the city of Los Angeles; but from a standpoint of the general welfare the arguments offered by Dist.-Atty. Hession of Inyo county against lenient treatment for this convicted pair are worth attention.

The District Attorney points out that at no time during their incarceration have either of the brothers offered any information that would assist their creditors in obtaining restitution of the money they embezzled, and that their failure to tell where the money went brands them unworthy of any special consideration.

It is a principle that could well be applied in other cases. Too often the State Prison Board has given consideration only to a man's record in prison. If he has been of exemplary behavior there they are inclined to overlook his crime, no matter what its gravity. The Wattersons are wise enough to be model prisoners, as when they were free they were wise enough to bedevil a whole county as a cover for their thefts. If no special leniency is shown them they will serve in all about six years each.

Breach of trust is in some aspects the most serious crime there is, short of murder, and the breach of trust of the Wattersons was especially serious because it affected adversely a whole community.

THE SHELL GAME

Notice is given that after April 21 no eggs will be admitted into England unless they have the name of the country in which they originate written in ink upon the shell. Our hens are expected to govern themselves accordingly. Those that cannot write will have to learn enough to be able to impress "America" on the shell of their product. But some of these Rhode Island Reds should be able to sling a pretty good quill and be able to meet the educational demands of the foreign market. Anyhow, it should be easy to distinguish their output from these pauper China eggs.

THE ILLUSIONS OF HOPE
By James J. Montague

When March has noisly departed
And April's tears begin to flow
Once more, elate and happy hearted
I plant my garden, row on row.
With spade and hoe I heap and hollow
The earth about the tiny beds
Where, in the weeks that are to follow
The growing things will show their heads.

Each day I call my next-door neighbor,
Who has no garden of his own,
To come and watch me at my labor
And see how expert I have grown.
He always seems a bit unheeding,
Indifference gleams in his eye,
But I continue with my seeding;
I'll show the fellow, by and by!

Though I admit, for some odd reason
While I have dug and tilled the soil
Each year through season after season
In vain has always been my toil.
My effort has not been requited,
The weather's been too dry—or wet,
My seedlings have been burned or blighted,
I've never raised a garden yet.

Yet every spring, my faith renewing,
And fresh hope stirring in my breast,
I'm found in my back yard pursuing
The avocation I love best.
"This year," I say, "I'll tend and nourish
And rear at least one single plant
And proudly watch it wax and flourish—"
I hope I shall, but know I shan't!

Smells a Rat

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] "Looking on," we see clearly that a game is playing by which a "lower-world" candidate for Mayor can be nominated at the primary. It is this: The vice party will have only two candidates. The other folk will have several. Those two will lead the field; be on the election ticket, and one of them be elected—unless all the others now named get in behind one of their number before the primary. It is for the benefit of the vice elements that they get a large number to run against their two (and also each other) so that no one will get as many votes at the primary as will either one of their two!

Favors Busses

LOS ANGELES, March 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Inasmuch as Los Angeles covers an area as large as London, if not greater, why not adopt the latter's transportation system? While it may not be necessary yet to go to the enormous expense of an underground system which carries millions of passengers yearly in London, there is no reason why Los Angeles couldn't adopt London's popular bus system, which also carries its millions.

There are something like 3500 busses that penetrate to the recesses and go to the suburbs of the great city. They operate on the zone system, beginning with 2 cents and gradually advancing to a shilling, or 25 cents, in the far outlying parts.

If Los Angeles were to adopt the zone system and enlarge the present bus system by 500 busses as a starter, a great deal of the jam in the downtown section would be avoided.

City Hall Corner-stone

LOS ANGELES, March 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Regarding the City Hall cornerstone, the ceremonies in connection with the erection of public buildings may not have been considered essential by officials of the city of Los Angeles forty years ago. But a cornerstone was considered essential, and was cut and placed by the stone contractor who furnished and placed the Arizona red sandstone used in the building. Isn't there some one who remembers what was placed in that corner-stone?

To Boost the Census

LOS ANGELES, March 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your story about New Guinea you say, "Once a bridegroom, a man's working days are over." That the ladies of New Guinea are cognizant of the value of a spouse, working menially and arduously to enhance his wealth, until the purchasing price of wife No. 2 is assembled, upon which wife No. 1 can bask at ease, etc.

In our opinion, this fact offers immeasurable opportunity for climaxing our Sunny Southland as a veritable Utopia—and bringing to California further millions of population, by stripping New Guinea of all its marriageable ladies and bringing them to our San Pedro Harbor. It can be assured they will all find mates who will not endeavor to disrupt the social customs of their native land.

This offers a field for our civic and women's clubs to batter Congress for enabling immigration laws to carry out the noble plan.

Fearing the possibility that my judgment is not invulnerable, in this issue, I would solicit expression from your more seasoned correspondents. Any information you can forward me as to the expense of passage to New Guinea will hold inviolate, as I wish to boost our census for 1930.

Japanese-American Friendship

Two unique gifts to America bear witness of the friendship between Japan and the United States. The children of the two countries have exchanged "friendship dolls" and each State is receiving one of these magnificent dolls from Japan. California alone is to receive two dolls, and the one presented to Southern California has been received at the Los Angeles Museum, where it will become a permanent exhibit.

The second gift is the photographic reproduction of Prince Shotoku's "The Lotus of Truth" presented to the Library of Congress by the Tokio Imperial University. This is one of three such reproductions to be given American libraries in recognition of the aid rendered the university after the earthquake. "The Lotus of Truth" written by Prince Shotoku, regent from 593-622 and regarded as the founder of Japan's civilization, is said to bear somewhat the same relationship to the writings of the Buddhistic faith that the Gospel of St. John bears to our biblical literature. The reproduction shows the exquisite workmanship of the original manuscript which is in four handscrolls about ten inches wide, mounted on rollers tipped with silver.

PELLAGRA

BY RANSOME SUTTON

United States health officials have issued a formal statement in memory of Joseph Goldberger, recently deceased, saying that "no more valuable public health research has been conducted in any country within a generation than his studies in pellagra—a disease which had existed in the Old World for 100 years, and was almost immediately after its discovery in the New World attacked and the solution for its prevention determined."

In "Hunger Fighters" Paul de Kruif has told the story of Goldberger's hunt for the cause of the disease which picks out poor people, covers them with rash, puts a red butterfly on their noses, and spreads like contagion. It was thought to be contagious, yet was not. Because the doctors, nurses and ministers, who visited afflicted persons, never caught it. That gave Goldberger a clew. Perhaps the corn pone and molasses and cheap meats and gravy, which poor people ate, lacked the vitamins necessary to health.

The disease was widely prevalent in the Old South. Goldberger went to Gov. Brewer of Mississippi and arranged to experiment on twelve healthy convicts. He was to give the convicts the disease, then cure them. At the end of the six-month experimental period, the convicts were to be pardoned, provided they were alive.

The convicts were segregated and given the kind of food poor southern whites and negroes eat. For breakfast, mush, rice, gravy, syrup, black coffee and sugar. For dinner corn bread, collards (cabbage which does not head,) skimmed milk, sweet potatoes, syrup and grits. For supper, grits, biscuits, mush, gravy, syrup, sugared coffee.

No fresh meat, or unskimmed milk, or butter, or greens. The fare was no worse, however, than the prison afforded, but it was different.

At first the convicts thought themselves in clover. Plenty to eat and no work to do, with freedom just six months ahead. But two months later some had sore tongues, cracked lips, and finally the red butterfly rash broke out. One got so sick he had to be sent away, but soon after the diet was changed the others recovered. And that same year 1533 persons died of the disease in Mississippi alone.

Then Goldberger went to the Baptist Orphanage at Jackson, where 130 children were afflicted, and to the Methodist Orphanage, where there were seventy-nine cases, and induced the managing boards to change the diets of the dying orphans, "at the expense of the United States Public Health Service." And, according to reports, the next year showed only one case in the Baptist Orphanage, and none in the Methodist Orphanage. Elsewhere in the State, however, over 1500 patients died of pellagra.

To prove it was not contagious, Goldberger swallowed a vial of fluid from an afflicted patient, and he injected his wife and three friends with a quarter of an ounce of blood from a pellagrous woman—and from these heroic experiments none contracted the disease.

Searching at last for some cheap, simple food, which would prevent pellagra and which very poor people could afford, the tireless Goldberger began feeding dogs the same kind of food he had given to the convicts, and the dogs developed "black tongue," or dog pellagra. To another pack of dogs, he gave the same kind of food—sprinkled with dried brewer's yeast—and they got fat. "And it is part of the comedy of science," says De Kruif, "that Goldberger and his boys didn't see for months what lay right under their noses. . . . The first bunch of beasts, that died so quick of the black tongue, didn't have yeast . . . Mysterious in the dried, shrunken cells of this humble yeast sleeps the X that's the answer to this worst of hidden hungers."

The same X, it may be said, sleeps in fresh meat, unskimmed milk, fresh vegetables, butter and the things most people, even in Dixie, now eat. To discover this simple dietary fact, Dr. Goldberger gave the last ten years of his life.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Every-Day Spanish?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address: Louise L. Temple care of The Times. All public school classes are suspended for the week of March 25-29, for the Easter vacation, reopening April 1.]

The advanced Spanish group at the San Fernando Evening High School, Grand Boulevard and Second street, San Fernando, uses the Spanish column in The Times for the basis of work and conversation. These people are preparing for positions in Spanish interpreting; and it is essential that they know the Spanish of every-day conversation, as well as items of news that are of importance to Spanish, Mexican and South American peoples.

The class is composed largely of nurses and veterans in the Olive View Sanatorium, one of whom has already secured a secretaryship since taking this course.

The instructor is Mrs. Cora C. Reed, reared in Mexico, and thoroughly at home with the idiomatic Spanish of the various cities of that country. A book deposit, covering just the cost of the text which the class is using from time to time, is the only expense to the student. This deposit is returned in full as soon as the book is returned.

RAW ADVERTISING

Jim Juke, who runs the bazaar, remarked today, "I am dismayed; I'm advertising near and far, endeavoring to build up trade. I advertise in public prints, and on the roofs of country barns; I put up signs in gaudy tints along the railroads and the tarns. I serve the very best of eats, the best the gardeners can bring, the choicest meats, the noblest beets, and canned fruit for any king. And what with dishing up the best, and advertising and repeat, it seemed to me I soon would rest with plenty crats in Easy street. But on a day the chef fell sick; I had to draft a substitute, a poor, untutored, awkward hick whose cooking wasn't worth a hoot. He only was on deck one day, but, willow waly and alack, he drove my choicest trade away and much of it will not come back. Men found their meals were underdone, they ruined their jawbones on the beef, then quietly they paid their mon, and went away to board and roast. Jones told his friends about the meal he ordered in my moral shop, he said the pancakes made him feel like going forth to whip a cop. These friends repeat what he said, to friends of theirs, and they sat down to tell again the tale of dread. It went everywhere in town, and I shed unmanly tears and my beard, excuse me, prop; I know 'twill take a hundred years to gain the trade I lost in a day. Good advertising is a rod on which the business man must lean to bring the necessary wad, abundance of good long green. Bad advertising breaks the staff on which he leans, and lets him down, and when he feels the shaft he gaff his language jars the settled town.

NEW CHURCHES PROJECTED

Easter Finds Several Buildings Begun or Planned in Cities of Southern California

Easter Sunday finds church construction occupying a prominent niche in the building activities of Southern California. Among the edifices finished under construction or to be started soon are the Church of St. Peter and Paul, at Wilmington, the Redlands State-street Christian Church, the Church of the Brethren at La Verne, the Mexican Church at Santa Paula and the Washington-street Methodist Church at Pasadena.

The building for the Church of the Brethren at La Verne has been designed by Architect Robert H. Orr in modern ecclesiastical style, following Norman architectural precedents. It will cost approximately $75,000.

The exterior will be of concrete with a tooled and texture finish, ornamented with stone modeled and carved in keeping with the general style of the building. The roof will be of slate and exterior windows will have steel frames with leaded art and stained glass.

Textured plastered walls and exposed wood ceiling work will feature the interior. Scrolls, corbels and overlay stencil work will further ornament the ceilings.

The main auditorium will seat approximately 700 persons, the choir fifty and a prayer-meeting room adjoining an additional 150. These may be united with the main auditorium at will. By using a baleony and gallery the church auditorium may be capable of seating 1130 persons. Further units may be added to the building at a later date.

Bids for construction of the edifice have been received and it is expected that the contract for construction will be awarded this week.

Preliminary plans for a $135,000 church home for the Washington-street Methodist Church of Pasadent, drawn by Marston & Maybury, architects, Pasadena, have been accepted, and it is expected that construction of the edifice will be started some time during the coming summer.

The building will be French-Gothic in architecture with exterior finish in stone and plaster. It will be erected at North Los Robles and East Washington street on sloping ground which has enabled the architects to add to the beauty of the structure. It will be on a lot 200x150 feet and face Washington street. The auditoruim will seat approximately 800 persons and Sunday-school rooms adjoining will accommodate 1000.

A campanile towering to a height of 130 feet will surmount the new church of Saints Peter and Paul, Wilmington, which will replace the building erected some seventy-five years ago, the first seat of Catholicity in the harbor district. Plans for the structure were drawn by Henry Calton Newton and Robert Dennis Murray, Los Angeles architects. The contract for construction has been awarded and it is expected work will begin during the summer.

The church proper will cost approximately $150,000. Plans provide for the erection at a later date of a school, convent and house to cost approximately $125,000.

The church building will be of Italian Romanesque design built entirely of reinforced concrete and will seat 750 persons. The various elements such as the main doorway will be symbolical of the early Italian Romanesque church.

Santa Paula's Mexican population will soon be able to worship in an atmosphere of Old Mexico when their new church is completed. Plans are being prepared now by Roy C. Wilson, architect, Santa Paula. The building will be of mission design of frame and stucco construction and will seat approximately 250 persons. The cost will be about $15,000.

The new State Street Christian Church at Redlands, dedicated last Sunday, will open today for Easter services. It seats approximately 400 persons and is said, to be a model in beauty of the small church type. It was erected at a cost of approximately $50,000.

JAIL THREAT TAMES LAWYERS

Attorneys Seek to Withdraw from Murder Trial

Say Professional Ethics Call for Action

Court Holds Barristers Guilty of Contempt

VENTURA, March 29.—Three of Ventura county's leading attorneys were found guilty of contempt of court and ordered to jail by Superior Judge Edward Henderson in a dramatic session today of the murder trial of Frank Rocco and Dominic Leo. The defense counsel, Louis C. Drapeau, Robert Sheridan and John A. Galvin, who had been appointed by the court to defend the asserted gunmen, this morning presented a long, written statement in which they declare it impossible for them to continue representing the two defendants jointly.

GIVE NO REASON

While nothing was shown in the attorney's statement or in the ensuing debate to indicate the defense counsel's reason for taking this step, the inference of court attaches was that some evidence had been disclosed showing a different status between the two defendants as to guilt or innocence.

The statement said:

"Without disclosing to the court what the facts are or what the position of the defendants may or should be in the case, counsel take this opportunity to state to the court on their professional obligation that it has become an impossibility for them to discharge that obligation and continue to represent the defendants jointly in this case. Counsel further state to the court that because of confidential communications and knowledge which has been received from each of said defendants, while endeavoring to act jointly for the said defendants, counsel are now disqualified from representing either one of said defendants separately."

HEATED DEBATE

After a tense period of debate, of admonition by the court and of repeated and firm refusals by the three attorneys to continue in the case, an adjournment was taken until afternoon.

At the adjourned session Judge Henderson interrogated each of the attorneys as to his stand and was told by each that the written refusal to serve, read earlier in the day, still expressed the views of the defense counsel.

JAIL SENTENCE

"There is only one thing to do in the situation," said the judge. "It is necessary to find each of you guilty of contempt of court. He reviewed the history of the case and pronounced the judgment that the trio should be confined in the County Jail until such time as each was willing to comply with the order of the court."

Drapeau then addressed the court, pointing out that, now he and his associates were in the custody of the Sheriff, there were two courses open, one to go to jail and there sue out a writ to the Appellate court; the other to bow to the superior force exerted upon counsel and proceed with the trial.

Drapeau said that the former course would require two or three weeks, during which time the jury would be locked up, a long list of witnesses discommoded and the course of justice generally interfered with. In view of these facts, he said, he and his associates had decided to proceed, under protest, with the case and rest on the record as established for protection against future eventualities.

Methodists to Hold Conclave

GLENDALE, March 29.—Delegates from the Southern California churches in the Pacific conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, will meet Monday, April 1, in the Broadway Methodist Church, for a two-day session, with Rev. C. M. Aker, presiding elder of the Los Angeles synod, in charge of all the sessions.

Reports of the conference will be presented at the Monday forenoon meeting, and in the afternoon a Sunday-school program will be staged under the direction of Rev. R. U. Waldraven, conference superintendent of Sunday-school work.

The Epworth League activities will form the topic of the Monday night session and on Tuesday the program will cover matters of general interest to the denomination in various fields of church work. Rev. "Bob" Shuler, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, Los Angeles, will preach the closing sermon, it was announced today by Rev. Warren A. Bonner, pastor of the local church.

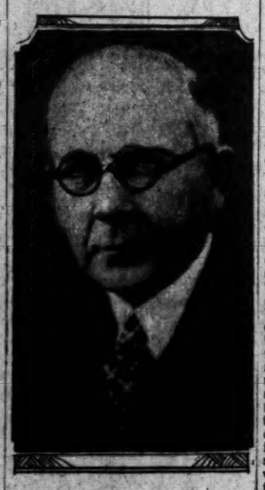
TEACHERS TALK OVER RETIREMENT SALARY

SAN FERNANDO, March 29.—The question of the retirement salary for school teachers was taken up at a meeting of the San Fernando Valley Grammar School Teachers' Association held here. Proposed legislative action was discussed. It was proposed that efforts be made to have the retirement salary at the end of thirty years of teaching raised to $1200 a year and the assessment for same made $72 a year instead of $12 as now, with $900 a year pension on retirement after thirty years.

HEROES GET HONORS

VAN NUYS, March 29.—Edward B. Weidler of Van Nuys has been given honorable mention in connection with services rendered at the St. Francis Dam disaster which took place a little more than a year ago. Three other men were given medals by the Theodore N. Vail memorial fund. All are employees of the Bell Telephone system, most of whose workers gave valuable aid by sticking to their posts while the flood rushed down Santa Clara Valley.

STARKE ELECTED AS ORANGE SHOW CHIEF



William Starke

SAN BERNARDINO, March 29.—William Starke is the new president of the National Orange Show. He was elected at the final meeting of the nineteenth National Orange Show directors here tonight.

The new president, who will guide the destinies of the twentieth exposition, is one of the best known authorities on water production and conservation in the State. He has been serving as vice-president of the Orange Show and was elevated to the presidency in recognition of years of service on the executive committee.

Although most expositions in the State suffered from a lack of attendance during the past twelve months, a report submitted by General Manager R. H. Mack showed that the nineteenth National Orange Show attendance was 273,471. This attendance leads all expositions on the Coast, it is declared, and the financial returns were very satisfactory.

Faced with the necessity for increased housing, Dr. H. M. Hays, retiring president, urged immediate attention to a proposed new building on the Orange Show's forty-acre tract. Many industrial exhibitors, who sought space in the show last month, were unable to get reservations, hence a building for industrial exhibitors is being urged.

Within the next thirty days President Starke will appoint a new executive committee and plans will then be formulated for the twentieth show which it is proposed will be in the nature of an anniversary exposition.

Northcott Asks to be Cremated

RIVERSIDE, March 29.—Gordon Stewart Northcott, 21 years of age, who is waiting hanging in San Quentin Penitentiary for the slaying of young boys, does not want to be buried in the prison pauper graveyard. Instead, he prefers cremation, even though it is contrary to the tenet of a religion for which he professes a strong faith.

In a letter received today by Cyrus Northcott, father of the condemned youth, Gordon asks that arrangements be made to have his body disposed of in the prison crematory. The costs of cremation at San Quentin are said by Young Northcott to total $15 and he asks his parent to provide this amount. The elder Northcott is being held in the prison ward of the Riverside County Hospital pending disposal of his son's appeal.

BID WITHDRAWN ON CITY WORK

SANTA BARBARA, March 29.—Despite his publicly announced withdrawal of bid for excavation of water main trenches on Sheffield Road in yesterday's Council meeting S. J. Krull will probably be held to fulfillment of a contract on the work. Bids indicated that Krull's was lowest at $688.

Councilman John A. Parma, without reference to Krull at a point during the awarding of contract, asked City Attorney S. J. Bingham if imported Mexican labor could be legally used on city jobs. The attorney answered in the negative, stating that only citizens could do this work.

Krull then announced withdrawal of his bid. He was awarded the contract, however.

MAN SEEKS DEATH UNDER MOVING TRAIN

SAN DIEGO, March 29.—Throwing himself under the wheels of an inbound San Diego and Arizona passenger train, an unidentified, middle-aged man was almost instantly killed at noon today at the foot of Evans street, police report. He was decapitated and his body mangled, police say.

R. J. Rankin and C. N. Brown, fireman and engineer, respectively, on the train, told Detective Sergeant Harry J. Kelly that the man waited for its approach and then hurled himself under the wheels of the engine.

A representative of the Coroner's office is investigating the case.

MARRIED IN NEW YORK

SANTA BARBARA, March 29.—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Greene of Brooklyn, N. Y., have sent out cards announcing the marriage of their daughter, Persis Davis, to Wallace John Hebberd of Santa Barbara on Sunday, March 10, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

The young couple will be at home at 56 East Thirty-fourth street, New York.

Mr. Hebberd is the head of the Hebberd Publishing Company of Santa Barbara and New York.

GLENDALE JUDGE ANSWERS

Criticism by Los Angeles Jurist Brings Forth Heated Denial from Suburban City

GLENDALE, March 29.—Criticisms of Superior Judge Emmett H. Wilson of Los Angeles on the methods of the Glendale Police Department, and especially those of the City Health Officer, Dr. E. M. Miller, in handling cases in which motorists are accused of driving while intoxicated, has brought a statement from Police Judge Frank H. Lowe to the effect that Judge Wilson spoke without proper knowledge of the subject, or that his remarks should have possibly applied to some other city.

Judge Wilson was quoted extensively as saying that he would not believe statements from the Glendale police authorities regarding the sobriety of any person accused of driving while drunk and suggested a drastic change in the methods of investigating and reporting on such cases. Judge Lowe challenges the Los Angeles jurist's statement, as quoted, that the latter has had a wide experience of such cases originating in Glendale that were carried up to the Superior Court. "The records here show that in only four such cases within the past fifteen months were the defendants held to the Superior Court," says Lowe, "and of these four only one was so held in the last year. Even if Judge Wilson handled all four of these cases, which is most unlikely in view of the methods used in dealing with the Superior Court calendar, I insist that he is not warranted in saying that one case in twelve months constitutes a great deal of experience with Glendale cases of the sort."

Because of the numerous continuances and delays, as well as the expenditure of time and trouble for witnesses from Glendale, in cases held to Superior Court, Judge Lowe states that he has adopted a plan that calls for the filing of reckless driving charges against persons suspected of driving while drunk, instead of charges of intoxication, when no personal or property damage is charged, thus permitting the sentencing of the guilty by the Police Court.

Two Contests in Elections

REDLANDS, March 29.—School elections were held in this city today and while there were few contests and the voting was light in most instances, there was keen interest.

E. M. Cope was elected a member of the Redlands School Board which has charge of both the elementary and the high school districts. He succeeds himself for Mr. Cope has been a member of the, board for many years.

In Yucaipa, two trustees were elected to fill vacancies, being R. F. Hill and F. E. White. At Greenspot where the Greenleaf school district is located, there was but one vacancy to fill and Mrs. Otto Krull was named for that.

Mrs. William Lytle was elected in the East Highland district in place of Mrs. W. V. Riley, who retired. R. L. Dargent was elected a member of the Mission School District Board.

RUSTY OLD GUN WOUNDS YOUNGSTER

ONTARIO, March 29.—An ancient, rusty, nickel-plated .32-caliber pistol in the hands of "Dickie" Russell, 13 years of age, nearly claimed the life of his little playmate Marion Gephart, when the weapon discharged shortly before noon today and the bullet passed through the boy's leg just above the knee.

Police were trying to find out how the weapon came into possession of the boys. One of them said it had been purchased from another boy for $3.50.

The pistol was so rusted that the bullet chamber would not revolve. A group of boys clustered around Dickie to watch him handle the pistol. He pulled the hammer back. It slipped from his fingers and exploded the cartridge in the chamber.

When Dickie realized he had shot his playmate he fainted and had to be revived. According to Dr. W. M. Chapman, the shot could not have passed through any other part of the boy's anatomy with less harm than it did through his leg. The wound is not considered serious.

GLENDALE HOSPITAL PAYING INSTITUTION

GLENDALE, March 29.—Liabilities of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital have been reduced at the rate of approximately $5000 a month for the past four years, the total reduction in that time having been $248,717, according to a financial report presented at the annual meeting of the institution, just concluded here.

Elder J. L. McElhany of the general Adventist conference and Elder J. L. Shaw, treasurer, were here from Washington. Other conferences represented were the Pacific Union, the Southern California, and Southeastern California, besides various institutions controlled by the Adventist denomination. The total number of patients treated during the past year was 2380, and 245 children were also treated in the pediatrics department. The total resources of the hospital are given as $1,282,075, with liabilities $754,-550, making the net assets $517,-525.

ACCIDENT CAUSE OF DRIVER'S ARREST

UPLAND, March 29.—Charged with "cutting in" and causing a coupe driven by Mrs. Cathrine Whiple, 21 years of age, Long Beach, to overturn, J. V. Martin, Fresno, is under order to appear in local court April 6 to answer to charge of reckless driving.

Mrs. Whipple received a fracture of the collar bone and several cuts and bruises, when her car overturned on Twelfth street, near Mountain avenue.

Orange Show to Give Dinner

ANAHEIM, March 29.—The annual complimentary dinner given city officials, Chamber of Commerce heads and newspaper men of Southern California prior to the opening of the California Valencia Orange Show will be given this year on the evening of April 23, directors of the show announced today. While plans for the event have not been announced, the directors declare that the affair will be distinctly different from those of previous years.

George W. Reid, manager, announced that a contract has been let for a "steel" tent of fireproof design to be erected instead of the usual type. The tent will be more than 640 feet long and 135 feet wide, and will be stretched over steel poles guyed by steel cables. The canvas used for the roof and sides will be treated with a fireproofing chemical.

A suggestion made by H. A. Johnston, director, that the show undertake a permanent building for the exhibit was taken under advisement by the directors yesterday.

Industrial spaces in the big tent are about half sold, and the demand is brisk, according to Manager Reid.

AGED MAN BURNED IN "GAS" EXPLOSION

PASADENA, March 29.—Burned in an explosion which occurred when he attempted to destroy some green branches in Chief of Police Charles H. Kelley's incinerator by covering them with gasoline, John Olson, 80 years of age, is reported to be in a critical condition at the Pasadena Hospital tonight. Olson resides in a cottage at the rear of Chief Kelley's home, 518 South Madison avenue.

Olson's son, Edward H. Olson, heard his father's screams this morning and, running to his assistance, found that he had become a human torch. The son extinguished the flames and rushed the aged victim to the Pasadena Emergency Hospital where he was given first aid for first degree burns of his face, legs and arms.

Chief Kelley stated that he has attempted to keep gasoline away from his premises and that he does not know where his tenant obtained the explosive fluid.

Pasadena Hospital officials hold out slight hope for Olson's recovery due to his age.

COMMISSIONERS FAVOR SITE FOR STATE PARK

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 29.—California State Park Commissioners inspected the Huntington Beach-Newport State Park site and expressed themselves as being in favor of the location. The land proposed for the park includes a strip of beach beginning at the Huntington Beach pier and extending toward Newport Beach. The location offers many facilities, including an abundance of good water, a long sloping beach, nearness to large population centers, suitable climate, excellent transportation to all points and still water lagoons suitable for water sports.

Commissioners and associates present were Henry O'Melveny, Col W. B. Wing, Frederick Olmstead, A. Drury, Mayor Frederick R. Burnham, William E. Colby, and Mrs. Laura E. Gregory.

SCHOOL-TEACHER TAKEN TO JAIL

ANAHEIM, March 29.—Capt. Daniel M. Healy, 31 years of age, military instructor in an Anaheim boys' school, was arrested here last evening on a charge of having discharged a tear-gas gun in the face of Deputy Sheriff Sam Snodgrass. The officer had halted Healy after he declares Healy had been driving while intoxicated. While being taken to the City Jail Healy is said to have taken the gun from his pocket and fired into the face of the officer, who suffered serious burns about the neck and chin. Healy is in the County Jail today, being held for the District Attorney. No formal charges have been filed.

NEW DEFENSE IN SPEEDING CASE

GLENDALE, March 29.—When does a car cease to shimmy? That formed the crux of the trial of J. R. Kiel, Pasadena, charged with driving forty miles an hour in a twenty-mile zone, when he appeared before Police Judge F. H. Lowe today. Kiel claimed that his car vibrates when he is going between thirty-three and thirty-six miles an hour and he insisted that it was running smoothly when he was tagged by Motorcycle Officers Owen and Coombs. Deputy City Attorney Aubrey Irwin raised the point that the car might have passed the vibration point and Kiel admitted that it might have done so. He paid a fine of $15.

ISLAND BRIDGE OPENED

NEWPORT BEACH, March 29.—The Balboa island bridge, which connects the county road on the mainland with the island, has been opened for traffic following an interruption while construction work was being carried on. It was necessary to use some of the material from the old bridge on the temporary structure.

"GOVE" LOUDON HEADS CHAMBER

Lotus Loudon

SANTA ANA, March 29.—Lotus Loudon, publisher of the Anaheim Bulletin, was elected president of the Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce at the annual election held last night at St. Ann's Inn.

Other officers are John S. Malcolm of San Juan Capistrano, vice-president; George C. MacLeod, Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce secretary, secretary-treasurer. MacLeod was re-elected. London succeeds H. H. Hale of Placentia. The election was unanimous following the report of the nominating committee headed by Thomas Pickerill of Placentia.

In his speech of acceptance Loudon said he wanted particularly the support of the Orange county newspapers in his administration, and he named each newspaper representative an honorary delegate to the monthly meetings. The next meeting will be held in Brea.

Absence of Two Councilmen Holds Up Bonds

ONTARIO, March 29.—Absence of two members of City Council Monday night when the city's proposed $130,000 bond-issue ordinance received second and final reading, will necessitate the city starting all over again in plans for the election, it was learned today from E. H. Jolliffe, City Attorney. The issue is for civic improvement.

Two-thirds vote in favor of the ordinance at its final reading was necessary for it to carry. As two members of Council were not there, "the three who voted in favor of it were insufficient to make the ordinance entirely legal," said City Attorney Jolliffe. April 23 had been set for the election.

It is now necessary for another date to be announced. The ordinance was declared passed and adopted after its reading Monday night. Then City Attorney Jolliffe discovered the absence of two members didn't give the necessary majority and the resolution of intention declaring the election is being prepared as is also another bond-issue ordinance.

Plans made by the Chamber of Commerce for conducting an educational campaign regarding the bond issue will not be altered, B. W. Spencer, secretary, said today. Representatives of civic organizations will meet Tuesday night to form the nucleus of a mass meeting to be held later for discussion of the various phases of the bond issue, which is designed to provide a municipal plunge, additional water-bearing land, an extended airport program, an additional fire station, additional water mains and incidental civic improvements.

WARM RECEPTION FOR "PEEPING TOM"

UPLAND, March 29.—Convinced that buckshot is the best remedy for a "Peeping Tom," several residents in the neighborhood of Second avenue are oiling up their shotguns, preparatory to extending a reception to the prowler next time he shows himself.

A number of homes have been visited recently by the "peeper." In addition to police redoubling their efforts to apprehend the prowler, the residents are prepared for his coming, too.

CHAMBER TO AID CALABASAS AREA

CALABASAS, March 29.—Business men of Calabasas and Camarillo met at Picture City on Ventura Boulevard, near here, and organized a Chamber of Commerce to exploit the section on the boulevard between the two towns. H. F. Dahlman was elected president; R. E. Tapley and A. E. Wright, vice-presidents; M. Dahlman, secretary, and C. N. Queen, treasurer. The territory between the towns is the most picturesque in the western limits of Los Angeles.

VALLEY WOMAN GETS CHAUFFEUR PERMIT

OWENSMOUTH, March 29.—The first San Fernando Valley woman to apply for a chauffeur's license is Mrs. Agnes Warne of 7118 Vasar avenue. She passed a 100 per cent examination. She obtained her license here through an officer of the Motor Vehicle Division of the valley police. Mrs. Warne has a plan to drive women to and from the desert country on short vacation trips.

WOMEN FORM SERVICE CLUB

Pasadena Business and Professional Leaders to Band Together for Luncheon Sessions

PASADENA, March 29.—Business and professional women in this city believe that the time has arrived for the organization of women's service clubs. "We may not be able to roar like lions, but we can sing like canaries," say the charter members of the Altrusa Club, which will hold its first luncheon session on April 3, at the Pasadena Athletic and Country Club.

The local chapter of the club was organized two weeks ago by Mrs. Elizabeth Gardner of Austin, Tex., who has already started clubs in a number of Southern California cities. Mrs. W. J. Cooper, president of the Pasadena chapter, is a national officer of the organization and was formerly president of the Battle Creek (Mich.) chapter.

"The idea of the club," said Mrs. Cooper, "originated in Kentucky several years ago, and has been growing until there are now ninety chapters throughout the country. The members must hold executive positions, own their own business, or be in some profession. The aim of the club is the advancement of women in every branch of civic and professional life through mutual exchange of ideas and personal contact."

Other officers of the local group include Mrs. Roberta Roberts, vice-president; Miss Lillian Daniel, secretary; Miss Lucile, Rahn, treasurer. Miss Lydia Kellogg, dietitian in the public schools, is national board officer.

Inhalator Saves Life of Child Victim of Gas

TEMPLE CITY, March 29.—Little Sammy Hood, 2½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hood of Long Beach, today owes his life to the quick response of the Alhambra Fire Department inhalator squad and the deputies of the local Sheriff's substation.

The child accompanied his parents today on a visit to the home of George C. Moore of 2520 Olive street. He was in the rear seat of a touring car. When the family arrived at the Moore home Sammy was found unconscious, overcome by monoxide fumes. Moore ran to the Sheriff's station and told the deputies the boy was dying. Capt. Ray Conley notified the Alhambra firemen and twenty minutes later the inhalator had done its work and the boy was breathing naturally again.

The monoxide fumes were said to have come from a leak in the exhaust pipe. The parents thought the child was only asleep until they arrived at their destination, when efforts to awaken him were unsuccessful.

BURBANK SEAPLANE FOR ANTARCTIC DUTY

BURBANK, March 29—Construction on a Lockheed-Vega seaplane for Capt. Sir George Hubert Wilkins, famed Arctic and Antarctic air explorer, was ordered rushed at the Lockheed Aircraft Company here today in anticipation of Wilkins's arrival in Burbank late next week.

Wilkins is scheduled to take charge of the plane's assembly immediately after he arrives here from Detroit where he will attend the national air show next week. The seaplane will be first of its kind ever constructed by the factory here and while it will follow the general lines of the Vega monoplanes it will be particularly adapted for use in Wilkins's air journeys in the South Polar regions next summer. This information was given out at the factory in West Burbank today as the engineers went to work on the plans outlined by Wilkins last summer and then discarded in favor of an amphibian type of plane. The explorer is of the opinion that a seaplane is more adaptable to the rigors of Antarctic flying than an amphibian craft with pontoons for emergency water landing, it was stated.

GUARANTEE RAISED FOR PERRIS FESTIVAL

PERRIS, March 29.—Five thousand dollars has been raised among Perris Valley residents to stage in their picturesque outdoor theater an historic Indian pageant and to bring the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra for its initial desert concert on Sunday afternoon, April 14. The desert symphony, to feature Bloch's epic rhapsody, "America," will climax the first annual Perris Valley spring festival week, which will be ushered in by "E-ye-wa-ha" (The Mocking Bird), five act pageant, on April 6 and 7. Both the concert and the pageant will be open to the public. The natural amphitheater lies on the outskirts of Perris, seventeen miles south of Riverside on the inland State highday to San Diego.

CHICKEN RANCHER GIVEN FORTUNE

OWENSMOUTH, March 29.—An $85,000 windfall has just come to Joseph Gruber, a worker at a chicken ranch here, and he is going to stay right on the job as heretofore. Gruber is employed by the L. A. Federer hatchery. Recently an uncle in Brooklyn, N. Y., died and left him $85,000. Friends have asked Gruber what he intends to do, now he is comparatively a wealthy man. "All my life I've been something of a philosopher," he says. "Most of us rust out instead of dying from overwork, so I am going to keep up at my present job. The more a man works the better health he has. If I should stop now and just loaf around, I'd soon acquire a lot of ailments and die. The money, then, wouldn't do me any good."

NEW SYSTEM IN VOGUE IN SAN DIEGO

City and County Taxes to be Assessed on Recent Valuation of $150,000,000

SAN DIEGO, March 29.—The city's 1929-30 assessed valuation will not exceed $150,000,000, Assessor George W. Moulton announced today. His figures set at rest the fear that the assessed valuation would soar above the $200,000,000 mark set by the City Assessor two years ago.

The valuation for the coming assessment year will be above the $91,956,120 mark upon which taxes for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, are based. The new valuation, based on the city-county revaluation program, will provide revenue that was not obtainable under the old assessment.

The Assessor will turn the assessment "roll" over to the county Board of Supervisors July 1, and the Supervisors will sit as a "board of equalization" until July 15, equalizing the rates to the most practical assessment possible. The city is to start budget-making in July and must notify the County Tax Collector, Herbert Croghan, before September 1 of the amount to be collected as city taxes for the coming fiscal year.

Under the consolidation of city and county, taxes on property are due and payable for both at the same time.

Citizens Post Heavy Bonds

BURBANK, March 29. — Two bonds, totalling approximately $94,-500, were posted with City Manager Patterson late this afternoon by the bondholders committee, legal owners of a large section of the Benmar Hills tract for the committee's faithful performance of the improvement of Sixth street and certain other allied streets in the tract under their own supervision.

In their agreement to accomplish the improvement of the tract with their own contractor the bondholders committee will start the work not later than April 10, as is required by a provision in the 1911 Street Improvement Act.

The committee, who acquired the property under a Sheriff foreclosure sale, according to reports, contracted that they will have the work done according to city specifications and at a considerably less cost than was let by the City Council to George H. Oswald the lowest bidder. Oswald's quotation for the improvement job was $137,086.36.

UNION VESPER SERVICE TO OPEN MUSIC WEEK

BURBANK, March 29.—A vesper service, to be held under the auspices of all churches in the city, in the early evening of May 5 will officially open music week in Burbank, it was announced today following a luncheon meeting of the various committees in charge of the arrangements for the city-wide observance May 5 to 11.

A large choir, composed of the best talent in the city with orchestral accompaniment, will provide the setting for the vesper observance, according to the preliminary plans for the week of music here. The following programs will be given after the vesper opening: Especial music numbers at the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Monday night, at a joint meeting of the three service clubs at noon Tuesday, at the Women's Club Tuesday afternoon, community singing Wednesday night, musical departments of the city's schools Thursday night and at the Chamber of Commerce meeting, Friday noon and a grand finale Friday night with the three official musical organizations of the city, the band, symphony and choral club providing the program.

Coroner Reardon said today it appeared that the man had gone fishing and that his boat capsized. An empty boat was recently found tossing about on the water of the region.

BOULEVARD BONDS TO BE PLACED ON SALE

CAHUENGA PARK, March 29.—It is announced here today by the Ventura Boulevard Chamber of Commerce that the City Clerk of Los Angeles has been directed to publish notice for the sale of bonds for the widening and paving of Ventura Boulevard and for the extension and improvement of Van Nuys Boulevard over the Santa Monica hills. HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

by Dr. Frank McCoy
Author of "The First Year in Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him at the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

GIVING THE IMAGINATION

The country doctor used to carry with him a stock of funny stories in addition to his kit of medicines. There is no doubt that laughter is a wonderful tonic. One who can laugh good natured is not apt to have indigestion. Have you noticed that troubles seem to come singly? If you have trouble the first thing in the morning the chances are that you will have many before the day is over. Mary's business man has had a day of failures as the result of a row over the breakfast table. If one has good news the first thing in the morning, or a good joke, the chances are that the rest of the day will be pleasant. You have often heard it said about a person, "Well, he got up on the wrong side of the bed this morning."

Psychologists know that we tend to respond to a smile with a smile and a scowl with a scowl. When we greet a friend give him a firm handshake and some cheery news or a funny story. He will be pleased to meet you and you will be pleased with yourself. But if you greet your friends unhappy by telling them a sad story or a tale of woe, they are not so anxious to see you again.

Humor and good cheer are like forces, but the depressing things tear down the body's resistance. Worry and fear have probably killed many people. If you suffer from fits of depression form the habit of worry you should do everything possible to change the habit of your mind and cultivate the habit of cheerfulness. The face for long faces and melancholy is as out of date as the witches and is just about as ridiculous.

Anyone who imagines sickness is very near to be sick, and one who imagines health has gone a long distance on the road to recovery. There is a Japanese fable that goes something like this:

"Once there was a shrine greatly famed for its power to heal the sick. It was built over the bones of a saint. Whenever a sick person came to the shrine and reached down into the pit and touched the bones of this saint he became well. Hundreds of people came every day because of the miracles reported to have been marvelous. The priest who conducted the shrine became very wealthy, but he was growing old. He had, however, a young disciple who desired to launch forth himself. Upon hearing of his desire to visit with the old priest presented him with a donkey and the young man rode forth into the world. In the course of time the donkey died and a great idea came to the young disciple. He built a shrine over the donkey where people could come and be healed. The disciple put up a sign: "Here lie the bones of one who has never had an evil thought." The shrine soon became famous and people came from far and near to be healed. One day the disciple went back to visit his old master and told him the story of burying the donkey and said, "This shows the value of a young man for getting a new idea." The old priest said, "No, my lad, you are not so original, as my shrine was built over the bones of your donkey's mother."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Nervous Child

Question: Mrs. McM. writes: "My little 5-year-old girl is very nervous and thin. Should I send her to a public school? She has never been with other children, and my mother says if she mixed with children at the public school she would overcome this nervousness. What do you advise?"

Answer: I am sending you articles on nervous children, together with a children's diet, which, if followed, should prove beneficial. It is usually best for a child to associate with other children, because a child kept by itself would naturally be handicapped in later life.

Nonstarchy Vegetables

Q.: Mrs. L. writes: "In your cleansing diet for catarrhal deafness, what quantity of the two cooked and one raw nonstarchy vegetables should be combined with the quarter of a pound of lean meat?"

A.: You may eat as much of the nonstarchy vegetables as you desire. You do not have to be too particular with the quantities of these foods, but it is wise to avoid eating a large amount of the concentrated foods.

Inhaling Rock Dust

Q.: Jerry B. writes: "I am working in a phosphate rockdust and inhale plenty of same. Does this dust hurt the lungs and stomach? Is twelve hours a day too long to work in this dust? Is there anything you would suggest to prevent any ill effects?"

A.: It is injurious to the lungs to breathe rock dust in quantities. The length of time that you can work at this would vary considerably with the amount of dust. It is possible that the wearing of some type of muzzle filter would be helpful if the dust is very thick and you are unable to change your occupation.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb-sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

A HAPPY CHILD IS ALWAYS A GOOD CHILD

Everyone is willing to admit that a happy child is good. It is one of those obvious statements with which no one can quarrel. So, in order to encourage good behavior, one has only to keep the child happy. Equally obvious.

Keeping the child happy doesn't mean that he needs to be entertained by his elders, that he should be fed candy and ice cream or taken to parties, or out visiting at night. These are merely the adult's idea of what makes a child happy, while the right word to apply to such entertainments is that they are not happiness-makers, but excitements.

It isn't difficult to make a small child happy. All he wants is freedom to move, a comfortably full tummy, a soft, warm bed and several times a day to have his position changed, his back rubbed, his limbs stroked and to be carried about. Such methods make him gloriously happy. When he is lying still he can wave his arms wildly (if he isn't tied up tightly in a shawl,) he can kick his legs in the air (if his dresses aren't holding them down,) and the numerous times he is changed and the periods he is bathed and nursed give ample opportunity for the mother to pat him and stroke him and walk him about! And baby is happy.

As he grows older his happiness is just as easy to obtain. He wants to climb. He wants to run. He likes to open and close doors and look into drawers and touch objects and bite them and lift them. He adores lifting things that seem as heavy as himself. Is he allowed to satisfy all these natural impulses? "Don't climb on that chair, you'll get it all dirty!" "Stay out of those drawers, my young man, or you'll get your fingers slapped hard." "Lie down right this minute and don't let me hear a peep out of you."

Is he happy? Suppose you had muscles that were itching to climb and you were stopped each time you were just on the point of accomplishing it? Suppose opening and closing a drawer were a fascinating game that you could play by the hour, but you never got one chance to play it? Suppose, despite all the checking of your activity by a vigilant-eyed mother, you were put down to sleep when you hadn't a wink of sleep in your eyes? Would you rave and rant and scream "I won't," and throw things around and cause your mother to say, "He has the most awful temper. He's just like his father!"

Why we close our eyes to the simple things that make a small child happy and then punish him when he is pushed to the point of despair and bad behavior is one of the perversities of parental nature. It is so easy to make a child happy. Just regular hours for doing things, repeated each day, because he likes repetition of familiar things, and then reasonable freedom to exercise his active little body. When he can run about and look and lift and climb and handle, he is happy and he is good.

Watch for Mrs. Eldred's Article Monday.

EASTER MUSIC TO GO ON AIR

Sunrise Service Programs Broadcast Early

Station KFI to Celebrate Birthday Tomorrow

National Chain Will Offer Hospital Observance

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

While scores of outdoor Easter sunrise services are being held tomorrow, some of the same programs also will be available to shut-ins, those living in remote places, and those whose alarm clocks fail to function properly.

A pre-Easter program will be put on the air from KFI's studio at 4:30 a.m., with Pearl Stevenson in readings; Zhay Clark, harp soloist; Margaret Duncan, pianist; Purcell Moyer, violinist; Robert Hurd, tenor; Ray Hastings, organist, and Virginia Flohri, soprano.

Then at 5:45 o'clock the program from the Los Angeles Coliseum will be broadcast, after which the station will observe its birthday by remaining on the air until midnight. KFI observes its birthday annually at Easter, irrespective of the date, so the celebration this year comes a trifle earlier than usual.

STUDIO HOURS FIRST

KHJ will carry the broadcast from Forest Lawn, Glendale, commencing at approximately 5 o'clock and lasting until 6:30.

KNX will start Easter with studio talent at 3 a.m. from music by Claire Mellonino, pianist; George Gramlich, tenor, and Cathon Lubovski, violinist.

Then at 3:45 a.m. they will broadcast organ music from the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood until 4:15, when the services from the Hollywood Bowl will begin and KNX will continue the broadcast until they are completed.

KFWB is scheduled to give the sunrise program from the Breakfast Club, commencing at 5:40 a.m., and continuing until 9 o'clock, with the entertainment from the club's pavilion.

INTERVAL SLATED

There will be a forty-five minute interval, however, commencing at 6:30 when the wave-length will be used by KPSN to broadcast the services from the Rose Bowl in Pasadena.

At the conclusion of the program from the Crown City, KFWB will resume the entertainment features from the Breakfast Club.

KMTR will have an early Easter morn broadcast for the first time this year. It will run a remote control to the hills back of Manhattan Beach for the exercises, which are scheduled to begin at 5:30 o'clock.

CHAIN FEATURES

The annual Easter sunrise services from Volunteer Park, Seattle, will be carried across the country on chain stations, too, starting at 5:30 a.m. and lasting an hour. Only two California broadcasters will carry the feature, KGO and KPO.

Then there will be the annual sunrise service from the Walter Reed General Hospital in Washington, D. C., an hour before the Seattle feature at 4:30 a.m. Pacific time.

The holiest festival day in the Christian calendar will be heralded for the radio audience with a sacred concert including a mixed chorus of 200 voices.

The chain will not carry all the way across the country. The best bet for Pacific Coast fans will be KSTP, St. Paul. They are using 10,000 watts on 1460 kilocycles.

BOARD MAY FIX WAGES FOR WOMEN

Overtime Rate Held to Be in Sphere of Commission Under California Law

LONG BEACH, March 29. (Exclusive)—The right of the California Industrial Welfare Commission to set overtime rates of pay in those industries exempt from the eight-hour law for women has been sustained in a decision by Superior Judge Desmond in Long Beach against Walter Langmoor, vice-president of the Curtis Packing Corporation of that city, found guilty in Municipal Court last January of employing women in the canning industry in excess of eight hours without paying overtime wage rates required by the orders of the commission. Women employed in perishable food industries are exempt from the State eight-hour law.

Appeal from the Municipal Court decision had been taken by the Curtis Company, and notice of appeal to a still higher court was filed by Attorney H. E. Lindersmith on behalf of the concern. Suspended sentence of $50 on each of four counts imposed by Municipal Judge Cook on Longmoor was sustained by Judge Desmond.

The attorneys for the Industrial Welfare Commission were L. G. Campbell, deputy Attorney-General of California and Joseph A. Ball, former Deupty District Attorney in Long Beach.

Judge Desmond in his decision specifically affirmed the legal right of the Industrial Welfare Commission to set overtime rates of pay, declaring that when the Legislature delegates such power to specific groups or commissions, the decrees of such commissions must have the force of legislative enactments.

Speaker Traces World Problem

"The world always asks the release of Barabbas and crucifies Christ," Dr. Walter A. Maier, Lutheran educator, told his audience yesterday in an address at Philharmonic Auditorium.

"Many explanations for this incomprehensible choice have been sought for and various theories advanced," said Dr. Maier, "but look no longer for an explanation for this startling choice, because the same choice has been made down through the ages, and is being made in this very day and hour when the world finds itself confronted by these two opposing forces, the gospel of Jesus Christ and the unbelief that denies and ridicules this truth."

Dr. Maier will be the principal speaker at the Easter sunrise services at Silverwood Hills, under the auspices of the Lutheran churches of Southern California.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

Assessments were confirmed yesterday by the City Council for the new lighting installation on Spring street between First and Ninth streets and for the improvement of Rothdell Trail between Tavern Trail and Laurel Canyon Road.

for EASTER Dinner

savory, tender and juicy milk-fed SPRING LAMB

NOTHING could be more delicious than roast lamb for the Easter dinner meat course. California lambs, the choicest in all the country, are at their very finest now. Milk feeding results in a juicy tenderness and delicacy of flavor beyond description. Ask your butcher for W-B Diamond Brand, the most select of this season's crop. He has it or can get it.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

A UNLOVELY TRAIT

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

"Are you eating?" asks the child. "Medicine," says her mother, slipping another piece of candy into her mouth. "It's bitter," she adds with a shudder. "It's not," says mother, "and I-want some."

"Isn't that?" queries the child, looking to the cigar clipper which has finished out of his uncle's pocket.

"Yes," answers the uncle, "is a useful instrument for the chopping off of little boys's nosey noses." The child takes this in silence, but

Mock Marriage Charge Made in Damages Action

Charging she was made the victim of a mock marriage, Mrs. Lillian Goodfellow yesterday filed suit in Superior Court for $51,000 damages against Dr. E. E. Thomas and John Edward Clancy.

According to the complaint, Mrs. Goodfellow met Clancy last year and fell in love with him. Clancy, the complaint continues, suggested they be married by Dr. Thomas, who is said to have stated he was an ordained minister of the Ancient and Mystical Order of Rosae Crucis.

Mrs. Goodfellow declares Dr. Thomas performed the ceremony November 28, 1928, she then believing she was Clancy's wife only to learn later that Dr. Thomas was not ordained. She charges this caused her great shock and humiliation. The complaint was filed by Attorney S. S. Hahn.

The world's only real "sea serpents," which are poisonous marine snakes living in the East Indian coral reefs, will be sought by an expedition from the Field Museum of Natural History.

SHRINE SHOW TONIGHT

Vaudeville Acts Added to Bill by Al Malaikah Temple

Vaudeville acts right off the eastern circuit will feature the entertainment to be given tonight by Al Malaikah Temple of the Mystic Shrine, whose members will be hosts to Southern California's Shriners and their families.

Several feature motion pictures also are included in the program as previously announced. The vaudeville numbers were added at the last moment when Noble Robert A. Heffner, chairman of the entertainment committee for March, was assured the acts wanted were in town.

Potentate LeRoy M. Edwards has appointed Noble Joseph Musgrove as chairman for the April entertainments.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 1:30 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CLAM CHOWDER

Fry until crisp three slices of salt pork in a heavy iron kettle, remove the pork and chop fine, peel and slice four cupfuls of potatoes, and one cupful of onions, chop fine four dozen clams, place in layers of the sliced potatoes, in the bottom of the kettle, add a layer of clams, a layer of onions, a layer of fried pork and continue to use all the ingredients in layers. Add a seasoning of pepper, the juice from the clams, and one cupful of water, simmer slowly for two hours, do not stir; just before serving add one cupful of hot milk.

BAKED BABY MACKEREL

Clean six baby mackerel and fill with a dressing made by mixing one and one-half cupfuls of bread crumbs with half a cupful of melted butter, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, and half a teaspoonful of marjoram, half a teaspoonful of summer savory, one teaspoonful of salt, and four tablespoonful of capers. Lay the filled mackerel on a baking dish, cover with bread crumbs, dot with butter, and bake until tender. Serve with an anchovy sauce.

ANCHOVY SAUCE

Mix one cupful of melted butter with one and one-half tablespoonfuls of anchovy paste, add one teaspoonful of lemon juice, and pour over the mackerel when serving.

BEET SALAD

Mix two cupfuls of peeled, diced cooked beets in a cold bowl that has been rubbed with a clove of crushed garlic, with three tablespoonfuls of chopped onions, one chopped green pepper, one chopped pimiento, and one and one-half cupfuls of thinly sliced celery, and one cupful of French dressing; let stand for one hour, drain out the mixture, cover plates with shredded lettuce, place the beet mixture on it, top with a tablespoonful of mayonnaise, sprinkle with hard-boiled eggs and chopped parsley.

APPLE CREAM PIE

Beat the yolks of three eggs until light and creamy with one-half a cupful of sugar, and mix into them one and one-half cupfuls of freshly grated raw apples. Four tablespoonfuls of thick cream, the grated rind of one lemon, four tablespoonfuls of chopped blanched almonds, and four tablespoonfuls of seedless raisins; pour the mixture into a pastry lined pie tin and bake in a moderate oven until lightly browned. Cover with a meringue made of the egg whites, and six tablespoonfuls of sugar. Place in the oven until the meringue is brown.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Tuesday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

Wedding Ring Fails to Bind

"A wedding ring doesn't mean anything," Mrs. Josephine Smith told Harold H. Smith when she discarded the one he gave her to wear a ring given to her by another man, the husband testified yesterday before Superior Judge Yankwich when asking for a divorce.

"The worst of it was," Smith told the court, "that my wife boasted to other people that she had discarded her wedding ring to wear a ring given to her by another man.
